LGA: Local Government: Enabling resilient food systems in South Australia

The project will engage local government, communities and stakeholders to build the resilience of local food systems in the face of climate change risks.

One of the key aims of this grant project is to offer a guide for local governments to understand their role in enabling local food systems. All the resources developed will contribute to building the capacity of local government staff, elected members and communities to value local food systems, remove barriers and support climate-resilient initiatives.

Wording

What is a local food system?

A local food system is a collaborative network that integrates sustainable food production, processing, distribution, consumption and waste management in order to enhance the environmental, economic and social health of an area.

Flier one:

Our local food system

Join us to explore what a healthy and sustainable food system looks like.

How can it drive climate change action? Support local jobs? Reduce food waste? Connect us as diverse communities?
