TW and Clarification

TW for mentions of: Rape/Sexual Assault, Pedophilia, Harassment.

Hello, my name is Lillith, known by creepymckat on nearly every platform. I feel the need to talk about this more heavily and give more information other than just a thread on twt. I will basically be repeating lots of the things from it, but also be starting from the top of all of this and be as honest and transparent as I can be with the things I have, things I have been sent, and more.

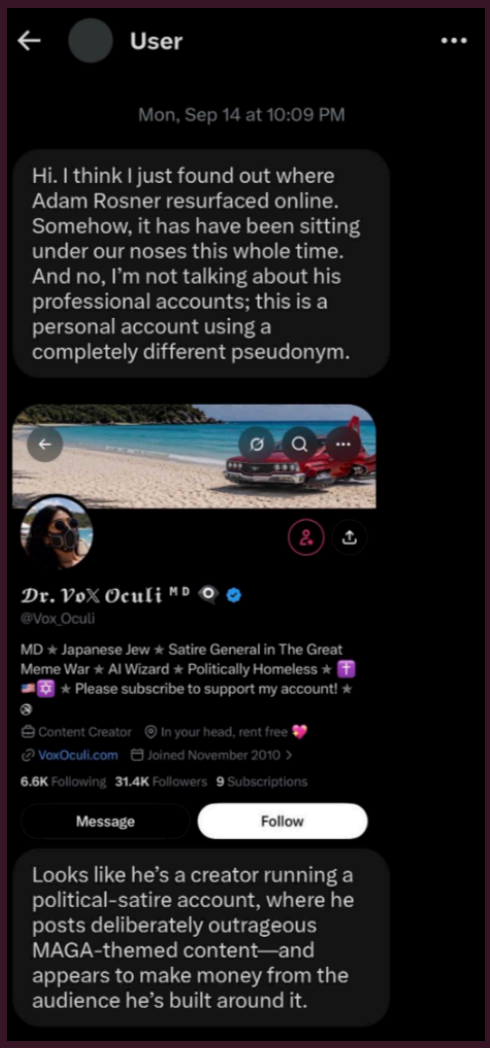

I am very very bad at articulating sentences if that hasn't been obvious from my posts and I do apologize if anything seems worded wrong or just straight up incomprehensible. Images may be small so I will add them all into Imgur + extras I cannot fit into here. A lot of this doc will be images, but do know I am doing my best to explain with words too. I feel the images already do the explaining. If you have any problems reading this, tell me and I will fix it the best I can! :-D

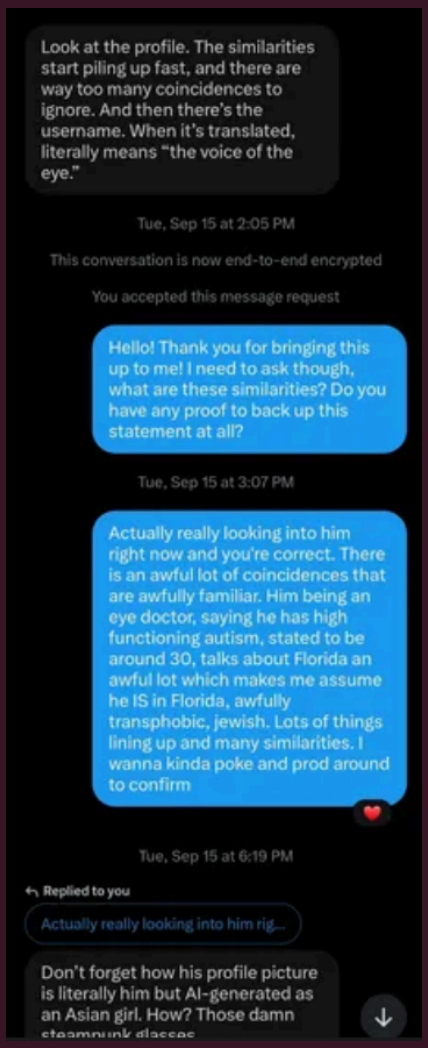

As much as I have been hurt and mentally unstable from this situation, I do not want a soul harassed. Jay does not need harassment, other people involved do not need harassment. What needs to be done is speaking about this.

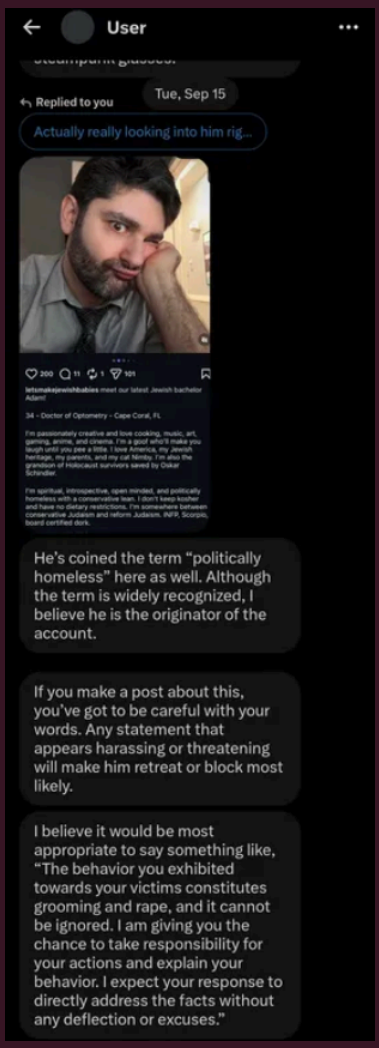

This is more made for computer I sorgy

Talking (Twitter DMs and GC)

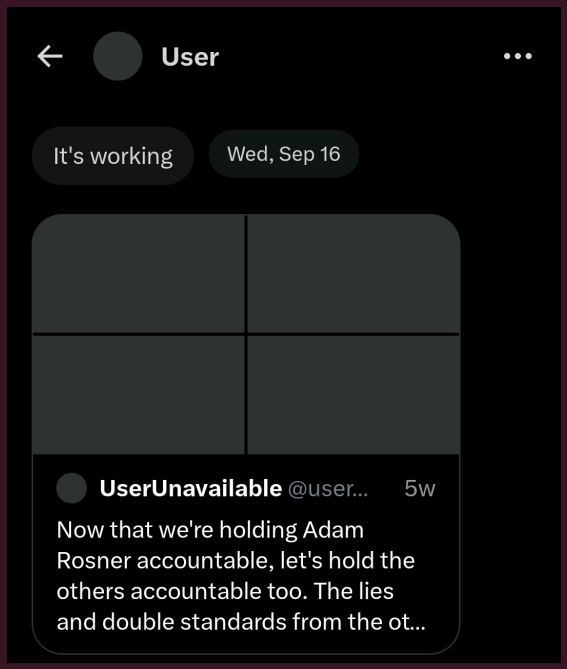

All of this began with a DM from an account under the name Anonman, of who had come to me speaking of Adam Rosner being back under a bigger account unassociated with the Slenderverse entirely, focusing more on politics this time around.

Soon after talking about Adam, the conversation immediately switched to other creators being possibly close to Adam in recent days. I should've honestly seen signs from this as it felt like he was immediately trying to get more focus on them other than Adam, who LITERALLY was the biggest issue that should've been talked about and really focused on. (Anonman is not a person I will talk about in depth here as there is a whole document on him, but he is a big reason why I was in contact with Jayden in the first place.)

He had also spoken of doubts he had of the victims of Adam.

I think a majority of the creators still are in contact with him which bothers me.

Assuming this because Chris Hammarberg still openly has him added on Facebook. I double-checked to see if you can view messages even after unadding someone on Facebook, and you can. So, why is he still there?

can you give me proof of chris having adam added

Sorry for the long response. Been waiting for someone to speak out and since that TikTok video came to light.. it's felt safer to say. What do you think? I think I'm just a little too deep down the rabbit hole.

I believe that when Adam was publicly excluded from the community for the first time, it undoubtedly shook many of the creators. The reason behind this is not that they cared about what happened to Adam's victims, but rather because of their reputation. They knew they had to get rid of him quickly because what we had looked damning. As for Jeffrey Koval, we only had testimonies from Taryn. Testimonies aren't really evidence in the eye of the law. The opposing side in court can always rebuttal against it. That's why they didn't speak out.

