

we had fun
I thought it was something but then you stopped responding and I realized I meant nothing that I was just another one of your meaningless little toys who you get to open up
and fall for you
but then you disappear
and act like it was nothing because to you
it really was nothing
little did you know
it was everything to me I thought we might be something and I let the thought of that something consume me
because for that three weeks someone cared
and someone understood
so yeah
I fell for you
and for a second
I thought maybe
just maybe
you had fallen for me too
and that
to me
was everything
