International Conference on Learning, Leadership, and Social Transformation (ICLLST) 2027

Theme: *Human-Centered Education in the Age of Artificial Intelligence

Date: January 26–27, 2027

Mode: Hybrid (onsite and online)

Venue: Thammasat Secondary School (Satit Thammasat), Thammasat University Rangsit Campus, Pathum Thani, Thailand

Call for Papers

The 1st International Conference on Learning, Leadership, and Social Transformation (ICLLST) 2027, co-organized by Thammasat University and Nexora Interdisciplinary Research and Development, invites teacher educators, faculty members of state universities and colleges and higher education institutions, school leaders, and graduate students to submit research papers and to join an international venue for the exchange of research findings, instructional innovations, and policy insights in education.

Artificial intelligence now writes, grades, tutors, and translates. Schools and universities adopted these tools faster than policy, pedagogy, and teacher preparation adjusted. ICLLST 2027 asks how educators keep human growth, judgment, and relationships at the center of learning while using AI responsibly. The conference welcomes empirical studies, policy analyses, program evaluations, and practice-based research from basic education to graduate school. Sessions take place in hybrid mode at Thammasat Secondary School, the demonstration school of the Faculty of Learning Sciences and Education, and online.

The paper presentations are categorized in the following subthemes:

1. Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment

   This subtheme covers outcomes-based and competency-based curricula, pedagogical innovation, classroom assessment, authentic and AI-resistant assessment, and the development of learning materials.

2. Educational Leadership and Management

   This subtheme examines school and university leadership, educational policy, quality assurance and accreditation, human resource development, and the governance of AI use in institutions.

3. Language, Literature, and Communication

   This subtheme explores language teaching and learning, multilingual education, literary studies and pedagogy, academic writing, and the effects of AI on language use.

4. Teacher Education and Professional Development

   This subtheme addresses pre-service teacher preparation, practice teaching, continuing professional development, teacher well-being, and teacher competencies for digital classrooms.

5. Artificial Intelligence and Digital Learning

   This subtheme focuses on AI in teaching and learning, learning analytics, online and blended learning, academic integrity, and ethics and data privacy in education.

6. Inclusive, Peace, and Values Education

   This subtheme highlights special and inclusive education, Indigenous Peoples education, peace education and learners and schools as zones of peace, gender and development, and values and character formation.

Abstracts of presented papers will appear in the Book of Abstracts with ISBN. The deadline for abstract submission is January 10, 2027.

Registration

ICLLST 2027 offers three types of registration. Each type comes in onsite and online modes. Choose the type at registration and indicate the journal of choice for Type C.

Type A. Participant

For faculty members, graduate students, researchers, and practitioners who attend the plenary and parallel sessions without presenting a paper.

Type B. Paper Presenter

For authors of accepted abstracts who present a paper in a parallel session. The abstract appears in the Book of Abstracts with ISBN and the full paper in the Conference Proceedings.

Type C. Paper Presentation with Journal Publication

For authors of accepted abstracts who present a paper and submit the full paper for publication in one of the partner journals listed below. Publication follows the journal's double-blind peer review.

Registration Fees

| Registration type | Early Registration | Regular Registration | Late Registration |
|---|---|---|---|
| Dates | Nov 1 - Dec 15 | Dec 16 - Jan 15 | Jan 16 onwards |

Publication Process and Policies

1. Submit the full paper in the format of the chosen journal on or before January 10, 2026.
2. The journal's editorial board conducts a double-blind peer review. Registration under Type C does not guarantee publication.
3. The editors reserve the right to transfer a paper to the better-fitting partner journal, with the author's consent.
4. Authors complete revisions within the period set by the journal. Late revisions move the paper to a later issue.
5. Accepted papers appear in the journal issue scheduled for Volume 2, Issue 2, 2027] with a DOI. The abstract will also be published in the conference proceedings.
7. Each Type C registration covers one paper. Papers from a student's thesis or dissertation list the graduate student as first author.

How to Register

1. Wait for the notice of acceptance (Types B and C). Type A participants register right away.
2. Complete the online registration form: https://forms.gle/dmhArGLw7LzBCcUR6
3. Select the registration type, mode and partner journal for Type C.
4. Pay the fee and upload the proof of payment on or before January 10, 2027.
