

[Mention the address of the sender]

[Mention the date]

Subject- Happy birthday letter to my first son.

Dearest [mention the name of the son],

My entire life has changed once I discovered out I was expecting you, my love [mention the name of the son]. I know you are such a little boy and cannot read this letter still now. But I will keep this letter in your treasure box so that you can read a letter.

I love you, my prince. We never were nervous before you arrived. We were expecting you to arrive and forever impact our lives – and boy did you! When you were initially placed on Mommy's chest the minute you were born, I felt as if I had been born as well – my life's mission became plain. My goal is to serve you! I don't remember what life was before you, and what I do remember is that it was empty – because you weren't there!

You have a wide range of interests! Almost everything appeals to you! You enjoy throwing balls, opening and closing items (such as books!), climbing, crinkling paper, and removing all of the wipes from your wipe packets. You enjoy going to the park and meeting other babies – as well as climbing up the slides.

Honey, happy birthday! Today marks the one-year anniversary of your birth. I knew then, and I know now, that I was born to be your mother. Nothing makes me more proud or happier in my life than you. Each day begins with waking up to your gorgeous tiny face and fluffy hair.

Happy birthday darling [mention the name of the son].

Thanks for existing [Mention the name of the son]!

Mom loves you.

Yours truly,

[Mention the name of the sender]

[Handwritten signature]

[Mention here, if there is any post note to be given].