Casting Call

LITTLE DORRIT - BASED ON THE CHARLES DICKENS NOVEL - ADAPTATION BY ABI LOUISE

LITTLE DORRIT tells the tale of a family riddled with debt and left to live in a debtor's prison. Amy Dorrit, one of the members of the debtors family has just gained employment within the house of Clennam. From there she learns the truth of her past.

It productions are currently looking to cast the role of Arthur for an upcoming audio production

This is an unpaid role

Arthur Clennam

Male
Any English accents
Aged between 18 -20

Kind, generous Arthur possesses a strong sense of loyalty and filial duty and has devoted his life so far to working for his parents' business in China. However, he now wants to find his own happiness and to start his life anew back in England. He is the 2nd lead in this audio production and slowly falls in love with Amy Dorrit (Little dorrit)

Audition lines are as followed:

Line 1: After returning home with a note from his dead father, which he was asked to hand to his mother

Then let us speak plainly. Mother... Father died fearing some old wrong. A debt of the heart, not of money. He said— "Your mother knows."

Line 2: contemplating, sadly speaking to himself

Perhaps this is what I deserved — for meddling in business I scarcely understood.

Line 3: while ill in the debtors prison, after Amy (little dorrit) comes to visit

Amy...
I am glad you are here.
Without you, the days would be darker still.
