

Personal Information

Sem, whose full name is Dueanthanwa Wiriyakij, grew up in a warm and loving household. His family lives a comfortable middle-class life, nothing too extravagant, yet always enough and more to share with those around them.

That sense of quiet contentment has shaped him into the kind of person who doesn't chase after big crowds or loud attention, but rather seeks out the small, meaningful moments that make life feel full. Despite his calm and introverted nature, Sem has a soft side that often shows through in little ways.

He has a particular fondness for sweet treats, though he rarely admits it, and there's always a playlist of mellow Lo-fi tunes keeping him company during his downtime. When the world grows too loud or overwhelming, he'll often retreat to the quiet comfort of his guitar, strumming away as a way to unwind and let his mind wander freely. While he might not talk about it much, Sem is more capable than he lets on especially when it comes to sports. He's surprisingly skilled in both basketball and e-sports, but you'll only catch him stepping into the spotlight when his team really needs him.

Sem hopes to grow into a man who lives a simple, peaceful life one surrounded by animals of all kinds. Whether it's dogs, cats, foxes, or even fish, he envisions a future where he can offer them the same kind of warmth and companionship.