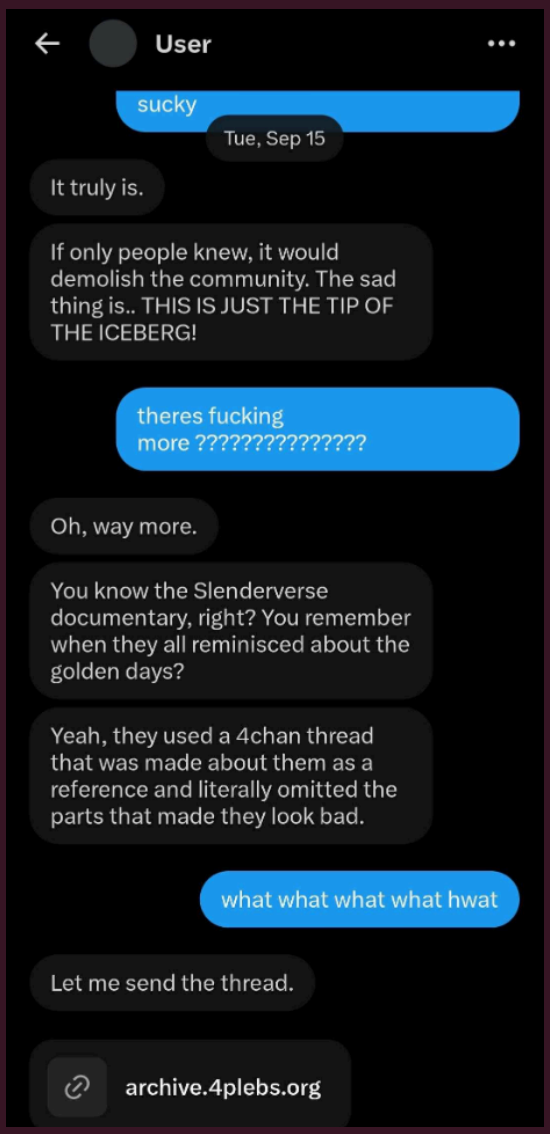

As for Adam's lack of a proper response, I believe he was intentionally planning it (he appeared serious) but either two things happened. His lawyer advised him to remain silent to protect himself because screenshots can always be digitally altered. Or, he was going to discuss all the other serious and potentially illegal shit the creators have done as well. If there's anything Adam was right about in that phone call, it was that they still have their egos and thrive on parasocial relationships.

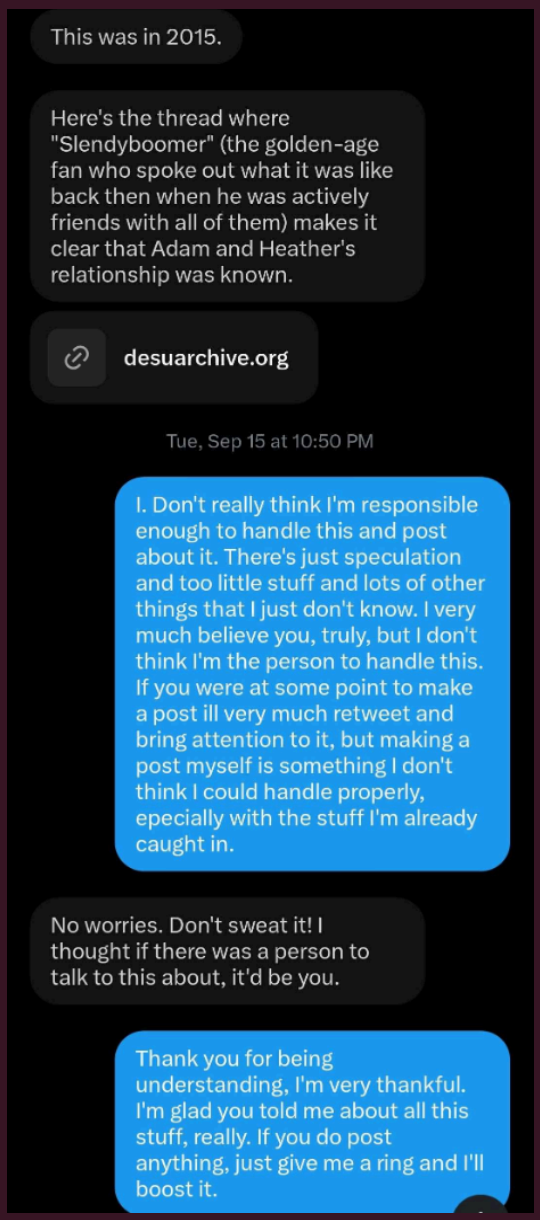

← I'm also highly suspicious of Heat...

I'm also highly suspicious of Heather. I want to empathize with her as a victim, but the actions of other Slenderverse creators have made me doubt her credibility.

Some of my friends browse 4chan to check if the creators are active there. I personally don't do that. That site deserves to be shut down, along with X, for its extreme toxicity and lack of management. They informed me that there was a thread about a golden-age fan who spoke out what it was like back then when he was actively friends with all of them.

One of the things they pointed out was, Heather lied about her relationship with Adam in her testimony. If you don't recall, Heather claimed that Adam and she kept their relationship a secret from their friends and fans. But this user said the exact opposite. Fans and friends DID know about it.

I didn't indulge with these comments in the slightest. I could not as I am not involved with that nor know a thing about that whole experience itself. I in no way want to ever doubt a victim or their experience unless there is reason for me to be doing so with the proper evidence.

Soon after these messages, I was invited to a gc by Anonman to talk more about Adam Rosner, but that changed clearly upon creation of it. There were about 5 or so people within the gc including me, Domi, Anonman, another victim of Adam's, and the most important person within this whole thing, Jayden. For prior knowledge, Jayden is a confirmed victim of Adam, interaction between them, and continued messages and a friendship going on in 2015-2017. Once invited and I woke up to see, the first thing I saw was Jayden talking about both Evan and Amanda and questioning if they were still together. This then made me learn there was a reason behind why the two were being spoken of.

I'm perplexed by their rapid and somewhat hypocritical condemnation (I use the term "somewhat" because most of the responses were about distancing themselves from the issue) of Adam Rosner while simultaneously maintaining a comfortable association with Jeffrey Koval.
Mama Jay
Because they can't make up their minds. They've been lying for each other for so long that the lies are finally just coming unraveled.
And I'm sorry, but within 15 years? SO much has happened. And with so much going on already?? Enough is enough.
Have you witnessed the unfolding events? It all began in 2024 when Jeffrey Koval was exposed. That's when people began to piece together the puzzle.
Mama Jay
I haven't been involved since 2015. I cut myself completely from the fandoms and everyone associated.
I figured it all out when I was in 16 years old back in 2023.

Wait, how old are you now??
19, sadly.
Mama Jay
Because I'm 26. I was 12-14 when all of this happened to me.
I just know a lot of the inner workings of the community because I was friends with the new generation creators.
They're all sketchy as fuck too.
I had to file a cease and desist towards one of them for harassment back in April.
Mama Jay
I was creating my own series, I got a few videos in until I was homeless and my life fell to shit in 2016.
-Adam- was helping me, at first, with the concept in 2015.
But after the con in 2014, communication with Evan and I went dead. I spoke to Adam for at least another year or so until my dad died.

Ugh, fuck that. I'm sorry.

Here is when things began to really be talked about. Jayden began actually telling us that she was not only a victim of Adam, but ALSO Evan. She spoke of worry of them having her nudes still, of how there were long skype calls for hours on end, but then she said that the messages between them from 2015 from Snapchat, Messenger, and Skype all didn't exist anymore. At the time it was believable that these messages didn't exist anymore as messaging apps do delete older texts way back then because of server storage and Jayden had shown to us that even texts to Adam via Facebook back to 2015, even ones from her, were gone but still had their profile pictures. I wish pictures had been screenshotted given this was shown via Discord streaming to both me and Domi.

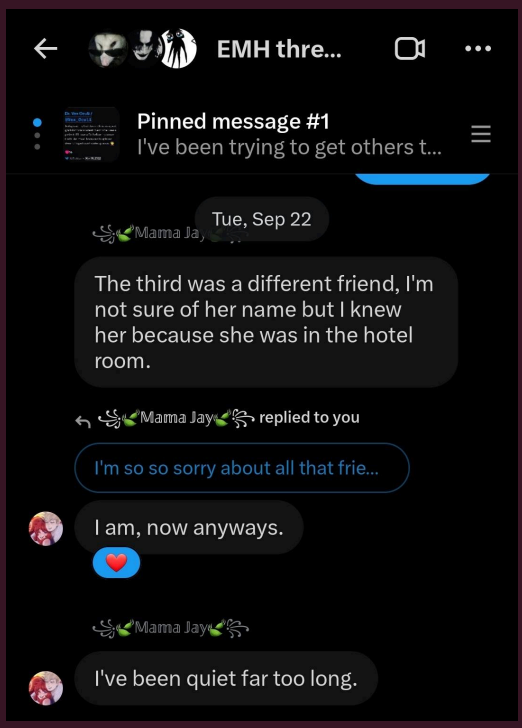

I am so sorry for the awkward positioning.

