

Memphis, Tennessee (Triumph Tour)

Bill Wolfer, keyboardist. "Invincible" magazine (November 2014) (mirror) (archived mirror)

Of course, I knew of [The Jacksons] from their early days as the Jackson Five, and I was a fan of that era as well as the Destiny and Triumph albums. But I really had no idea how popular they were, especially Michael. I was quite unprepared when 6,000 fans were waiting for us at the airport in Memphis for the first gig. We literally had to run through the airport, chased by screaming fans into waiting limos. It was like something out of It's a Hard Day's Night!