

The first paragraph of a blog post:

Subject title: Is your house being put at risk by you?

Owning and living in your home is a life investment, an investment that no other can beat. It is a place where your loved ones stay and most importantly YOU stay!

So tell me why you are putting your life at risk daily.

If you cannot tell me why then carry on reading to understand why a house rewire is required monthly.

Did you know more than 15% of house fires in the UK are caused by electrical fires per year, that is 8,000 homes per year, why are you taking this risk?

Read below to understand why and how these tragic accidents are caused and how you can prevent them today.
