Assignments for Independent Study

Giving Orders and Instructions: The Imperative

1. Read through ET Unit 7, Section 9 dialogue Bak, bu ayakkabı çok güzel. Now perform it ALOUD to yourself at least twice, memorizing all new vocabulary and expressions. Pay extra attention to the new italicized endings on certain verbs!
 - Be sure you are comfortable taking part in this dialogue! You will likely participate in a similar one at your tutorial.
2. Read through ET Unit 7, Section 10: Grammar Point: The imperative. Be sure to read all Turkish examples ALOUD, as always.
 - Be bossy! Every time you need to do something this week, practice giving yourself an order in the imperative (e.g., “Eat breakfast! Study Turkish!”)
 - Think back to your previous tutorials. Have you been hearing a lot of imperatives, without even realizing it?
3. Watch the Turkish Grammar Videos Imperatives: how to give commands:
 - “Affirmative Imperatives”
 - “Negative Imperatives”
 - FOR TUTORIAL: Write out ET Unit 7, Section 10, Exercise C. Write one “context” sentence for each imperative. (Example: “Please do not go. We have a meeting.”)

On the Phone: Prices and Plans

1. Read through the telephone dialogue in ET Unit 7, Section 13: Telefonda. Now perform it aloud yourself. Memorize any unfamiliar vocabulary or expressions.
2. Complete the Reading Comprehension questions below the dialogue.
 - FOR TUTORIAL: Write a new dialogue similar to the one in ET Unit 7, Section 13. This dialogue should be at least 15 lines long.

Video

1. Watch the video Almanya'da Türkiye'yi Özleyince on YouTube
 - FOR TUTORIAL: Briefly describe what the video is about. Compare Europe and the United States in terms of Turkish food, and write about how the people in the video feel. Do you agree with them about the food? (At least 8 sentences)
