Hello everyone,
Thank you everyone for your help looking for our stolen items! We appreciate all of the support from the community more than we can express. Our list of stolen items is now in the hands of the Seattle Police Department Property Recovery Unit, and they have sent an alert out to all the pawn shops and gold buyers in the area.

In the meantime if you see anyone selling metal, beads, or jeweler's tools on ebay or craigslist, we would love it if you'd let us know.

Thanks for all the help!