

Chinquapin Literary Magazine

Ever since 1978, Chinquapin has been creating yearly anthologies of student art and writing within the UCSC community.

Our mission is to provide a high quality, inclusive platform for all undergraduates.

Get involved with Chinquapin!

Joining the staff...

- Working as a team to collect, discuss, and vote on submissions
- Designing and editing that year's edition
- Weekly team meetings
- Staff may submit once general submissions have been selected

Submitting to Chinquapin...

- We accept short fiction, poetry, visual art (paintings, photography, sketches, digital art, etc.) or creative work that defies a definition or category
- We accept work only from current UCSC students
- For more detailed instructions, visit our website's submission page:
