Emergency Water Extraction

Water damage in your flooded room can come from a number of sources. It might come from a flood or a burst pipe or it might occur slowly over time from a minor leak. Whatever the cause, if you need water damage restoration services, you need to get it taken care of, and the best way to do that is to hire a professional water damage restoration company such as Klean Dry. We serve customers throughout the Corrales, NM and surrounding areas, and we focus on providing excellent customer service.

Cleaning up water damage in a flooded house and restoring your home or business to its previous condition is a lot of work, and leaving it to professionals saves you time and energy. Another benefit of using Klean Dry for your water damage restoration is the health benefit of preventing mold and mildew. One final benefit is that water damage restoration helps to ensure the care and maintenance of your property.

At Klean Dry, we employ only professional and experienced water damage restoration technicians, so you can be confident the job will be done right. And our employees make safety a priority, using only the most superior equipment and the safest cleaning solutions.

If your home has sustained water damage or has flooded, it's best to turn to a professional such as Klean Dry for your water damage restoration cleanup. We are experts in water restoration in Rio Rancho, NM and surrounding areas, and we focus on doing the job right and providing excellent service. Water
