Opening remarks

Original bin

Well then here this goes.

Yachi/Jakerton/Glow

Round 452: Glow's amount of games including incomplete + suis: 16

Amount of games with yachi: 15

Amount of games with Jakerton: 5

Every single game this round, Jakerton played with Yachi(7) Some were not really worthy of noting, however they didn't suggest no cheating, rather just null.

Yachi

Your pastebin starts off with: “Every single game this round, Jakerton played with Yachi(7) Some were not really worthy of noting, however they didn't suggest no cheating, rather just null.” Now if this isn't already an indication of how bad this pastebin is gna be idk what is.

Glow

The fact that I even have to dignify this poorly made pastebin with a response ticks me off, but here goes.

You begin by stating some seemingly insignificant facts about how many games I played, and who I played my games with. You should know that I don't typically play comp, I play red hearts, so the fact that I don't have many games with people outside of yachi/jakerton can be attributed to the fact that I want to play a game with my friends for fun, and I'm not really interested in earning a trophy, not because I'm cheating with them. If you want to make the argument that I shouldn't play competitive mafia unless I'm intending to trophy, and therefore should play my games with a variety of different people, go right ahead. Accusing me of cheating, however, is completely false and should be evident if you decided to read the games instead of summing each game up into an inaccurate statement of things that went on in said game. You consistently forget to acknowledge the fact that there are people other than yachi, jakerton, and me in each of these games. These people easily influence these games with the things that they say and/or their revealed alignment. The fact that you think we're cheating because in some games we fos each other, and in others we don't, is easily attributed to the general consensus of the town when it comes to each player's alignment. You summarize each 20+ min game in 3-4 sentences that are not only grossly inaccurate of the content of the games, but fail to acknowledge the intricacies that lead to the outcome of the games. I will not speak for yachi or jakerton's plays, they can most likely explain those easily in their own pastebin. But in regards to my own "cheating" I'm going to set the record straight. Please set your pride aside and realize that you were wrong when you threw out these accusations. Hopefully reading this will help you to do so.

Games

Game 1 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5429109>

Glow is blue and yachi is doc on her n1. Glow foses onebasedgod who is town, doesn't unvote him even when others do. Yachi/glow don't fos each other day one nor townread. Anyway, Yachi probably knows Glow is blue so she docs problem but gets hooked. Anyway yachi is cc'd by Babylonia for doc the next day. Glow claims lb, pushes on her direct cc and doesn't really acknowledge mafia in docs, just tries to deflect. Then votes yachi and says "You made a bad play" that lasts for less than a minute. Yachi wins, although this isn't pointing to cheating much IMO just could be meta abuse from this single game alone.

Yachi response

I don't understand why you even included this game in the pastebin. Although, based off of your arguments, I think this reflects more on glow's play than mine. "Anyway, Yachi probably knows Glow is blue so she docs problem but gets hooked." Uh, no lmao. I did not know glow's alignment. I went on Problem because they were trying to get cop to out constantly day one. I thought this was a soft so I went on them.

Glow response

"Glow foses onebasedgod who is town, doesn't unvote him even when others do" - How is a fos that I had indicative of cheating? In this game, both Babylonia and villain fosed oneBasedGod before I did. Babylonia (the mafia) stated her reasons as to why she fosed oneBasedGod, "Mafia make a show of staying on topic." I simply agreed with this statement, and voted my fos. oneBasedGod inevitably self-votes, which I found scummy as well. The only "others" who unvoted oneBasedGod were himself, Jester0z, and yachi. villain (the cop) keeps his vote on oneBasedGod, along with Babylonia and me. In the end, town agrees that oneBasedGod is suspicious, and he ends up getting lynched. I don't really understand how this is "fishy" in the slightest.

"Yachi/glow don't fos each other day one nor townread" - You fail to note that most of this day was centered on deciding whether or not to lynch oneBasedGod. No other player outs fos/townreads besides oneBasedGod. Are they also cheating because they failed to townread/fos yachi and I?

"Glow claims lb, pushes on her direct cc and doesn't really acknowledge mafia in docs, just tries to deflect." - Knowing that I am town, of course I'm going to push on my direct cc. The day begins with yachi claiming cop, in a failed rs with the mafia (Babylonia). After villain claims cop, yachi makes it clear that she is doctor. I continue to push on my cc for fear that if we left him alive, town would fail to lynch correctly in me/Jester0z during a 3-way. He is my direct cc after all, he is confirmed mafia fmpov. Later on, I do acknowledge mafia in docs, voting yachi out of the doc ccs (Babylonia/yachi).