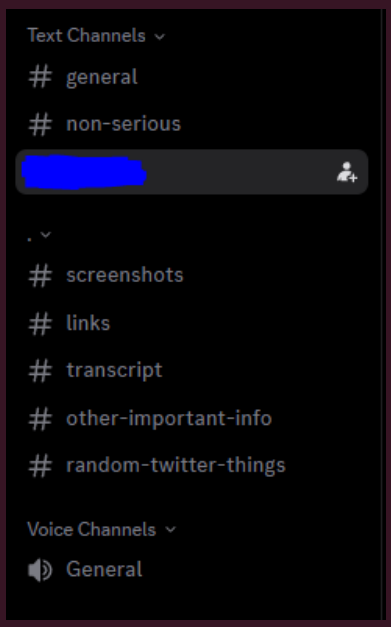

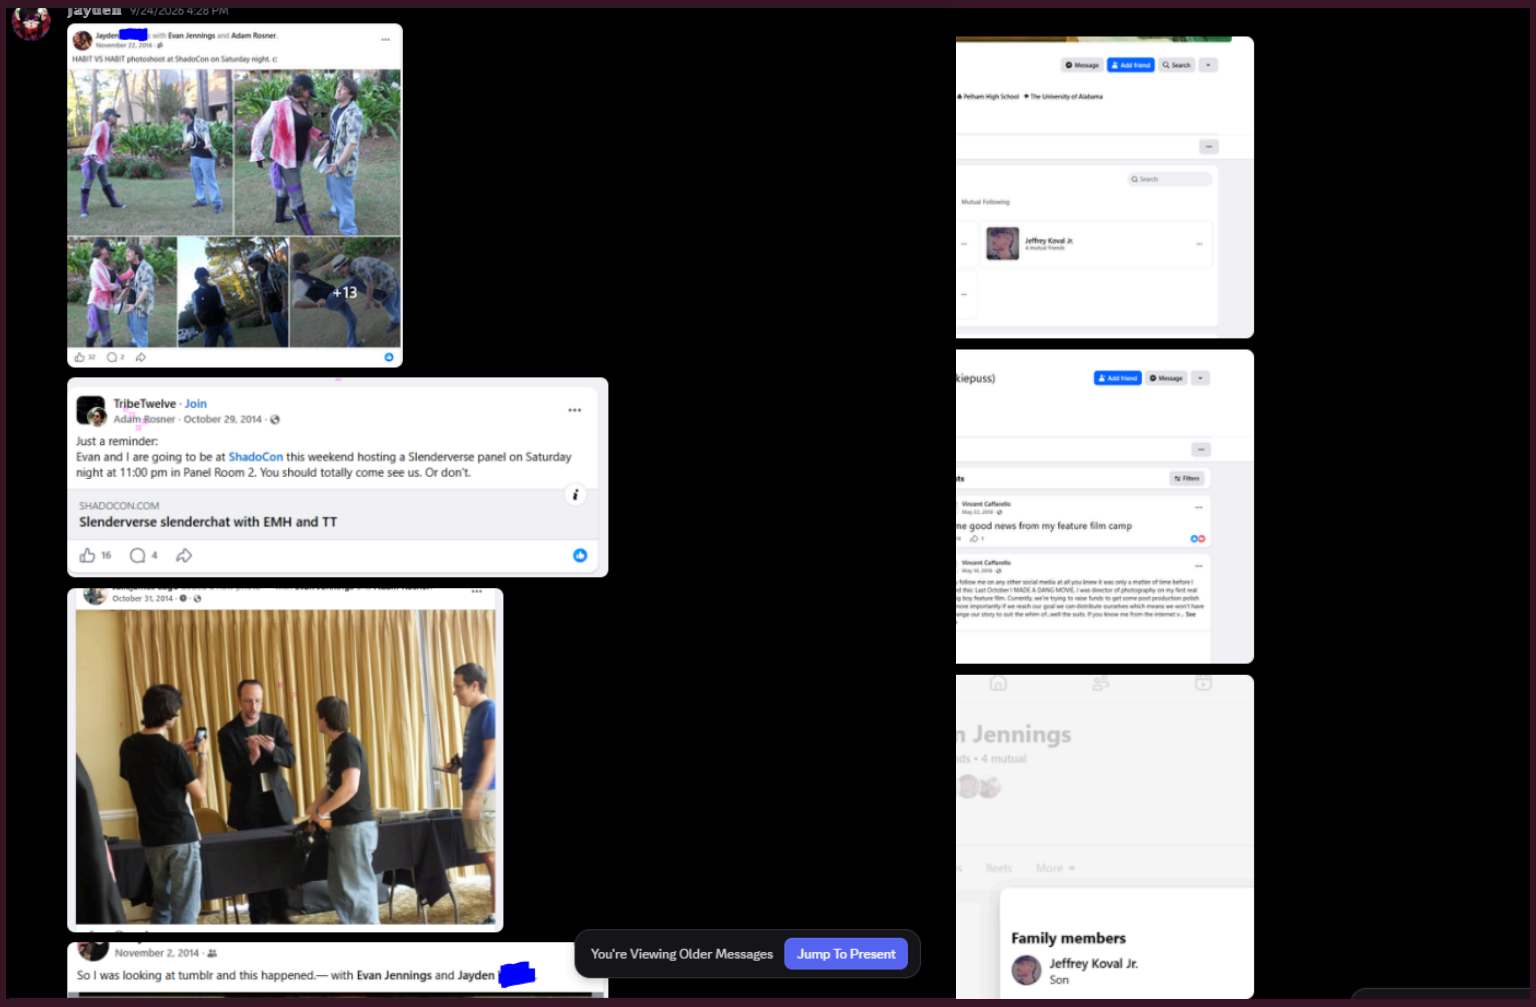

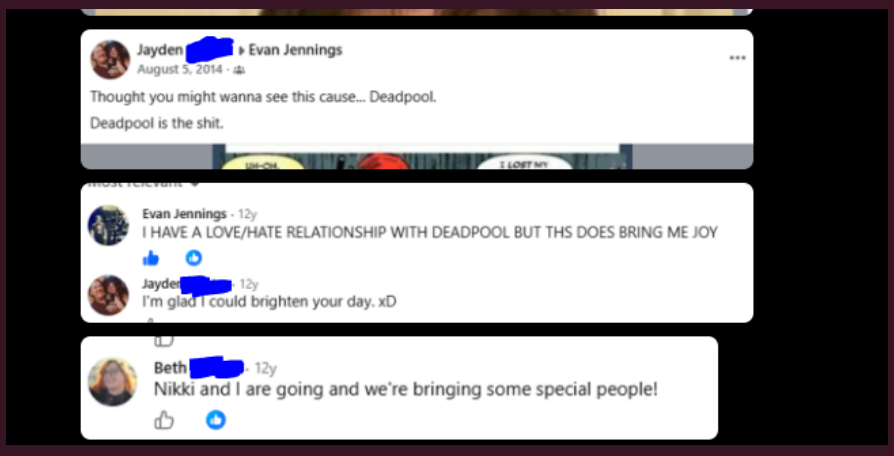

Jay made points of her “possibly not being the only victim”, then saying that Amanda could be one. I am doubtful of such. Making such an assumption is horrid, should not have been done. It’s one of the many other things about Jayden I scrutinize heavily. There is more than just one instance where she had told us the two had plans to rape her in a hotel room as Shadocon, having talked in messages, Adam having apparently told her they had done such in text????

Discord Server

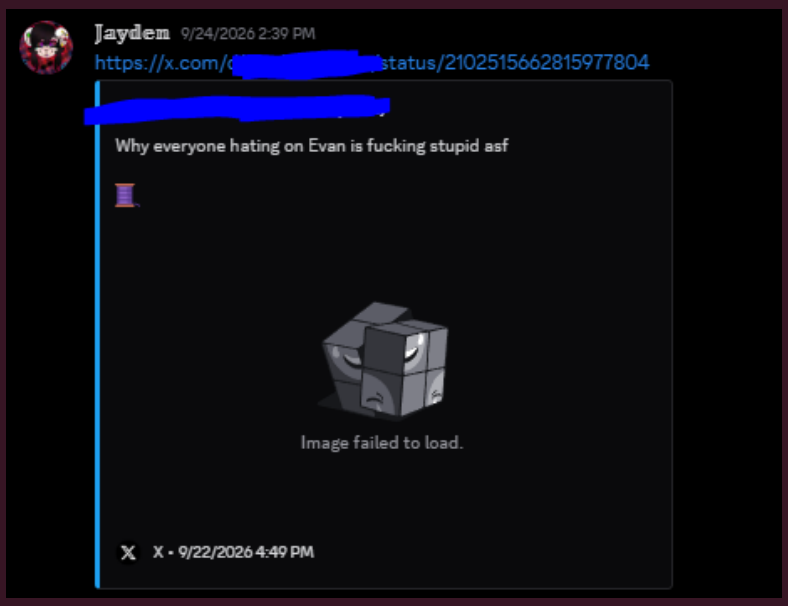

These were all the channels made (one is hidden as it was made recently for new documentation.) Showing all of what is in them would fill this entire doc and there is no need for about 400 pages, but I will show a few images to give a general idea as well as words. Screenshots were mostly filled with everything I had already spoken of Adam over on twt along with older evidence from when he was originally called out. It also contained screenshots of when Anonman was figured out to be Will, of who I will speak of later on in here, images search for of Evan and Jayden being at Shadocon together (again, as previously mentioned, with Adam as well), AND the harassment/arguments with actual children. For some reason. I have no clue why Jayden decided to put those in there when they ultimately meant nothing in the long run to what was being done on the server and in reality gave proof that she just attacked anyone who didn't believe her which SHOULD NOT have been done no matter if what was being told to us is or was right. It's immature.

