THE TIDES TELL A TALE OF THE DAMNED...

As the tides continue rising, the Desolate Docks come within landing. On a voyage of the damned, the shipwrecked deckhand finds himself on an errand to assemble the crew, coming within the graces of a face, long since thought forgotten to the horrors of the ruins.

ROUND PROMPT - "DOCKS OF DESTITUTE"

In the gloom of the undertow, you find yourself on the first level of the gargantuan ruins. Rhythmic sounds of distant festivity fill the air, radiating this suspicious twinge of déjà vu to the senses. The scenery betrays these tidings of activity, as an eerie gloom surrounds the layers upon layers of stacked shanty peppered across the vast pillars that stabilize the megastructure. The claustrophobic array of buildings piled with this ethereal glimmer to the architecture makes your eyes wander. The shimmer of this otherworldly glow casting a shadow of night-life.

Don't let this underhang fool you, for within this sleuth of dingy ports and silent shanty towns, all matters of horrors and stragglers alike make their home here, hiding within the narrow alleys and tight corridors that make up this community of silent sorrows.

A CALL TO THE VOYAGERS EXPLORING THE RUINS...

As you begin to wander deeper into the expanse, you can't help but hear distant voices that beckon you forth deeper into the murk. Laughter and chorus of distant cheer fuels you to keep on moving. The gleam of the "stars" above charting your course to wherever this path may lead. How long have you been chasing it? What are the sources of these familiar sounds? What was the reason you chased them in the first place-

"This place isn't for you travelers..." Breaking from your haze, you lock eyes with a tall individual. Eyes tired and worn, yet with a look of stoic resolve "It's best not to linger long, I suggest you find what you're looking for and leave as soon as you come... Lest you become another one of the voices around here..."

"Even the brightest stars prefer to burn out than fade away."

ROUND PROMPT - "BENEATH THE STARS"

Whilst you may have braved the savage open seas, be wary on your travels. You may find refuge from the rising tide for now, but solid ground offers a new sleuth of dangers abundant; most notably from above. The ethereal glow that permeates the docks radiates a strange amnestic phenomena, causing those exposed for long periods of time to slowly lose pieces of themselves, chasing after voices that aren't there or losing entire memories altogether. Sooner or later becoming just another echo to the gloomy expanse of the docks.