"Then votes yachi and says "You made a bad play" that lasts for less than a minute." - I think we can all agree that yachi letting mafia claim doc to leave her ccing cop, and then claiming doc, is not a great play. It causes me to fos her due to the messiness of the play. villain (the cop), says that yachi has good ate, and tells everyone to self vote. I follow the clear, and cross with my cc. villain then correctly hammers mafia in Jester0z.

"this isn't pointing to cheating much IMO just could be meta abuse from this single game alone." - How is this meta abuse? I had solid reasons behind every fos that I threw out, and I don't really understand how two incorrect fos's, one including the person I am "meta-abusing", leads you to believe that this game does indeed show meta abuse. You even state yourself, this isn't pointing to cheating, so what's the point of including lines in your summary of the game that would lead people who read it to believe that yachi and I were role-sharing, when that is obviously not the case? The summary of this game is messy at best.

Thoughts

- I don't believe this game is conclusive of cheating and actually points out to them probably not role sharing because of the way it plays out: yachi/glow are involved in

CC's against the mafia with villain being the clear. Glow voting yachi and saying she had a bad play is actually something that helps to conclude they're not cheating. If glow knows yachi is town for sure, it doesn't help them reach their win con for glow to be voting the real town at any point. Also "how would u know u were hooked" is more indicative of a push on yachi... who is real doc. Again, not something that is beneficial to them if they both know each other are town and need villain to make two correct lynchings in a row.

- Probably not cheating here. The logic above is solid. They'd probably buddy more if they really knew that they were both town as well.

Game 2 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5433088>

Yachi + Glow are blue here, glow is guiltied as an rxn and then unvoted after. Yachi didn't have much fuss about voting her, but it didn't last long. Glow says yachi fillers every game, therefore she doesn't think its her..doesn't make sense but alright, meh, she somehow self votes (yachi) and theres that. Before this, glow wanted sky. Yachis last words are to lynch sky. Aaaaand then we have glow FoSing real mafia afterwards, awny, "pushed hard on yachi for no reason" when the reasonable course of action is to vote your fos and yachis dying fos, skydemon. the 180 on the read is sketchy asf. A few mins later, she says its james and awny. She literally makes no attempt to say that sky might still be mafia, it's like that no longer existed..the whole day of her fosing him didn't happen... then she just pushes on them, with complete confidence. This game is literally 100% cheating. She even goes so far to say skydemons reads are bad. How did she "just realize he's bad" so easily?

Yachi response

I didn't want to lynch glow because it was clear that the guilty report on her wasn't real as they wanted to lynch outside of their report (me). Glow and I were both town, and I tr'd her more as the day progressed after that. Before reading your report and reviewing the game, I didn't even know that skydemon14 was just reaction testing. I think I skipped over reading what they said while the game was happening. So yeah, "I didn't want to lynch glow because it was clear that the guilty report on her wasn't real as they wanted to lynch outside of their report (me)." came from the fact that I thought skydemon14 was mafia claiming cop until the day ended, which is also the reason why I said I wanted skydemon14 dead as the votes were on me.

Glow response

"Glow says yachi fillers every game, therefore she doesn't think its her..doesn't make sense but alright, meh" - Why doesn't this make sense to you? Based on my experiences of playing with yachi, I have found that she tends to filler in a lot of her games. Someone outted the fos on yachi due to the fact that she was only fillering. With an unsolid read on yachi, I counter this by stating that yachi fillers every game, and that reason is not strong enough to constitute a vote on her.

"Before this, glow wanted sky. Yachis last words are to lynch sky. Aaaaand then we have glow FoSing real mafia afterwards, awny, "pushed hard on yachi for no reason" when the reasonable course of action is to vote your fos and yachis dying fos, skydemon. the 180 on the read is sketchy asf. A few mins later, she says its james and awny. She literally makes no attempt to say that sky might still be mafia, it's like that no longer existed..the whole day of her fosing him didn't happen... then she just pushes on them, with complete confidence." - Yes, on the first day, I wanted to lynch skydemon14, mostly due to omgus because he wanted to lynch me. At the beginning of the second day, skydemon states, "glow town told at the end." This statement is one of the reasons I began to tr him. He fully admitted to the rxn, and it was then obvious that he wasn't cop. When I say that awnyy pushed hard on yachi, a lynch I wasn't confident in, I was completely right. I had already stated that awnyy's reasons for fosing yachi, due to filler, were not strong enough to vote her, and the fact that awnyy pushed on yachi for bad reasons and then yachi flipped town made me reconsider who the mafia really was. skydemon14 goes on to say that they tr awnyy because of their inability to vote on d1. Because I sr awnyy, the fact that skydemon14 was insisting that awnyy was innocent and buddying up with confirmed mafia fmpov seemed towny. I assumed that skydemon14 was being blinded by awnyys voting gimmick. After tr skydemon14, both awnyy and james are confirmed fmpov. Of course I'm going to push on them with complete confidence. If you read the game, I go on to explain my fos for james and awnyy, but since you conveniently summarized it as me magically fosing the maf, you obviously did not. You write that I make no attempt to say that sky might still be mafia. This is also completely untrue, as seen in the game.

