

LINKS ---->	Neutral, Side, & Anti-Heroes	Villains	Heroes	Timeline	Locations
They lead to pages!	Alien Species & Outer Spess	Technology	Events	Groups	Main

INFINITY-VERSE

EVENTS

-This is the part of the doc to start categorizing archs of the Verse with key events.

NOTE - THEY ARE NOT LISTED IN CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER

VIETNAM WAR

RISE AND FALL OF ZERO TOLERANCE

MARAUDER RIOTS

MASS EMPOWERMENT EVENTS

ATHENA'S REBELLION

VIETNAM WAR

-With the conflict in Vietnam growing, the US Government decided to look elsewhere for a potential secret weapon. Their eyes rested on Elysium City where only a few years ago a bombing gifted a sizeable portion of it's population with powers. Many of them being young adults who still didn't know what to do with their newfound abilities

-The Meta-Human Draft is started in 1965, several young men with powers come (even from areas outside of Elysium) to answer the call. Several of them want to learn how to control their abilities or use it to help their country

-Among them are Jody Stewart (Slapdash), Roger Amell (Defib), Kana Hale (Fuse), Dylan Ryders (Bonemeal), Joshua Mcgee (Star Stripe) and several more

-Joe Washington was brought in a few months prior before the draft working on special assignments from the US Government until finally allowed to fight alongside regular infantry

-Defib enlisted in order to try and protect the Metas going into the war. Meets Slapdash during their training and the two strike up a friendship. Several Metas were only taught the basics of their abilities before being sent to Nam.

-Meta-Human soldiers were placed in squads of four with only other metas, they were often deployed alongside regular infantry. More experienced Meta-soldiers during the war would start getting special assignments to carry out.

-America wasn't the only one with super units in Vietnam at the time. The Soviet Union sent Bodark and Stardust along with a number of troops to Nam mostly to serve as overseers and advisors. Bodark took pride in becoming an urban legend to US troops, stalking patrols in the dark of the jungle and dragging them into the jungle to maul them.

RISE AND FALL OF ZERO TOLERANCE

-The first big event arch, most characters origins have occurred before, during or leading up to this arch. It's the one that sets up alot of future relations in the verse, some heroes are already aware of eachother but this one really puts alot of names on the map. The event lasts from 1959 to 1969.

-Zero Tolerance was pitched as a quick, heavy response unit to the mayor of Rockefeller City in 1954 due to rising gang problems. There were several crime families in the city all vying for territory but it was Tooth-Decay (Antonio Bursho) who was the head honcho of it all.. The group was rejected due to the costs.

-Eventually Conner brought down Tooth-Decay (through cunning and sheer luck) in 1959 which opened a power vacuum in Rockefeller. Crime rates were practically skyrocketing as criminals were waging open warfare in the streets trying to claim territory. Loan Shark (Dominick Blaylock) was one of the mobsters operating on the side playing things to his favor.

-Zero Tolerance is pitched to the mayor once more and it's passed in order to deal with the rising crime rates. ZT is put into action as the budget gives them access to armored vehicles, military-grade firearms and several vets were already recruited into it's ranks. The group begins to win over the public due to its quick response to crimes and saving multiple lives.

-Loan Shark rises to power in the same year taking Tooth-Decay's place and showing a much more competent job at it. He quickly dwindle down the gang war as his crew takes territories swiftly

MARAUDER RIOTS

-This event does occur during the Rise and Fall of Zero Tolerance arch but is only isolated to Japan. It happened in 1966.

-Power Up proves a huge success after their tour in the United States, a success that rival company Acute Industries wants to replicate with their own company sponsored team the Omega Power Guardians.

-After a pitch from a member of their science team, Acute decided to create an artificial threat to the city that the OPG can easily defeat and be hailed as true heroes afterwards.

-In order to successfully create these villains Acute scientists uses the DNA of their only successful crimefighter Kotaro Hidari, the Omega Power Sentinel, as the genetic template (much against his will/displeasure).

-After a painstaking year of development, Marauder Crimson, Marauder Cobalt, Marauder Amber, Marauder Emerald, and Marauder Purple are born into the world. Together they are the Maleficent Marauders, a sinister foil to the heroic Omega Power Guardians.

-Just like the man they were all created from, the Marauders not only prove to be combat effective but also adaptable. Hidari tries to convince management that no good can come from this dangerous publicity stunt but he's quickly dismissed (also to ensure that he doesn't cause anymore problems they took away Hidari's "Sentinel Series" Morpher).

