

Midwinter Hui Workshops

School/name/contact	Title/blurb
Saint Francis de Sales - Jemma Brown (workshop 2 in pm)	Diffit Reading passages - using AI to support reading OR Robotics Workshop - using sphreos, mbots and edison robots - an exploration of robots.
Vernice Young - St Mary's College (workshop 1)	"The Brain's Air Traffic Control System," - Executive Functions and their importance in emotional regulation and learning.
Clare Hewson (workshop 1)	Our PB4L journey at Sacred Heart Cathedral School
Clare Short (workshop 2 in pm)	Flax weaving
Aimee Grigg (workshop 2 in pm)	This will be a practical workshop, learning a range of short activities/games you can do with your classes to re-energise and improve their focus along with developing communication and team work skills. It will include some traditional Māori games.
Colin Palamo (workshop 2 in pm)	Wellbeing workshop. Creative ways to incorporate the visual arts into your teaching. We will be looking at a simple technique of photo transfer - just bring your favorite image, connect, and express yourself through art.
Emi Steedman (SMC)	Easy music activities for Y5+ including some easy free digital music composing tools, a couple of games and some useful websites. Boomwackers to finish!
Madie Eades (St Anne's) - Workshop 2	Using Canva- This session introduces teachers to the basics of Canva Premium, a free design tool for teachers. You will learn how you can use Canva to create engaging classroom materials such as displays, slides, posters, and worksheets. I will also share how my students have used Canva in the classroom for their own presentations and projects.
Rebecca Dymond-St Teresa's (workshop 2 in pm)	Practical art/wellbeing session
Phillip Kauika (SPC) (workshop 1)	Engaging Māori Students
Dan Sales (SPC)	The St Pat's student leadership model
Bronwyn Wilson (SPC) - Workshop 2	Transition from Year 8 to Year 9: Literacy Where are our students at in regards to literacy in Year 8? What are our expectations at Year 9? How can we make this an easier transition for students? Bring along ideas, observations, struggles, highlights. This will be set up as a 'speed dating' activity (small group or pair discussions).

Ethel Renata, Holy Cross School (workshop 1)	He Kete Rangatira: Growing Leaders, Grounded in Identity and Faith From classroom to doctoral study and back again, this workshop shares how everyday practice sparked research, and how that research inspired a student leadership kete rooted in service, faith, and te Ao Māori.