

Jacob Navas

ENG 104

Professor Curtis-Cummins

December 2018

Dear Ryan,

School has been fine, even though I've been coming home like every other weekend. But yeah, homework is hard and since i'm a little slow I've been kinda behind but I can fix that. The people here are nice most of the time and I have friends so I guess I'm happy here besides all of the work. I want to involve myself in school as much as I can but a problem I have is nobody seems to spread school events through students very well. I feel like they should send an email or something to tell us on weekends about events happening then or during the school week. The only way I have found out about things is through friends who heard it through friends, but I have NEVER had a "reliable source" tell me about events.

AND, I've also been having small roommate problems which I feel like everyone goes through but like, one of my roommates is really annoying. He never talks to any of us, he always has his boyfriend over without ever letting us know OR asking if it's okay, and they have sex like all the time EVEN WHILE WE'RE HOME. That was the time they did it in the bathroom, which is hella gross because we use that. And I'm not the only one getting annoyed by it, because we all talk about him. But thinking about it now, I guess I can literally just deal with it until the end of the year and move out because things could be worse.

I really miss high school and being home, but I've changed hella since I've been here and I'm super happy about it because it shows im growing as a person which is great. It's crazy and stressful and hard as fuck, but like, i'm doing it. How have you been??? I haven't heard from you in a while. How's school, how's everything ??? I can't wait to see you over break!

Sincerely, your best friend,

Jake