

Permalinks

Permalinks are the links you want to share with your students when directing them to a resource. Using the URL from the top of your browser will not work when shared with students.

Locating permalinks is not universal across resources. When trying to locate a permalink, look for:

- “Share”
- “Link”
- “Stable Link”
- “Permalink”

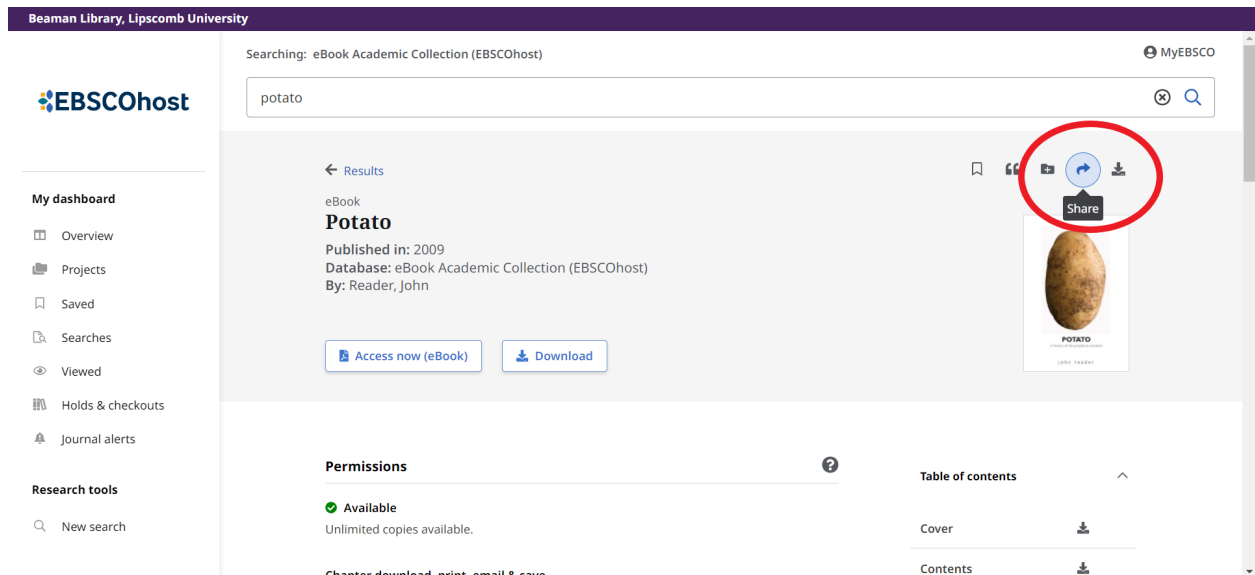

- Linking symbol

Where to find permalinks:

1. In the record:

Look for a “Share” button to create a permalink.

A screenshot of the EBSCOhost interface showing a search result for the eBook 'Potato'. The interface includes a sidebar with navigation options like 'My dashboard' and 'Research tools'. The main content area displays the book title 'Potato', its publication year (2009), and the author (Reader, John). A red circle highlights a 'Share' button in the top right corner of the record area. Below the book information, there are buttons for 'Access now (eBook)' and 'Download'. At the bottom, there are sections for 'Permissions' (showing 'Available') and 'Table of contents' (listing 'Cover' and 'Contents').

At A 2007 CRAFT FAIR in Seattle, I found a vendor selling olive oil from the Holy Land that he called "fair trade" Peace Oil. I asked why the label on his bottles carried no service mark certifying compliance with fair trade practices.

"Too expensive!" he replied. "Anyway, who are they to decide what's fair? We offer good jobs!"

JSTOR
