

Who do I want to be?

I want to be a powerful, capable and competent individual

I want to be someone who has brothers that would die for me and I would die for them, no hesitation.

I want to be a leader, I'll help my brother (12 years younger) become a man half as good as me...

I'll help my friends who are full liberal wake up, I won't stop trying.

I want to be a husband, my wife and I will be happily married.

I want to be a father, my children will be the best of me and my wife.

I want to be a grandfather, I'll be the cool one.

I want to be a good son, I'll let my parents retire and enjoy the fruits of their labour. They'll have a big old tomb. They will live on through me and my children.

I want to be generous, I'll help anyone that can be helped.

I will be who I've set out to be.
