Banned Content

Below is a comprehensive list of themes and content listed by whether it is Banned Completely, Banned Active Themes, Sensitive Themes, or Spoiled.

- Banned Completely themes are not to be written within Tiny Town.
- Banned Active Themes are allowed as PAST incidents and backstory experiences but they must be spoiled in public areas, but may be openly discussed between muses privately.
- Sensitive Themes are allowed to be actively explored within Tiny Town, but we ask muns use DISCRETION in where these appear. DMs and smaller GCs are recommended due to comfort as well as IC legality. These themes should be plotted ahead of time— it is recommended to use a plotting thread within character DMs channels to discuss this in the unlikely case mods need to confirm consent of themes.
- Spoiled content applies to images (and some written content) that can be posted as long as they are done so under spoiler tags with warnings attached and again may be discussed openly in the more private areas of the server.
- Please note that Tiny Town is a mature 21+ server which means characters engage in mature themes such as (but not limited to): alcohol, drugs, violence, age differences in relationships, conflicting world and cultural views, weapon usage (such as guns and swords), sex, sex work, and more. Additionally: while we endeavor to make Tiny Town as safe as reasonably possible, the mental health of those here in the server is not our responsibility. If you find themes or content too uncomfortable we ask that you either step away from the scene/writing that bothers you, step away from your computer, or see yourself out of the server.
- It is fine if banned active content is part of a character's background. You are welcome to reference such in their bios as long as it's behind spoilers and appropriately tagged. In-depth, descriptive writing of such content in public server spaces is not permitted.
- Human error exists and as such sometimes mistakes happen with content accidentally being posted without spoilers. We do not tolerate attacking, shaming, or demeaning others for such mistakes. Gently remind someone when mistakes happen, make apologies as need be, and move on.
