

7 Questions Every Travel CT Tech Should Ask Before Accepting an Assignment

From Prana Talent – helping CT Technologists navigate smarter contracts and better travel opportunities.

1. What's the total pay package—including stipends and overtime?

Clarify your hourly rate, housing stipend, per diem, and any bonuses. Understand what's taxable and what's not.

2. What does the shift schedule actually look like?

Ask about on-call expectations, weekend rotations, and whether shifts are consistent. Nights vs. days can impact your routine and pay.

3. What's the cancellation policy on both sides?

Some contracts can be ended early. Know what happens if the hospital cancels—or if something changes for you.

4. What kind of housing support or relocation assistance is offered?

Will you get a stipend, direct housing, or reimbursement? Confirm whether it's guaranteed or optional.

5. How long does onboarding take—and what's required?

Ask about credentialing, drug screens, documentation, and how long it'll be before you can actually start work.

6. Who's your main contact once you're on-site?

Will your recruiter stay involved? Is there a clinical manager or local lead? You should always know who has your back.

7. Have other CT techs worked this assignment before?

Ask your recruiter if they've placed someone there. Get real-world feedback from peers or check online reviews.
