

A turtle is an animal that has a lot of positive symbols and representation but I'd like to share this with you….
When you see a turtle lifted up on a post remember this, the turtle didn't get there by herself/himself; rather was lifted up by the community. Let this be a reminder that your community loves you and they lift you up as do you lift them up. Namaste! Sarita (Sara)

From google AI:

Turtle symbolism universally represents longevity, wisdom, patience, and protection, stemming from their long lives and hard shells, but also signifies Mother Earth, creation, fertility, and resilience in many cultures, particularly Native American traditions where the turtle carries the world on its back. They embody perseverance, grounding, and the ability to adapt, reminding us to move steadily and trust the journey
