
ACTIVITY CHECKLIST - BOOK FACILITATION

Richardson, W. (2010). Blogs, Wikis, Podcasts and Other Powerful Web Tools for Classrooms. Corwin Press

I. INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Everyone is expected to:

- a) read all the text chapters & keep notes on points that resonate
- b) look at examples of the tool/topic for Professional Development or Teaching & Learning
- c) bookmark interesting resource sites in Diigo [reviews using the AB format in the Description Box may be included as part of the Technology Review]
- d) monitor the blog posting responses & reply to a peer if the spirit moves

I. TEAM CHAPTER FACILITATION

Each team will sign up to take responsibility for summarizing, presenting, and facilitating an in-class exploration of the chapter tool[s]. Speak with instructor for ideas on how to structure the in-class component.

Chapter Review

1. Read and summarize the chapter
2. Do some additional research on the topic & capture good exemplars on the web
3. Play with the tool to become familiar with its features and possibilities
4. Speak with instructor to develop ideas for the hands-on exploration activities in class & Activity Sheet.
5. After your presentation, post a final summary in the Course Blog [see next]

Preparing the Chapter Blog Response

1. On the Blog Main Page, create a New Post and put your Chapter Topic in the Title.
2. Include links to any materials you may have developed for the in-class presentation. Aim to create a page that balances visuals and text. It does not have to be long.
3. Provide a few prompt questions for your peers to think about as they create their responses. These are to be posted as comments to your initial post. See my Ch.1 post for a possible structure.
