

Parental consent for use of photos/videos by The Equality Trust

[Add school name] is partnering with The Equality Trust (TET), a national charity that works to improve the quality of life in the UK by reducing socio-economic inequality (Registered charity number: 1161545).

The Equality Trust is campaigning for an end to gender pay discrimination, and as part of this work, is working with secondary schools to educate students on both the history and present-day reality of equal pay. As part of exploring topics relating to gender equality in work and pay, gender and racialised stereotypes, and the impacts of income inequality on individuals and society, students will also be encouraged to consider their own responsibility to push for fair pay for all. Throughout the lessons, students may be photographed or recorded by their teacher.

Collecting photo and video evidence of students engaging with the campaign will help give context to our vital work, help tell people about what it is we do, and improve our campaigning, lobbying and advocacy with schools, businesses and local/national government.
