

The San Diego City College library is showing off a newly renovated area for students to visit this fall.

City's Learning Resource Center now has a study lounge where students can relax, study, and socialize in a welcoming place.

This new collaborative study space has tables with comfortable seating all around.

There may be more upgrades coming in the future.

The lounge is now open to all students and is located in the R building.