Usage

The aim of this application is to automatically extract the line items with their costs and the total amount from receipts. Currently the application also tries to extract a date for the receipt. These results could then subsequently be used for different means decided by the user. Usage of the generated results is totally and fully the responsibility of the user. The results are in no way guaranteed to be correct and in cases where correctness is needed, the results will always have to be checked and corrected by the user.

For optimal results, use pictures of high quality in portrait mode, cropped with only the receipt visible. Make sure the total amount is also visible on the picture, as the algorithm does need the total amount in order to find the best result. Sometimes a better picture of the same receipt can result in better results.

The option to scan with image cleaning should only be used if there is distorting text visible which should be filtered away (most probably from the backside of the receipt).

For best results, crop the image to only the part with the cost items, total, and possibly date. Other numbers and text further down could distort the results.

If some numbers on the receipt provoke a wrong result, it is advised to make those numbers invisible on the receipt and try again. It is possible to crop and rotate the image from within the application, however making text or numbers invisible on the image should be done with other applications. There is no guarantee for correct results, so please check the correctness of the results and correct possible errors in the downloadable excel file.

It is possible to delete unneeded results on the result page, and one can download or share the results on the homepage in an excel file.