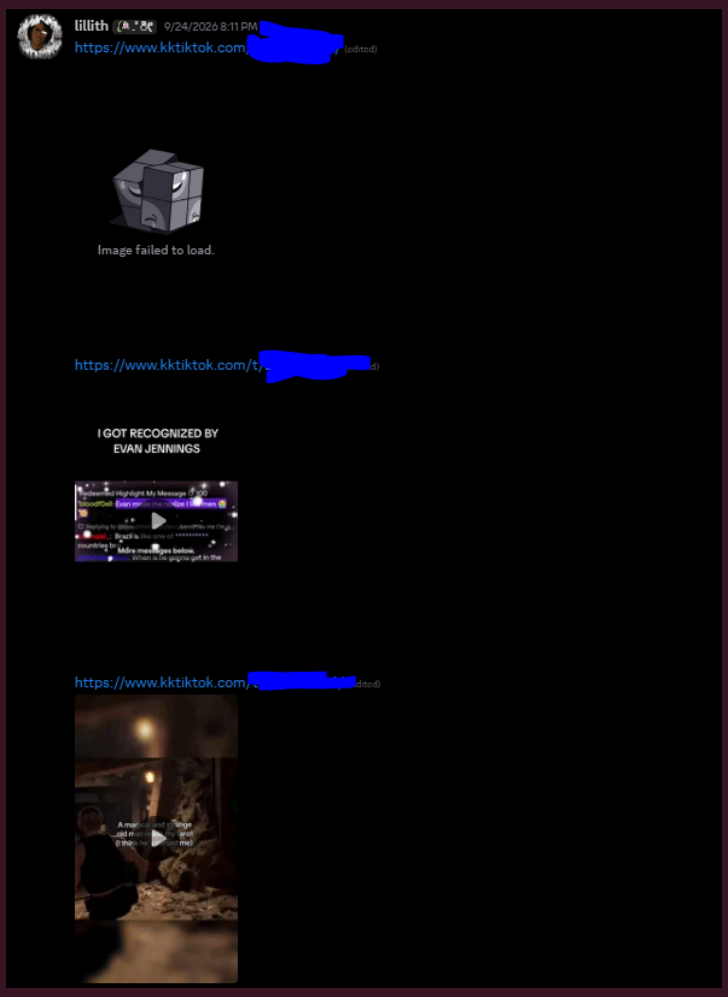

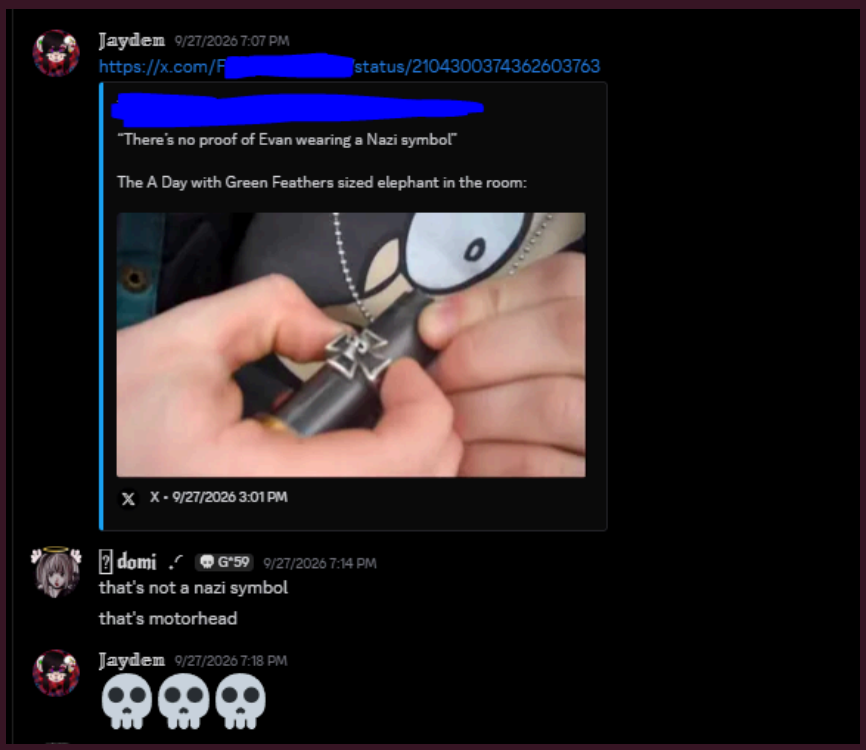

Yes. She did go to the Facebook accounts of every SV creator to see if they were friends with Evan and/or Adam. I was quiet and did not question this in the slightest because I thought this was going to "help." For some reason. ok.

Links consisted of clips from tiktok of Evan's stream moments and, once more, links to tweets of people who were in disagreement or defended Evan.

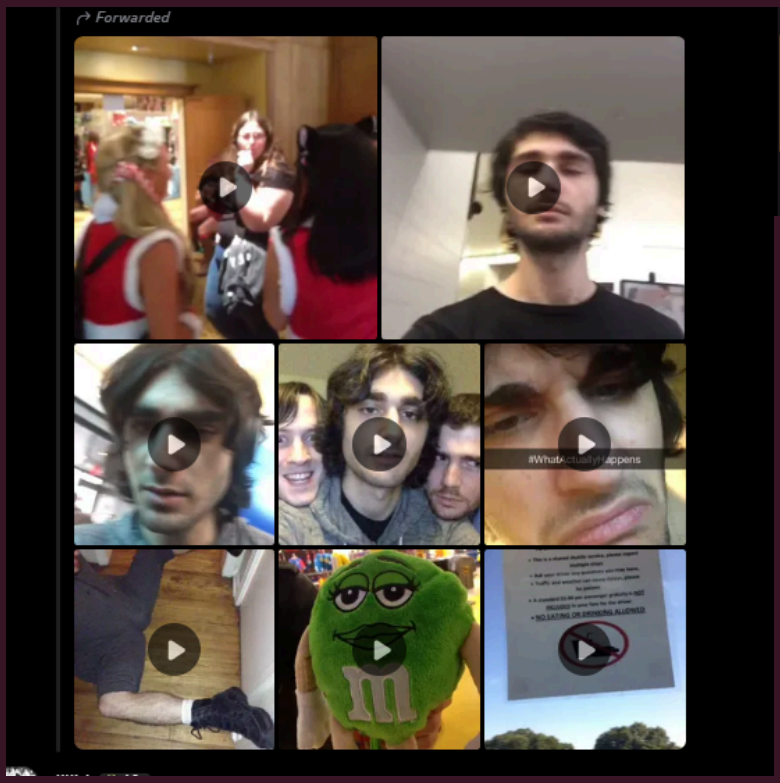

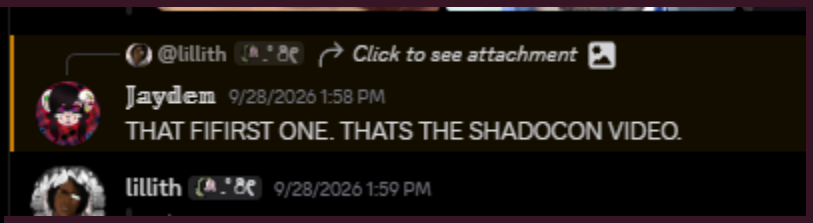

I was compliant in this. Although there are some of these in which I did think were worrying, I had no reason nor did Jayden and Domi to dig more dirt up on Evan because the one thing we were focusing on is the possible grooming. I am still very sorry for this and letting any sort of resentment let me do this. It's a strange thing of me to do. I take accountability for that part.

Transcript was for the audio from the call in which Adam admits what he did. There's little to nothing, just typing out what was said.

Other important info was used to post things from reddit and ALL of Adam Rosner's Vines I had gotten from a friend. This was to see one video he had posted during Shadocon that gives proof he, Evan, and Jayden were there besides the pictures she had sent many times. It consisted of Evan and Jayden having walked side by side in the background, nothing more.

