Global Asias 24
2nd Annual Interdisciplinary Conference
UC Irvine
February 22-23, 2024

Keynote Speakers:

Nadine Attewell, Simon Fraser University

Wendy Cheng, Scripps College

Global Asias Publication Workshop for Graduate Students and Early Career Scholars:

Tina Chen, The Penn State University

The intellectual paradigm of Global Asias recognizes Asia's shifting position in the realm of geopolitics, capital, and culture; this shift counters or exceeds longstanding narratives associated with that region and with global ordering more broadly. Global Asias 24 invites submissions that expand our understanding of "Asia" as a region, discourse, and/or process in relation to the "global" or the "globe." Possible presentation topics may include but are not limited to the following:

- Space and place making
- Language and translation
- Belonging and citizenship
- Migration and the figure of the refugee, immigrant, transmigrant, and laborer
- Circulation and movement (theory, ideas, culture, food)
- Exchange and encounters
- Consumption
- Embodiment
- Global kinship networks
- Queer/trans relationality
- The politics of care
- Environment and sustainability
- Infrastructure
- Diaspora and memory

We invite proposals from scholars, artists, writers, activists, and other practitioners. Projects that consider a range of disciplines and methods, and that speak across (non)traditional or intellectual borders are especially encouraged.

Submission Details:

We welcome one of two proposal formats:

- Individual paper presentation (≈15 minutes) - approx. 250 words
- Panel presentation (3-4 papers ≈75 Minutes) - approx. 1,000-1,500 words

An abstract/description and a 2-page CV (optional) should be sent to globalasias@uci.edu by 11:59 PM PT, November 15, 2023. Please note your institutional affiliation in the proposal.

Please note that this is an in-person conference and that we do not have the staff support to accommodate requests for remote participation. Please send any questions to globalasias@uci.edu.
