

Reflection exercise | What do you love most about Newark Catholic?

That good gut feeling you have about NCHS can't be denied, but what's truly behind it? It's likely a number of different factors—some might be listed on this sheet, some may not be. This checklist is intended to help you pinpoint what you love and appreciate most about Newark Catholic so you can create your own testimonial to share with others.

Personalized Attention

- Low student-to-teacher ratio enables faculty members to personalize relationships with students, helping them to feel known and supported
- Students are treated as individuals, each with their own unique needs, interests, and talents.
- Newark Catholic supports the needs of all types of learners

Positive school culture and community

- Respect and compassion are guiding principles for all interactions at Newark Catholic High School
- The school works hard to create a sense of belonging for all students
- The Newark Catholic community is supportive and welcoming

Prepared for life beyond high school

- Students graduate well-equipped for what's next
- In as many scenarios as possible, faculty and staff let students lead the way and offer support when needed
- NC reinforces virtues, traits and skills that will serve students well throughout their life

Focused on faith and values

- Faith, values and the teachings of the Catholic church are integrated into every aspect of the school
- Newark Catholic challenges and encourages the development of the whole student—spiritually, intellectually, personally, and socially.
- My student's school day is rich in the cherished traditions and liturgical practices of the Catholic faith: daily prayer, mass, confession, reconciliation, adoration, and more

Well-rounded, involved students

- NC offers a wide selection of co-curricular activities—truly something for everyone!
- By participating in co-curricular activities, NC students connect with others, build self-confidence, and practice independent thinking.