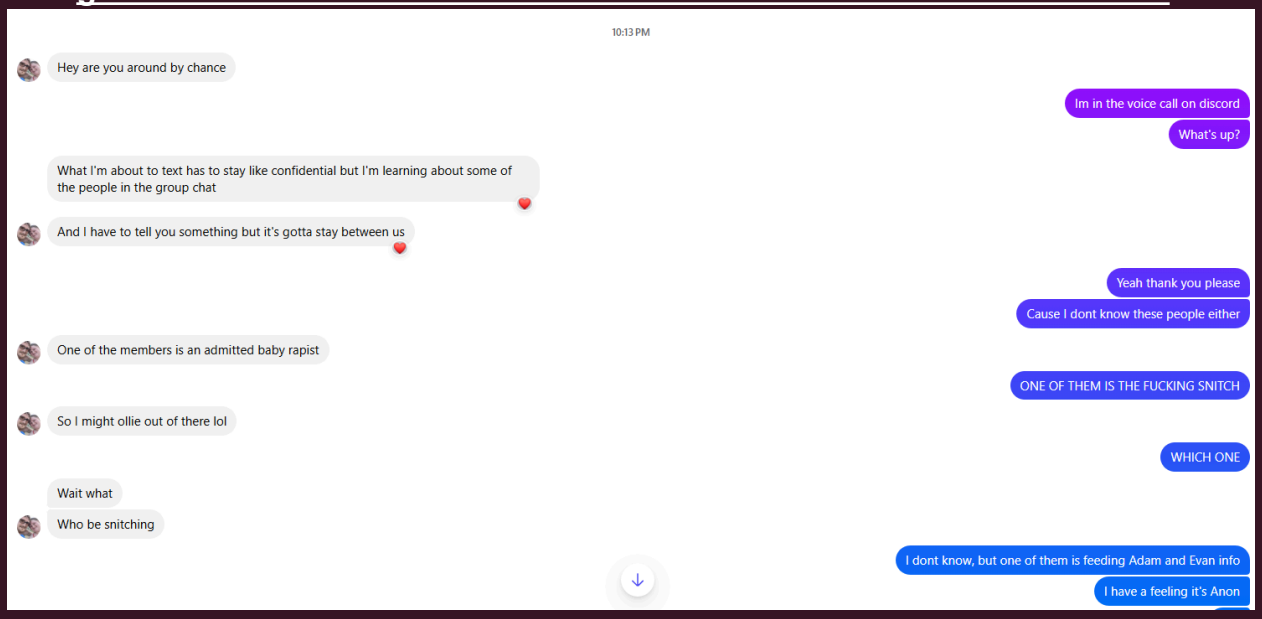

And twitter things are just what the name was. There's nothing relevant there.

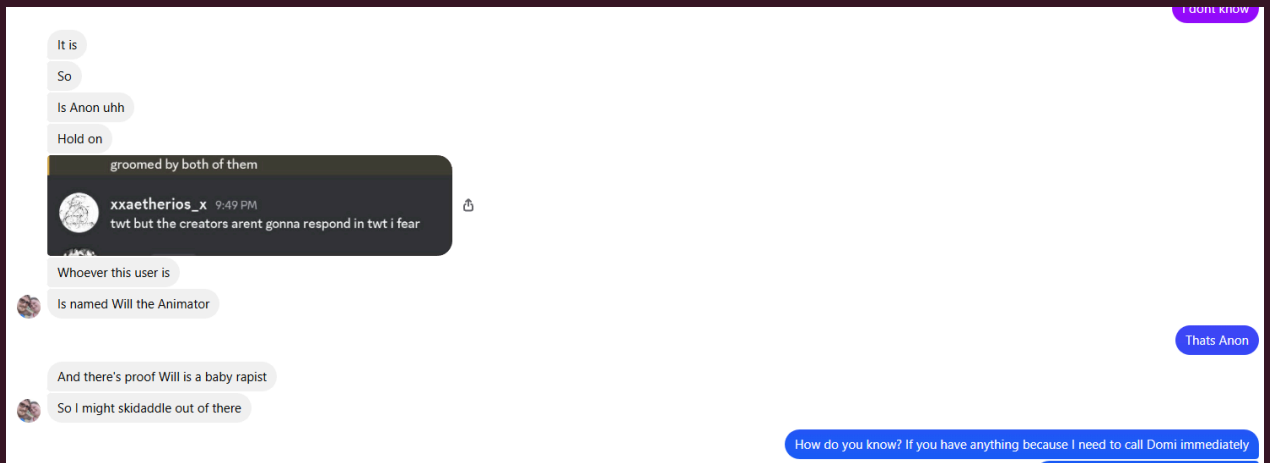

General WAS used to talk about everything as well and most of the ss I've already put are from it.

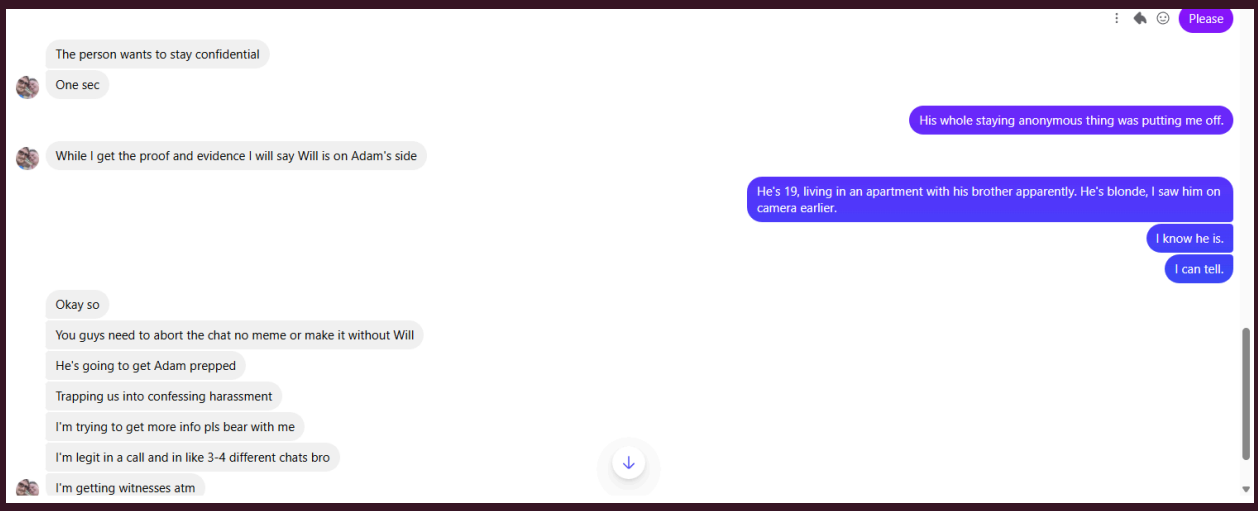

Will / Anonman

Anonman was the first person, the start of a big majority, if not all of this. I've already started at the top about how that happened, but this is later on now.

Anonman turned out to be a dangerous person who had been called out prior within the Slenderverse and by ex friends. Will is a confirmed pedophile, zoophile, necrophile, school shooter apologist/fetishizer, and Adam Rosner apologist who has contacted him many times in the past. I will not go into detail here as there is a whole thread already about him and goes into much better detail than I ever could. And also because I never Once the others had heard and gotten the information, they brought it to me and told me to cut every and all contact from Will, and I did. Immediately after, I posted the doc my twitter, informing others as quickly as I could because he was not someone to trust anymore, especially with info with Rosner.

The thing is? Jay wanted me to delete it. Why exactly? To "feed him fake information and see if Adam does anything after we told him anything at all." And I complied and said sorry. I want people to know I was not defending him, I hate him. He brought this to me to use me as a strawman as well as victims of Rosner. I have no clue as to why he even came to me about this in the first place and wanted me to talk given who he is and his thoughts on Adam. Never got an answer for that, never will. When I said sorry, I had people saying it was ok and I was correct, in which Will stalked those people to see if I was saying anything as I went private as to keep him or any alts of his/friends out as I continued to speak out about Adam's new online presence.

I am censoring his face as Will was a minor in this image. I will not share an image of a minor.

None of your concern. That is all I needed to know. 10:47 PM

It's more concerning that you are a baby rapist and SO many other things, along with as a rat. We clicked on relatively quickly that something was wrong, especially after Adam went private. 10:50 PM

Looking back, I was a rather obsessive true-crime enthusiast and, frankly, a fucking loser. I said a great deal of ridiculous things back then, largely as an elaborate attempt to make people keep their distance. The general strategy was essentially, "Oh, look at me. I'm mentally ill. Surely you'll leave me alone now." A remarkably dignified approach, in retrospect. 10:50 PM

To sum it up, I was in a group call with my old friend Tyler, who was known online as ZidcyBarxy, and the conversation eventually turned into everyone confessing some of the worst or most embarrassing things we had done when we were younger. One of the things I mentioned involved an erection I experienced as a child, peak adolescence, when I was around 12. I described the situation using extremely poor wording because, at the time, I had a habit of trying to sound more intelligent than I actually was. Instead of simply saying that the kid had rubbed against me, I chose a more unusual word that I thought sounded sophisticated. That wording ended up making the story sound substantially worse and far more deliberate than what I had actually meant to describe. The particular word I used was "grinded," when "rubbed" would have been the ordinary and accurate word. 10:53 PM

Jayden 9/22/2026 9:54 PM

Looking back, the whole thing was a combination of being a stupid kid, having absolutely no sense of how certain words could be interpreted, and trying far too hard to sound intelligent. I understand why someone encountering that wording without the original context could reach a very different conclusion. I am not trying to excuse how badly I phrased it. I am explaining where the wording came from and why the original statement should not be interpreted as an accurate description of what I intended to communicate. 10:54 PM

No, that is not what I am saying. I am not blaming a child for my reaction, and I do not think a child should be held responsible for something like that.

