

Parent Resources

Learn More About the Standards

The North Carolina Digital Learning Standards for Students are based on the ISTE Standards for Students and are a learner-driven process of exploration, creativity and discovery using technology for learning.

The video on the left is a Flocabulary music video that explains the tenants of being a digital age learner. Explore the student standards: <https://www.iste.org/standards/for-students>

Common Sense Media Family Engagement Resources

Common Sense Media has created a tool kit of Digital Citizenship resources for families based on the following topics:

- Homework & Learning with Tech
- Social Media & Devices
- Media Balance & Well-Being
- Online Privacy & Safety
- Cyberbullying

Use the link on the right to explore the resources offered by Common Sense Media. Resources are also available in Spanish.

Resources for Engaging Parents and Families | Common Sense Education

Valuable tips, advice, and recommendations for families on issues related to kids' digital lives.