2.3 Toggles

There are thirteen (13) toggles in the customization panel, allowing you to en- or disable certain elements.

Active toggles have a blue color, while inactive toggles are gray. Careful: On the first installation of the theme, tumblr switches the colors. So while it shows a gray toggle, the element is actually active.

Nr.	Name	Purpose	Default
1	Show Captions	Show or hide captions on the index.	Inactive.
2	Show Tags	Show or hide tags on the index.	Active.
3	Custom Colored Text	En- or disable custom colored text, instead of the tumblr default.	Active.
4	Custom Controls	En- or disable custom controls, instead of the tumblr control.	Active.
5	Custom List Color	En- or disable the custom color for the icon of unordered list elements.	Active.
6	Italics	En- or disable italicized text.	Active.
7	Serif Fonts	En- or disable any non sans-serif fonts.	Active.
8	Header Link Transform	En- or disable the hover transformation of links in the header.	Active.
9	Custom Link [1 - 5]	Show or hide custom links.	Active.

2.4 Text Fields

There are twenty (20) text fields in the customization panel which allow you to set a very specific value to a certain element.

Nr.	Name	Purpose	Active Toggle
1	Header Title	Set the title in the header (keep it short; it's not the same as your blog title).	-
2	Lightbox Opacity	Background transparency of photo lightboxes (from 0 to 1).	-
3	Photoset Gap	Gap between the individual photos of a photoset.	-
4	Not Found Title	Title of the custom error 404 page.	-
5	Not Found Text	Text below the title of the custom error 404 page.	-
6	Custom Icon [1 - 5]	Icon before the custom links in the sidebar.	Custom Link [1 - 5]
7	Custom Link [1 - 5]	Title of the custom links in the sidebar.	Custom Link [1 - 5]
8	Custom URL [1 - 5]	URL of the custom links in the sidebar.	Custom Link [1 - 5]