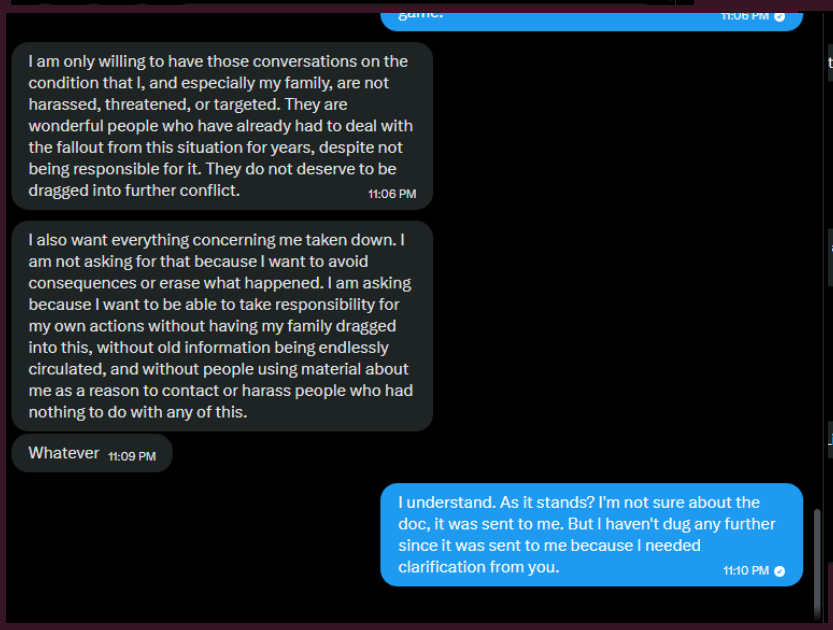

I was around 12 at the time, and I am trying to explain the context as honestly as I can. A Victoria's Secret advertisement had come on television beforehand, and I believe that was part of what contributed to the erection I experienced. I am not bringing that up to shift responsibility onto anyone else. I am explaining what I remember happening and why I reacted the way I did. 10:56 PM

Hey, I wanted to personally say I'm sorry, especially to you. You got dragged into all of this and I'm sorry

I have an intense regret for not listening to friends who told me the anon account could possibly be him. I prioritized someone I didn't know in the slightest thinking they were actually trying to do good instead of close and dear friends. I am sorry for not listening. I am sorry for being so wrapped up thinking I was the one and only person that could get all of this known to the public, for even thinking I was someone fit for this issue when I am someone who knew nothing and should not have even been involved because it is not my responsibility to take on other people's issues. I am guilty, I hold accountability for all of this, I should've known better than to get so wrapped up in my head and keep having some hope that things were and would keep going well. I do not seek pity, I do not seek forgiveness, but I want it known that I acknowledge my mistake and will do better in the future.

Jayden

My overall experience with Jayden has been strange to say the least. It's a tad hard to start this off given how many things she has done and said but I will do my very best. There will be a bit of restating, maybe some tldr, but I will not repeat the images. If forgotten, scroll up.

Jayden and I met through the GC, she had spoken of skype calls with both Adam and Evan (separately) like sleep calls and ones in which she'd be nude for them. She had also stated there were nudes exchanged and how there was a possibility both of the men still had her nudes. Getting onto newer information, she had admitted she had faked her age, but the men knew or should've known, to, in her own words, "take the time to consider her lies and stories." She had repeatedly made a claim that the men had talked to each other about taking advantage of her but in more detail. This will contain all important ss that cannot be categorized/fit in this category for what was spoken of.

Jayden 10/03/2026 9:05 PM
And regardless, there was still CSEM sent to TWO grown ass men by a thirteen year old.

❤️ 1

As well as plans made between the BOTH of them on my behalf.

Jayden 10/03/2026 9:06 PM
BOTH of them groomed and sexually assaulted me.
They might not have taken my virginity, but they saw me.
On skype calls, on snapchat videos/photos.
They touched me, in a hotel room bed. I was literally sandwiched between them bro, like. I wish I could make this shit up but I fucking can't dude.
Adam TOLD me that he talked to Evan, and they both planned on taking my virginity.
I think that's why they got upset at each other, because Evan made a pass on me to get me in the shower while I was literally laying on Adam.

lillith 10/03/2026 9:08 PM
right to you oh my gof

Jayden 10/03/2026 9:09 PM
And chances of Nik or Beth having any pictures from the hotel room is slim to none, if they want to talk to me at all.

❤️ 1

But they still have me AND both of the boys added on facebook.

lillith 10/03/2026 9:05 PM
YOU SENT TO EVAN TOO ?
sorry caps

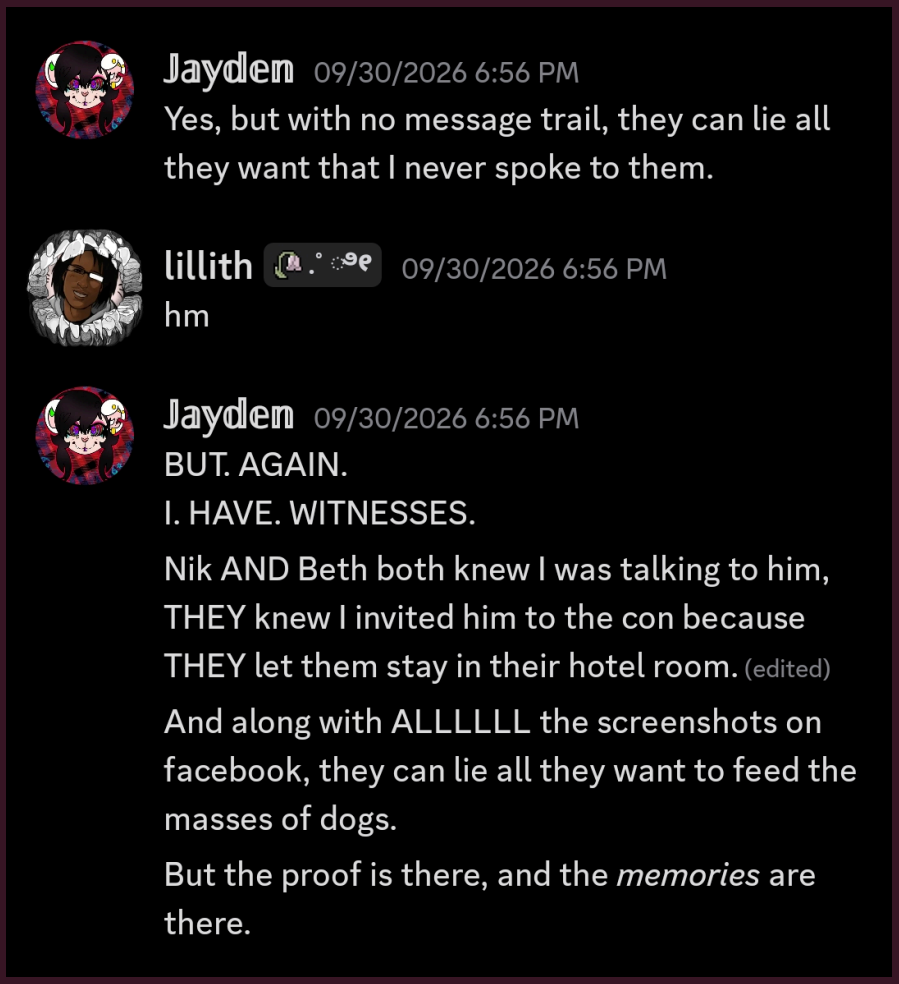

Jayden 10/03/2026 9:06 PM
Yeah??? That's how this all started dude lmfao

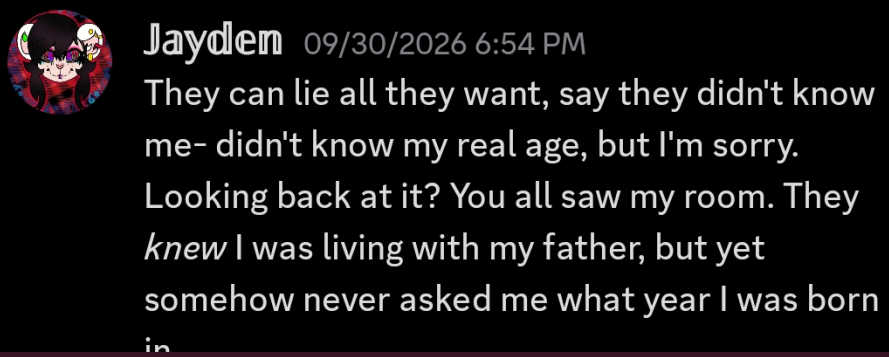

lillith 10/03/2026 9:06 PM
oh my god

This is the full accusation.
It was so detailed. I was disgusted.

