

Thistle's Journal.

Absolutely NO snooping.

(Especially below CL4.)

Date: 20th December.

I was accepted!!!! I applied for Executive Researcher and I was accepted! This is huge! I can do a lot to progress both my career AND the department if I pass this interview.. But that's the issue.. The interview.. No idea if I'll manage but I'll give it a shot. Would hate to fail now when I'm so close.. After all, I didn't spend all that time at Mithras for nothing. I'm sure it'll be fine!!

Dpt. Director Scott said he can do my interview later today.. Little bit worrying and definitely faster than expected, but delaying won't do me much good, so I'll give it a shot.

I DID IT!!! I passed!!!!!! This is amazing! I mean, I'm still going to be on a trial period, sure, but I did it! I'm an Executive Researcher now!! This opens up so many opportunities for me in the department.. I'm excited to start already!

So many projects ready to start! I wonder which to pick..

Date: 21st December.

Citation already. Oops.

That did not last long at all, now SA have given me a £5000 fine for "misuse of abilities" (total BS!). They literally ordered me to do it and the consultant even consented! Then on top of that the schizo Medical Director "ZoEy MyErS" said I used my abilities on her???? What a liar dude! Not off to a great start, but it's fine! I got this. Easy.

On more important matters though.. I need to do a test regarding the radios and their functionality between dimensions.. Not quite my department to mess with rifts and portals but uhh there doesn't seem to be a cartographer on site.. Wonder where they went? Oh well. Gotta figure it out sooner or later!

The test was a success! Nice!! Shoved a D-Class in there with a radio, had them on a pre-set frequency that was announced in comms as to avoid disclosing information across it, and told the D-Class to keep continuous transmission between their radio and mine. They entered the rift and it worked fine, no issues present. Neat!

That was a nice weekend break, but now it's back to work. Lots of tests, lots of documents. Already there's a pile from other Researchers waiting to be graded.. Oh well! I did sign up for this afterall!

That was.. Something. This new Jr Researcher started working in our department but uh.. His writing is not exactly what you'd call "amazing".. Or.. "Good".. BUT he's improving! Which is the important thing!

I started work on one of my own personal projects! It's called T-ARC. "Thaumaturgical Artifact Replication and Containment". Pretty cool if I had to say so myself.. Anyway, it's like.. Copying the positive traits of an SCP into an object. Like a charm! First one I'm gonna try as a sort of proof-of-concept is 2295. Gonna see if I can mirror its healing capabilities into a little stuffed teddy! Would be a nice little gift for medical if it works!

Oh! Almost forgot! We got a new Director today too! "Kind of. He was accepted at least.. He was an Executive like me before his promotion. Hopefully he manages to help out Scott.

Date: 23rd December.

Wow! There sure is LOTS of documents to approve as an Executive.. </3. Good thing I like to read, huh!

I wonder what happened to "SCP of the Week"? I've not seen it in a while.. That seems like it'd be interesting for the newer researchers! They'd have something to do when they're a little lost! ~~Maybe I'd participate too.. CA$5000 is quite a nice bonus..~~ Plus it's always interesting.

Well.. Strike that I guess. Just started another new project, it's related to teleportation..? Or.. Displacement? Idk, just moving places.. Gotta think of some names.. Not easy!

Thaumaturgic Displacement Project Names

Wayfinder

Leygate

Library Search

Well.. There we go. Project Leygate. Goal of this one is to find the oh-so elusive Serpent Hand's wanderer's library. The whole place is FULL of thaumaturgical knowledge, could you imagine finding a trove like that??

Date: 24th December.

CHRISTMAS EVE!!!! WOOOO!

