Sexual Assault Assessment Program

Sexual Assault Community Resources Guide

Introduction

The interactive sexual assault resource guide is here to help you provide the patient with after-care and follow-up services that may be needed. Each patient should be given the information to any local services and health departments in their area. Be aware that some counties may have limited services available and patients can be directed to nearby counties for assistance. Some of the rape crisis centers offer transportation that may be needed to reach the health departments for follow-up care. Ask the site nurse or patient to provide their county and nearby counties. You may copy and paste the information needed into an email to send to the site nurse or patient. Information is always being updated. If you locate services that are not on the list, please contact Lily Valibaba-Sullivan at 501-551-9368 so the information can be updated.

The document can be found in digital form (the most updated and recent) in the Master Link List document. ***

National Human Trafficking Resource Center (NHTRC)

Hotline Number 1-888-373-7888

If you suspect your patient may be a victim of human trafficking, direct the site nurse to call the NHTRC hotline number. Working with adolescent victims may still require you to contact the appropriate authorities listed within this guide, but for clearer direction on how to handle the human trafficking portion of your patients care is necessary in providing the best medical care possible for your patient.

For more information on working with patients you suspect of possible human trafficking see the National Human Resource Center (NHTRC) website.

PATHsaves.org or Partners Against Trafficking Humans (PATH)

Hotline Number 1-501-301-4357 (HELP)

PATHsaves.org has created a list of services offered through their program.

- 24-hour HELP-line
- Emergency transportation and 24-hour shelter for adult victims of sex-trafficking
- Emergency Care Kits for women and youth coming out of sex-trafficking
- Interstate transportation for trafficked youth who have been rescued and are returning to Arkansas through our Flights to Freedom program
- Intensive therapeutic treatment and Case Management through the Day Program (for women and youth)
- School-based education for youth about danger signs and ways to stay safe
- Statewide education for teachers and counselors
- Education for medical personnel on “red flags” indicating potential trafficking
- Medical and psychological assessments with treatment planning and coordination of services
- Referrals to residential facilities that work with the Day Program to provide a trauma focused care and treatment program in a home-like environment for adult, female survivors
- Progressive life skill education and training to facilitate independence
- Work Program for survivors needing to strengthen their professional aptitude
- Victim Services and Awareness Training throughout the state

- Work alongside legislators to strengthen and change laws as needed