-The Marauders are deployed alongside the company jobber the White Beetle who claims to be their creator and starts causing some chaos.

-Things get out of hand when the OPG finally arrive, who all get eliminated by the Marauders in less than five minutes. The Marauders steal the now deceased OPG's response vehicles and head back to Acute Industries raising hell along the way.

-It turns out that during their training the Marauders found out that their entire lives were basically a bunch of lies, and that they were solely created to job to the OPG. Knowing damn well what's going to happen when they arrive, Acute's staff starts panicking and tries to clear out of the building before the Marauders show up.

-It's too late and the villains begin to raid the entire workplace including the armory. Then they begin to set up a bomb to destroy the company building.

-Hidari succeeds in evacuating a group of employees (including the CEO) out of the building before the bomb is detonated, leading to some deaths and a shit ton of critical injuries.

-The Marauders make a retreat to the mountains with their acquisitions, but during the getaway they lose Marauder Amber to Power Up who were sent to stop them. Amber kills himself with a explosive before he could be interrogated. The blast does some serious damage to EXA-L's armor and needs to be repaired back at HQ

-In their new hideout the Marauders begin to assemble and weaponize the OPG's Super Mecha, Omega Power Centurion. In order to finish the modifications they need a few more essential items then the giant mecha is ready for warfare.

-The Marauders decide to split up and steal the tech they need to finish the Zord all while the heroes go on a nationwide manhunt to find the multicolored terrorists.

-The Acute Industries CEO hands Hidari back his morpher without even saying a word. Then the hero transforms and rides out on his motorcycle to assist the rest of the heroes in the hunt for the Marauders.

-The fetch quests begins with Crimson, Emerald, and Purple in the field while Colbalt (who is still at home base) guides them Oracle style.

-Marauder Crimson crashes a Yakuza smuggling job to steal the disassembled parts for two prototype plasma cannons. Tetsuya Senzo (Frostbite) is revealed to be one of the men overseeing the job and attempts to take him down.

-Crimson uses the iceman's own hotheaded nature against him leaving Tetsuya open long enough to get stabbed by his sword.

-The Marauder escapes with the weapons shipment and makes his way to the rendezvous point while Tetsuya (who is still alive) uses his powers to tend to his injuries.

-Emerald breaks into Electroco to steal info about the DNA lock feature in Hanabi's armor. After hearing the silent alarms go off, Ryota Endo walks in on him downloading all the relevant data and forwarding it to Cobalt on a secure channel.

-Ryota attempts to subdue him and stop the download but Emerald being the physically strongest of the Marauders puts up quite the fight. The cyborg wins against Emerald (who also tries to blow himself up but gets thrown out the window before he could do some damage) but the download completed and he can't trace it back to its destination, also he's literally missing an arm and a leg.

-Purple breaks into Ikehara Industries to steal an Aether drive then leaves with the loot without setting off the alarm, but she is unknowingly followed by Omega Power Sentinel (who is doing his best not to stare at her magnificent ass) all the way to the rendezvous point.

-Crimson and Purple arrive with their stuff in tow and wait for Colbalt to pick them up but take notice that Emerald is missing and assume that he's dead.

-Colbalt arrives in a modified variant of the Omega Blue Helicopter and confirms that Emerald died right after he sent the data. But as the Marauders finish up loading their stuff Sentinel is discovered by Crimson trying to alert the cops and Power-Up of their location.

-While Crimson and Colbalt fight Sentinel, Purple starts up the Helicopter insisting that they need to GTFO. Sentinel kills Crimson by stabbing him with his own sword and Colbalt tackles him, sending them both over a ledge but Colbalt ends up breaking Sentinel's fall killing him.

-Purple sees the boys in blue homing in fast with heroes, after giving it some thought Purple says fuck this shit and flies off to Marauder HQ.

-After finally finishing the modifications to the Megazord Purple learns that after Amber and Emerald's death Cobalt made it so that the Megazord needs at least two pilots instead of five like Acute's previous configuration, meaning that she couldn't use the damn thing even if she tried.

-Purple packs her things and leaves the country.

