

1964–1968

The years 1964 to 1968 featured many highlights, as captured in this particular scrapbook. Much of the content is devoted to the excellent choirs that were active during this period. The Chancel Choir, composed of young ladies, had over 30 members and gained recognition by appearing on the television program Pride of the Southland. Later that same year, they participated in the 38th Annual Music Festival.

The Adult Choir, with 28 members, was also highly active. Several photographs from the time highlight the full group and their contributions to the church's musical life.

In addition to musical achievements, two young men were awarded the God and Country Award, and two young ladies received the God and Community Award, reflecting the congregation's commitment to faith and service.

The pastors serving during this period were Ivan Lee LaTurno and Dr. Jans J. Vandegraaff.