skydemon1...u haven't once fos'd me25:02 skydemon1...like not once25:04 skydemon1...wtf is that?25:06 glowi did y/day25:13 glowbc i thought u were fake claiming cop25:14 skydemon1...james25:15 glowbut now25:16 skydemon1...that means25:18 glowi realize ur just bad25:19 Awnyyglow is mafia and is giving Knicks a t vs m cross25:20 skydemon1...from ur perspective25:23 Awnyyglow keeps appealing to sky25:24 Awnyy= skydemon1...im maf25:26 skydemon1...but I'm not AwnyyJamesGorgeous is conf mafia25:27 Awnyyfrom glow pov25:28 glowwhere did i appeal25:32 glowi literally Awnyyyet she doesnt want to vote j25:33 AwnyyJamesGorgeous25:34 Awnyy=25:35 glowtold him to kill himself

"She even goes so far to say skydemons reads are bad. How did she "just realize he's bad" so easily?" - How did I realize that skydemon's reads are bad? Hmmm, maybe because he wanted to lynch me d1, when I knew I was town, and then he wanted to lynch yachi from a push initiated by awnyy, and yachi was also town.

Thoughts

- First, i'll say that glow's defense to being fosed is calling the person bad. You can see this on D1 when skydemon14 says they want glow at 8:38 and glow responding with why are you so bad. Saying his reads are bad on d2 isn't really much of anything, because that seems to be the insult she uses. Also, from her pov, she thought skydemon was the town and Knicks was the cop who claimed on d1, so both maf to her are confirmed. He was townreading awnyy and scumreading her so she said his reads were bad. The 180 FOS isn't that strange given that skydemon14 did immediately say he townread her and she believed that everybody who voted yachi were maf (skydemon kept on his read of glow on d1) for bad reasons. Having a scumread change isn't really indicative of cheating here although I do agree that she should have initially probably had a scumread on skydemon14. however, you can see that glow was likely afk at daystart since she responded to awnyy late and was talking to him before skydemon14 outted his townread on her and allowed her to change her mind which could perhaps explain why she was able to 180 the read before ever fosing skydemon

- Putting the screenshot of glow's quoted lines here so it's not eye cancer to read:

- The assertion made in the original bin is true, as this isn't an attempt to consider him to be mafia, but rather telling him that you thought he was mafia the previous day but that you just think he's "bad town" the current day.
- To me one of the most suspicious things is the fact that yachi self voted as the 6th vote on the ML when she had the hammering vote on glow. If this is true as well then it's even worse:

17:36	 glow	idfk she said it was a misclick
17:39	 Awnyy	it wasnt
17:43	 Awnyy	it never a missclick
17:45	 Awnyy	she self kicked

- Perhaps she saw herself as a safe lynch (being blue) and didn't want to possibly lynch a PR, but she doesn't explain this in her response and it looks fishy. If it's throwing it's throwing for glow, if it's cheating it's her putting herself in the graveyard so that she can tell the other two who the mafia are in the next two days. She suggests that glow force NL, which is incredibly suboptimal play that glow doesn't follow up on:

	 yachi	I WANT SKY DEAD
15:24	 Awnyy	vote
15:25	 yachi	HIS CORPSE
	 Awnyy	dont self
15:27	 triasian	self ^_^
15:28	 yachi	nl
glow votes yachi

- This was actually one of the games that I looked at originally and thought that there was reasonable cause for a cheating violation because of that self vote.

- The 180'd read on skydemon14 from D1 to D2 is stated here:

- This is 3 minutes into the day, which is a reasonable amount of time for her to reevaluate her reads and figure out what's going on. Keep in mind that she had the yachi flip and the triasian (doctor) night kill to work with as well. More reasoning for the changed read is in the first comment in this section. She also ends up scumreading Awnny because of the way that he led on yachi with "bad reasoning", which is legitimate and makes sense given what happened in the game:

- Nevertheless, the fact that yachi would self vote and allow herself to get lynched over glow on the ML is suspicious and hasn't been explained. I'd really like to hear more from them about that.
- Based on the gameplay alone it's not necessarily cheating, but it's possible that yachi let herself get lynched on the ML and ended up telling glow the mafia team. This is supported by the way that glow's reads change from D1 to D2.

