In the World of Home Improvement there are many different

So many it can be hard to choose one. Right?

Wrong!

Among the saturated market of Contractors, we found something to set us apart.

Our Profound trust, relationship, and unwavering support for our community was our lighthouse in the high seas!

When we began KCKnight Construction, we knew they competition would be fierce, but we knew our deeply-rooted relationship with the community could not be matched.

Our roots run deep within the community, and not only by being apart of it for our entire lives.

We have raised our kids here as well, which is a huge driving factor for our commitment to making KCKnight Construction a legacy to pass down.

We aren't just investing into more luxurious homes and additions.

We are sowing seeds to enrich the next generation to come.