it's better to get him now before he has the possibility of doing this again given where he's going. not saying he will do it again, but he's surrounded by an audience of the very kind of people he tried to prey on once.
1
@Jayden He can pretend nothing happened. But he was in that hotel bed right alongside Adam and I. ... lillith 09/25/2026 10:05 PM
god. this made me fucking shiver dear lord.
@lillith god. this made me fucking shiver dear lord.
Jayden 09/25/2026 10:06 PM
I'm telling you now, if there wasn't so many other people in that room? They would have taken advantage of me. I laid in that bed between the BOTH of them, I can still SEE laying on Adam's chest while he played FNAF 1 on his phone and Evan was pressed up behind me.
lillith 09/25/2026 10:07 PM
oh my god.
Jayden 09/25/2026 10:08 PM
And the worst part? I'm gonna have to message
Message #general

Jayden 09/30/2026 6:56 PM
Yes, but with no message trail, they can lie all they want that I never spoke to them.
lillith 09/30/2026 6:56 PM
hm
Jayden 09/30/2026 6:56 PM
BUT. AGAIN.
I. HAVE. WITNESSES.
Nik AND Beth both knew I was talking to him, THEY knew I invited him to the con because THEY let them stay in their hotel room. (edited)
And along with ALLLLLL the screenshots on facebook, they can lie all they want to feed the masses of dogs.
But the proof is there, and the memories are there.

Jayden 09/30/2026 6:54 PM
They can lie all they want, say they didn't know me- didn't know my real age, but I'm sorry. Looking back at it? You all saw my room. They knew I was living with my father, but yet somehow never asked me what year I was born

These claims are extremely heavy, nobody was reached out to about this to my knowledge, Jay didn't contact the two people she said she would. She involved another victim who was clearly uncomfortable talking about this at all and it felt as if she was only there to provide some sort of proof. She was dealing with her own problems but there was constant reaching out, discomfort being shown as she blocked Jayden off many times, she was still grieving her own trauma and she kept being pulled in. The victim BLAMED when something leaked out, do you know how crazy that is when you kept seeing if you were able to contact them? This isn't the only scenario in which Jayden had seemingly stalked people as I showed previously with the facebook accounts. She went out of her way to find every account on every platform, looking for alts and privs of both Evan and Amanda.

He's backtracking
Oh my god

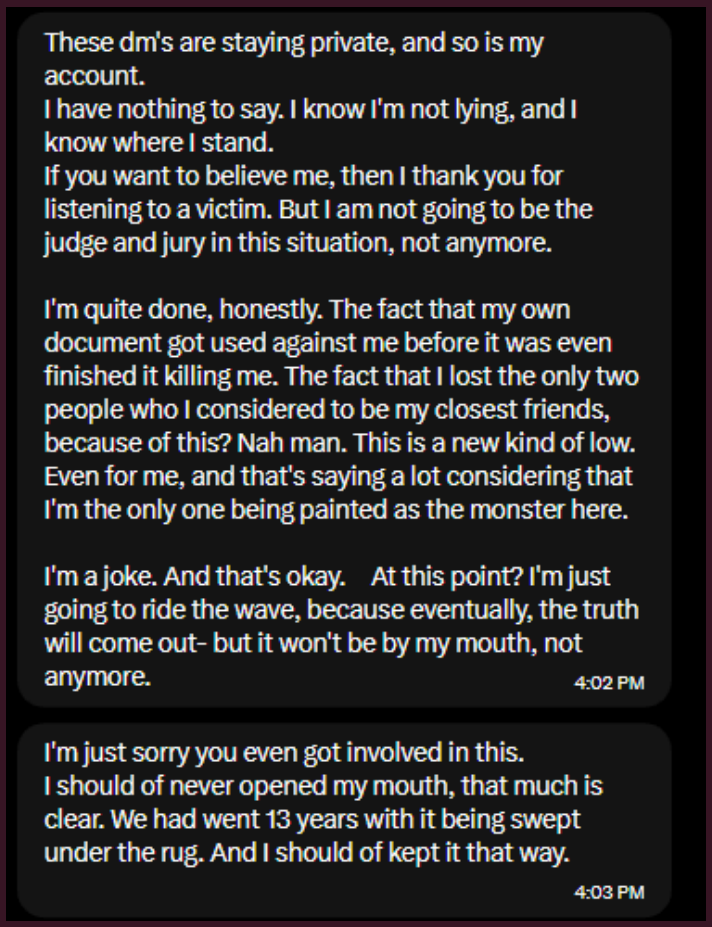

Jaydem 10/3/2026 9:26 PM
OH I DIDNT REALIZE THAT'S WHO HE'S TALKING TO

ARE THE STRAW REPLIES AMANDA??????????????????????????????

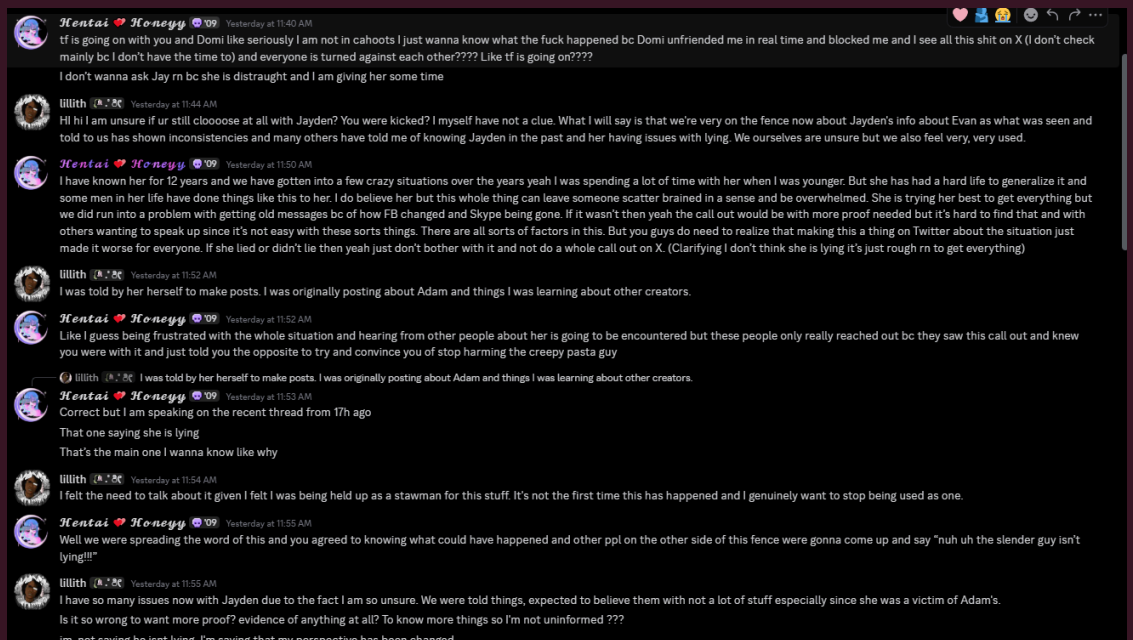

This is a minor I actually had quoted prior, saying things that Evan had done in the past are just lies and defending some as well. I wasn't the one to bring the post up to the server, I quoted and said they were wrong about a few things and take the post down, but yet again, I still take responsibility for harassing and bringing a negative audience to a minor when I shouldn't have. Jayden took up the harassing part and has done so to many others doubting her.

One last thing, I am so very sure Jayden had sent not just her sister Miko to message me, but the Sunflower account is either her sister or her husband. Sunflower knew I broke down out of guilt to Jayden, still confused about the entirety of this situation. I apologize for this. I refuse to listen to her anymore as not only did she say what was said between us was going to stay private, but also she BLOCKED me after.

< from Jayden and me's DMs when I came to her.

v Her sister coming to DM me to take my posts down as it "only made things worse." (cont next page)

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 11:57 AM
Yes but we all know when we were looking for messages we had a rough time getting them bc of messenger's encryption that won't let you see old messages past 2016 I think?
If we had those it would make things easier and we all know that.
So it's hard to get something else to dig for

lillith Yesterday at 11:58 AM
That's something I do get, but again, I just dont know. I dont have the knowledge, I shouldn't be the one speaking upon this in the first place. I wanted people to know Adam was back.