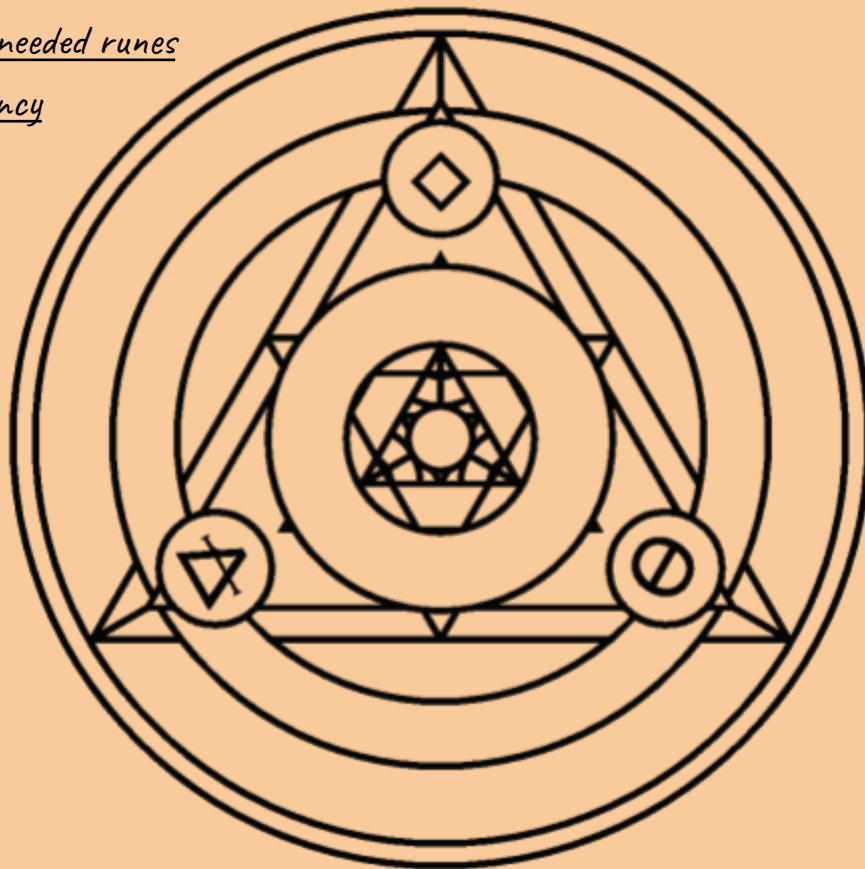

Sketched out a circle for the 2295 harmonization test while laying in bed, because why not.

Added the needed runes

⊖ - Verdancy

◇ - Bloom

△ - Flow

Verdancy for the aspect of nature, flow for energy transfer and bloom to reinforce the nature aspect. Hopefully this will be sufficient.. Still need F3 approval before doing anything in case 2295 gets uh.. Turned into a regular bear..

Date: 25th December.

Feeling GOOD today, or was, till I had to deal with the ISD.. Theres this new side-wide project called "UNIT" or something.. Made to allow inter-departmental shadowing which sounds awesome! Apart from ISD being extremely rude to everyone and being blatantly corrupt.. Most are fine, just a few bad apples. (Holy shit bad apple!)

Just gave my first Excellent grade on a document! Was actually a pretty interesting read.. This Researcher did a test on SCP-912 for its recognition of combative personnel. He figured out that they don't actually need to be combatively designated, just wear the armor of them. And it doesn't need to be full, but if it is full then they'll have priority over others who aren't! Cool! This guys got potential!

Construction of the Research Wing's demonstration hall just finished! I'm kinda the only keyholder at the moment but it's pretty good for Thaumaturgy and other spacious tasks!

ALSO! ITS CHRISTMAS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! HO HO HO!!! Feeling holly jolly and uhhh tired. HO HO HO!

Date: 26th December.

Well.. Uh.. Got a strange request for authorisation today.. This guy wants to do a test on SCP-008 as a thaumatologist.. And utilise 8 D-Class at once.. Document is good, but 8?? Doubtful. I'll ask just.. Ask Scott for his input.

Apparently the project I wanted to start has to be delayed due to logistical errors. Fucking hell.. How does anything ever happen around here.. Whatever. I'll try and get it sorted..

Fuck fuck fuck fuck I revived some guy who was shot down earlier in a Chaos Raid and he turned into.. Some.. Thing?? Did I botch it?? I dragged him into a side room and dissolved him. I'm not being held responsible. Maybe I can terminate SCPs afterall.. Ha.. But, what was he? Kind of curious now.. For uh, prevention, of course.

Code black happened, had to stop a follow-up test on a D-Class.. Another Exec was going to leave him in chem-lab, but I decided to take him with me to prioritise his life. Some Nu-7 threatened to shoot him on the spot, but I told him no. He wasn't happy.

Yet another Breach.. Yay.. Can't be bothered with these shitty security systems..

Weekend again already, that went fast!

Date: 29th December.

Was a nice weekend but now I have more documents to grade. I don't really mind it, some of them are a nice read!!! Others however...? Yikes!

Logistics said they'd have the shipment authorised today and want me to be there to receive it. I'm not so sure they'll be happy about the weight of the delivery, but I guess we'll see. It's their job anyway.

Oh hey, they weren't mad. Weird! Guess I'll start to work on it tomorrow, maybe I'll use a set it up in non-spec? The containment chambers there might be good for it.. Maybe I'll get a passcode on it so it can't be damaged by others. Oh well, worry about it later.

Just got out of a meeting. They said they had some project proposals for the department and nobody was taking any so I felt like I had to. Pretty sure that it'll be something interesting, but I guess I'll read the proposals when they're sent over to me.
