

JOHNNY VACHON

THE ANGEL OF FILTH | THE GUTTER PUNK | ADDICT

NAME: Johnny Vachon

HEIGHT: 6'3

WEIGHT: 205lbs

HAIL FROM: The Gutter

PB: Jake Kolatis (DM Me fo Graphics)

ALIGNMENT: Chaotic Evil

ENTRANCE MUSIC: "Outlaw Scumfuc" by Beer Farts

RING ATTIRE: Disgusting punk crust jeans tucked into worn to shit combat boots.

ENTRANCE ATTIRE: A leather jacket that's worn out, disgusting, spray painted, and covered in patches.

STRENGTHS:

- 1. Pain Tolerance: Johnny doesn't no-sell anymore, he absorbs pain and keeps moving. He understands pain, respects it, and uses it to pace a match. Blood doesn't make him stronger, but it doesn't scare him either.
- 2. Violence IQ: Johnny knows when to hurt someone and how to make it count. He doesn't waste motion. Every headbutt, chain shot, or slam is deliberate.
- 3. Psychological Presence: Johnny doesn't need to scream or posture. His calm, chain-smoking demeanor unsettles opponents and shifts the crowd before the first strike.

WEAKNESSES:

1. Self Destructive: Johnny doesn't know when to stop. If there's a safer way to win, he ignores it. If a fight can escalate, he escalates it.
2. Long Term Damage: Johnny's body remembers every death, every overdose, every glass shard. He can fight through pain, but the damage adds up. Stiff joints, slowed recovery, bad lungs.
3. Addiction to Chaos, Johnny isn't just addicted to substances, he's addicted to disaster. When things are calm, he gets reckless. When a match is clean, he forces it to turn ugly. When he's winning, he sometimes sabotages himself just to feel the rush.

BACKSTORY

Johnny Vachon, born on the streets to a crack whore hooker who used him as a meal ticket. Johnny's life has been tricky, learning the ways of the street at a very early age. Johnny's mother taught him how to survive with nothing. She taught him to steal, lie, cheat, and use people to his advantage to get what he needed/wanted. His home has and always will be the Gutter.

In 2018 Johnny became a raging alcoholic and drug addict. He snorted, shot up, and smoked whatever came his way as well as downing as much whiskey and cheap beer as his body could. This caused his career to crash and burn. He was fired from Union Battleground after putting his career on the line and losing to Finn Whelan. His lowest point was losing fair and square to the Dirty Wizard in a match where Johnny was even drunker than Dirty Wizard himself. Johnny found himself in a deep depression with nothing to save him. That is until he walked into an AA meeting.

Johnny got into an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting on accident and soon realized how severe his addiction had gotten. He began attending multiple meetings a week and even began therapy. In an attempt to fix his life and turn it all around he publicly apologized to the Filth Parade, the only family he ever truly had. It was not received well, not surprisingly after everything Johnny had done. Johnny wanted to prove himself, even using his wrestling money to have the Shut Up and DRINK bar rebuilt for the Filth Parade. But after losing a Loser Leaves DTW match Johnny relapsed on cocaine and won the DTW Eternal Warfare Championship again before losing it. Johnny then got his hands on some heroine where he overdosed backstage at the DTW show.

When the EMTs arrived they shot Narcan into Johnny with no result. He was pronounced dead. 8 and a half minutes later a miracle happened and Johnny Vachon rose from the dead. He demanded his rise from death to be kept secret and spent the next year faking his death even going as far as to have a closed casket funeral for the public.

Flash forward a year and Johnny Vachon reveals himself to the world again, re-emerging from under a mask to reveal the truth to the world. This led to a new stable forming and a violent warpath that consumed Japan. The Genocidal Hate Brigade aka GHB were so hated they could not even be seen in public without a riot being started. Johnny claimed war on everyone, but his ultimate goal was to destroy the Filth Parade once and for all.

Johnny eventually obtained that goal when the Filth Parade was forced to disband after a devastating loss with said stipulation on the line. It was Johnnys crowning achievement. He destroyed what he created.

Johnny and Jacob Kuntz formed a team called the Murder Junkies during that time that ran roughshod through the entire tag team scene in wrestling. They captured the tag belts in all of the major promotions and were unstoppable. Eventually it would all come to a crashing halt.

One faithful night Jacob Kuntz turned his back on Johnny, leaving him in a pool of blood. The two would go back and forth attacking and fighting before they finally met at Yamashi Promotions Kanto Quest in Chiba event in the main event. A brutal and violent showing from both which ended in Jacob Kuntz shoving a pressure washer hose down Johnnys throat and pulling the trigger, filling Johnnys inside with Jacobs own semen. Johnny was hauled off, motionless, in a stretcher, presumed to be dead.

What people didn't know was Jacob Kuntz gathered what was left of Johnny and brought him home to the Cornfields where he was placed in a storage facility and kept alive in a bathtub, boiling with chemicals and Kuntzys semen, tubes syphoning blood and injecting a special bile.

Johnny made his long awaited return at Death Graps in 2025 at their "Life is Sin" event. He stepped into the light for the first time in almost 3 years. He returned as a zombie, biting and snarling and barely coherent.

In December of 2025 his body began to reject the drugs given to him by Jacob Kuntz. The New Murder Junkies came together and performed what was essentially an exorcism to bring Johnny back to life.

What comes next is the resurrection of the Angel of Filth Johnny Vachon...