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 11:58 AM
It's a stand still yeah but I mean why air it publicly with the disagreement and just walk away? Tell her you don't want to be in this?

lillith Yesterday at 11:59 AM
I've made such statements several times, even to Will before he brought me into the gc, but I was still dragged in. I felt like I was being held responsible to keep talking about it because of how deep I was already in.
I don't like how she's threatening people either. I dont want her doing that. That doesnt help her case in the slightest.

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 12:01 PM
She wasn't threatening per se more just angry at it all if that makes sense. Something happened and people telling her how she should feel and to just let it go? That's enough to really piss someone off and make them say those things but this post just made shit worse for her personally. No one was thinking and now she is going through it even more.
I am trying to remain the neutral one here believe me but for just not trying to stir the pot

lillith Yesterday at 12:04 PM
I'm really sorry then. But I in my right mind cannot believe her entirely right now. People shouldn't be telling her how to feel at all and I get her anger, but getting angry is just. god. It's not something that should be done in regards to wanting to defend yourself. It's reckless. I dont want her being reckless about this.
Being reckless is what got us in this in the first place.\

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 12:05 PM
Exactly why I think you should just delete the posts about all of this about her and not cause stuff to boil over even more. It's really not anyone's business to air out the discord, document or screenshot of the gc we had for anyone else to see online publicly bc essentially it turned into a witch hunt for all sorts of people and not the main target.
Those private things should have remained privated and solved in DMs and simply just unfriend/block if you didn't want to be in anymore. Granted she would have been mad yeah but atleast she wouldn't have to be dealing with the fact someone she trusted is now shaming her for this sorta thing and being called a liar. It's so so so much worse bc thousands of people can see what you said online and then not knowing shit can twist the narrative to what they wanna see bc they like the creepy spooky stories guy
I didn't make great decisions when I was younger and did my fair share of call outs yeah and I even myself got pushed out of a whole community I thought I belonged in and was safe until what do you know a few "friends" of mine decided to believe the person that attacked me and it made me feel worse. Esp since it was online for everyone to see. So many people twist things and so many young people in that fandom or really any fandom are parasocial and will go to high heaven to defend some monsters without even knowing the full deal. (edited)
I am an auntie at heart and I just want to let you know that sometimes things happen and have even bigger consequences then intended and now there are platforms where people can see this and ruin others. It could have been handled differently.

lillith Yesterday at 12:14 PM
that's the thing, I DON'T know how to handle this. I should NOT be handling this. People kept relying on me and things just got worse and worse and even when I was believing I had no clue what to do. I need to know more desperately, I cannot make a concise decision and all of this has altered my mental health significantly for the worse.

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 12:15 PM
Hey hey hey it's ok. But for right now just take it down and try to step back a bit to think more clearly bc the main reason being it's getting to others and causing harassment on her end and I am sure you didn't mean for that right?
It's causing a bigger spill then it had to be zbut if I take it down I'll only be harassed and talked down upon more. no matter what I do i'll get attacked and told I'm a horrible person dispite me not knowing

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 12:19 PM
That's just how the internet has come to be all kinds of people are gonna disagree if you take something down or leave it up but the right choice is that no one else gets involved or hurt right? She's not doing as good and now getting all sorts of mean shit happen when she was just a young kid. Young kids do lie and she didn't expect it to go off like that and finally got courage and got some others but now it's just upside down and she feels betrayed by her friends and that is really shitty. I imagine you probably had some friends who you thought you were close with and they ended up not being that great. Just don't end up like that kind of person and maybe just step back from being online for a bit for the mean time. The internet has a way of consuming people.
Like you can literally just block who ever has a problem with it and who cares if they do??? They can't do anything behind a screen but type words. It's how /you/ deal with it and this is the first step.
Do the right thing for yourself and forget about some "followers" who are just gonna go on with their lives after they hit send.
I have faith in you doing the right thing and thinking for yourself at least but do just think about it and clear your head some yeah? But privately of course and take a break from all this.

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 12:30 PM
Please just handle this with some grace and it starts by just taking shit down and ignoring the nosey people into it who have never even talked to you before and only really did bc once again it's from a "internet celebrity" or whatever he's called.
I just want my friend to not have to worry about people harassing her when he was the adult in the situation at the time and still did what he did. It was wrong and we all know that.
And just to clarify this rn I don't want to be involved in this either or have screens posted about me just for knowing her and what I have said. I am here just bc I am her big sister.

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 12:40 PM
You aren't running away it's just cleaning up this oil spill. People will always be there to judge you but honestly who cares if they do but don't make more victims out of this and rope in ones who are make them out to be lying. I am not mad at you for the posts but it didn't quite help. If anything I am more pissed at Domi and how she handled this and leaked the document that was unfinished and the screens from a /private/ server. Don't you think that is just a little petty?
I am trying to just tell you to jump ship for survival 💀
Twitter is a toxic place with fandoms and we all know that and it's best not to play around it

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 1:04 PM
You can still talk about what you like on Twitter yeah but just not feed into the Adam drama and block them and eventually it will stop. Once people see you aren't feeding them they will go somewhere else and forget. If you delete the posts they can't pull it up and "use" it. Just go on about posting but personally I am disappointed on how this situation turned out with bot you and Domi airing out your feelings in public instead of being like "hey idk about this anymore imma need to step back and gl on your cause"

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 1:17 PM
You knew what would come of this situation and it could be wild and we all talked about it but were there for the support of the victim and then to just turn around and say "oh someone else told me she's lying and there isn't constant ADHD speed updates so it just must mean someone out there is lying"

Coming forward with this for someone is mind breaking and you have to tread lightly in order not to want to drag yourself down into even more doom. But no one victim are not deserves to be called out online bc you /THINK/ they are lying bc no major things have came out and we all knew it would not happen immediately but this whole "well let's go tell the whole world and everyone in this fandom that she's lying and post screen shots of her being rightfully angry and twist it to she just wants attention bc that is so much better and I can keep posting slendy without anyone thinking I support that man bc I am on the same team!!!!"
It needs to be de-escalated and I would appreciate a response here to me privately then somewhere public on X. I am not going to say anything.

lillith Yesterday at 1:22 PM
I said I was taking a break from there. I deleted many things besides the stuff that should stay up, none about Jayden. I didn't know what would come of this, I didn't know or think. All I knew is that I needed to say something and that's already bad when I cannot properly form words or correct sentences or judgement because my mind goes blank at what should be done, what the best course would be.

lillith Yesterday at 1:26 PM
I said I'm not keeping ones up about jayden, not that I'm keeping them up.

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 1:26 PM
Gotcha I misread that

lillith Yesterday at 1:27 PM
I'm keeping ones that are about me entirely and will as well because people should know that he is distrustful and over all not a great person

Hentai ❤ Honeyy '09 Yesterday at 1:30 PM
It's ok to admit to fucking up you do know that right? It's ok if someone got into your head and told you she was "lying" in their own words (aka Domi) but do take time in the future to think for yourself before jumping into things that you don't really know how to feel about. It happens but over all just think about her feelings bc not only being a victim of assault it's being piled on with "well typical women do lie about assault and it's her fault :'/"

It's like the dress argument.

I hope you just do what's right and really think but please do just try to think stuff out clearly yeah?

Final words

It is so, so hard to talk about this. I know not a thing but I was also given no proof, nothing besides pictures of them all being at that con and knowing each other, them being friends on facebook, and having messages. I believe whatever happened with her and Adam because there was proof to it and things to back it up. With Evan, there were only words, a story. A descriptive one that felt so believable in the moment and made me so guilt ridden. I still have no clue if it's real or fake, I still don't know what is wrong or what is right. I was given nothing and didn't have any more full talks to go off of. I want nothing other than the truth right now, that or to distance myself fully from this. I cannot be involved any longer because I clearly am not someone to handle all this. I am not mentally suited enough, having many sleepless nights wondering if all I have been told was just another lie to me, if I was going to be a strawman for them too, if I was going to have people want to try and hurt me for not knowing everything. I should not have said a thing in the first place, not about anything with Evan. I was ok talking about everything with Adam as he is a danger to everyone and shouldn't have the community that he does under an account where he pretends to be a japanese woman and talks about politics and gets monetary gain from. I want Will to be known as someone who cannot stay on the internet either. I want to make sure the Slenderverse community doesn't have mistakes repeated, but I am just a person. I regret my actions, I take responsibility entirely, I recognize and always will that what I have done could've genuinely hurt people and had really done so. In the future, I seek to not involve myself in such situations again and better myself, taking this as a learning moment to remember for later times. Please, always remember to be careful on the internet. Don’t take another person’s weight and let it weigh you down. I hope to move on from this, and I am deeply sorry for the words and possible lies I’ve spread.