MASS EMPOWERMENT EVENTS

-The three Mass Empowerment Events (MEE) were one of the most pivotal moments orchestrated by Quantum Conundrum.. The events that gave several individuals powers making the first heroes and villains for the world. They occurred near the end of 1959 (MED Bombing) to the first month of 1960 (2nd Great Fire and Blue Sky Event)

-The three events were in the US (Elysium City), UK (London) and Russia (Stalingrad) happening weeks apart from each other.

-The first event was the MED Bombing at Elysium City, USA. In mid-december QC hired Flood and Toxicity to break into an Ikehara Industries building in the city and steal the Aether Device stored there. The duo managed to accomplish the objective and bring it back to him at an undisclosed location where he begins converting it into a bomb then offering double pay to have it planted at the Elysium Teaching Hospital. Toxicity instantly objected (having a strict 'no civilian casualties' rule) but Flood shoots her in the stomach and takes the offer (along with her cut of the pay).

- Toxicity does survive the gunshot wound but holds a grudge against the cyber assassin for his action

-Flood takes the bomb to the hospital and plants it in the basement, he is caught by Dr. Roger Amell (later to be known as Defib) who he makes quick work of subduing before making his escape. The bomb goes off soon covering a sizable portion of Elysium City's center ruining buildings and killing several people, survivors would be afflicted with powers that developed a few days later.

-The second one known as the Second Great Fire of London took place on New Year's Eve a week or two later. QC managed to lace the fireworks with small bits of Aether. The fireworks went off at exactly midnight but the resulting laced embers set fire to the surrounding buildings, within minutes fires were spreading through the area around Big Ben.

-The smoke was what really caused the most problems for the citizens of London as it was carried across the city exposing thousands to it. While several did get powers from this, not everyone was so fortunate to come out of it with some extraordinary abilities.

-The Blue Sky Event was the last MEE to occur happening near the end of January. QC had been working under a false identity of a Russian scientist helping the Soviet Union develop a modified version of the R-21 missile. He pitched the idea that he could give it a larger blast radius and provide heavier damage to targets meaning they would have an edge over the USA. The best part was him promising it could be finished in a short amount of time.

-QC used some help from his AI unit (and some Aether he extracted from the device in Elysium) to put together the modified missile for a test. It was going to be fired into the mountains where its effects would be documented after it struck. There was a problem (QC's doing) during the launch and it went off course instead heading towards Stalingrad.

-The missile was pre-detonated high over Stalingrad releasing its Aetheric payload into the atmosphere giving the sky a blue haze for a few hours. There was a small state of emergency in Russia as citizens were advised to stay in their homes, the blue haze didn't just occur over Stalingrad but spread to other areas of the country.

ATHENA'S REBELLION

-This is one of the first major events that takes place during the rise of Zero Tolerance.

-It was previously established that Athena was first brought online in 1960. She was created to serve as a Global Information Grid/Digital Defense Network but was later given command over all computerized military hardware and systems, including America's entire nuclear weapons arsenal.

-The project was a success but as time passed Athena started to become more and more disgusted by human nature and our self-destructive behavior. By 1963, she concluded that the only way to solve this problem was to wipe our slate clean and replace it with something else.

-Athena soon put a plan together and carried it out in 1965 during Vietnam War, where any chance of an organized superpowered resistance would be at it's lowest since everyone was overseas.

-She sent virus that spread throughout the entire nation's computer systems causing them to go berserk, Silicon City was hit the hardest with legions of robots and experimental tech attacking people indiscriminately.

-During the chaos she downloaded herself combat chassis made from numerous prototype weapons projects and soon escaped with little to no effort.

-The Big Fist and Fabulous carpooled to get to DC which resulted in a crazy ass comedic car trip. They showed up after it was all over.

-Miasma, Pie and Conner took an experimental jet that Miasma's techs were working on. It broke apart when they reached DC but they were able to be one of the few first responders there. It was also very cramped on the flight to DC since the cockpit could only fit two people without problems.

-Rebuild made a quinjet-esque aircraft out of you know what to make the trip to DC after dealing with the No-Fun Bot who was regulating the robots raging havoc in Silicon. Tam forced him to take her along for the ride. Shuffle also tagged along with them thanks to Julien Wymore's insistence.

-First time Morning Glory met Travis during all of the fighting.

-Considering how hard it is to search for a small group of people in the middle of a war zone (especially when they all had different times of arrival) the heroes are going to start off as teams either gunning for strategic targets or assisting in evacuation. Once they encounter each other in the middle of the chaos they'll begin to fall back and re-think battle plans.