Game 3 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5431793>

Yachi/jake/glow. Glows maf, yachi is blue, jakes doc. James is on Yachi, the town, of course. He wants to lynch nighttimeguy, a blue, yachi wants to lynch the other maf incompetentpigeon. Anyway, after another blue is killed its basically these three that have power over the game, they end up townreading tartosis who claimed doc first, then claimed cop and inevitably the other maf is lynched. Then yachi instantly votes glow in lylo for the clear to hammer. Town wins, could be cheating

Yachi response

"yachi wants to lynch the other maf incompetentpigeon" are you surprised I wanted to lynch someone that ended up being mafia? does that constitute as cheating? What the fuck? "they end up townreading tartosis who claimed doc first, then claimed cop" Tartosis softened as cop, which I failed to see until it was pointed out, so I unvoted. "hen yachi instantly votes glow in lylo for the clear to hammer." Are you seriously this stupid or did you just not even read the game. It was me or glow for mafia as Tartosis was clear. Obviously I would vote my cc.

Glow response

"they end up townreading tartosis who claimed doc first, then claimed cop and inevitably the other maf is lynched." - I'm mafia in this game. Going against a cop that everyone else who is town already believes doesn't really seem like a good play to me. This leaves incompetentpigeon to be lynched, but honestly, I thought I could pull it off in the 3-way the next day. I guess I was wrong, but siding against Tartosis probably would've made it even more obvious that I was mafia.

"Then yachi instantly votes glow in lylo for the clear to hammer. Town wins, could be cheating" - Well, I'd assume yachi is instantly voting me in lylo because I'm her direct cc. Can't really blame her for doing that. Considering the fate of this game fell on Tartosis, I find it hard to believe that you really think this is evidence of cheating. I don't think I made it blatantly clear to anyone that I was mafia, so I obviously wasn't throwing for yachi, and I played to my win-condition. Unless you're accusing Tartosis of cheating, then this game is completely insignificant.

Thoughts

- I can't really see conclusive issue of cheating in this game. If the three are cheating together, who jakerton is on is actually irrelevant because glow would be leading the kill anyways. Moving on, it actually looks like yachi is trying to determine if either jakerton or nightmeguy is mafia by specifically asking nightmeguy questions. The fos on incompetentpigeon seems random, but it looks like she is trying to avoid making the decision between jakerton/night. Incompetent claims cop and no one really fights the lynch on night. Who maf hook/kill that night seems to primarily be up to incompetent and he gets lynched the next day which isn't really surprising considering incompetentpigeon claims cop on D1 for no reason. They cross at D3 because they are CC's and Tartosis hammers. If cheating was to be going on, I would believe it'd be in favor of yachi, but glow seems to try to actually win this CC here but is forced to cross by Tartosis.
- Tartosis absolutely smashes incompetentpigeon in this CC by the way, so it's not unreasonable for them to end up townreading him. Most of the thoughts that I had were expressed in the comment above. This game doesn't feel like cheating, though if there is any cheating it's glow throwing for yachi by bussing her partner on the 5 way. I don't blame her for doing that though because even mafia should have "realized" that Tartosis was obvious town in the cop claims and bussed incompetentpigeon off as fast as possible.

Game 4 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5431760>

jake cop, yachi town, glow maf w/ night. jake votes night really fast into the day, four minutes. Yachi outs some great read like sin/night/legal completely excludign the possibility of her friends being mafia.

Yachi response

god forbid I didn't out one of my friends as a sr day one.

Glow response

Again, I'm mafia this game. It makes sense for me to lynch tartosis, as he isn't my mafia partner. legalsec ends up vegging, and the game is unranked. Not really sure how this is evidence of cheating either. yachi and jakerton didn't think I was mafia, nor did anyone else fos me. Is this supposed to indicate that they are throwing for me? I feel like the only thing this game shows is that we aren't role-sharing. I'm not really sure what your basis for thinking this game involves cheating is, and obviously you aren't too sure either, as you didn't include any reasons in your pastebin.

Thoughts

- Not much to really say about this game since it doesn't really continue long enough to generate any evidence towards cheating or not cheating. Voting fast by jake doesn't really mean much; he is a cop with an alive report and could've avoided lynching his report and also tried not to PR tell.
- You could say that yachi is playing towards her friends' favors by not scumreading either of them on the ML, but it doesn't look like many people are taking D1 seriously; yachi/glow/jakerton/sinead are more interested in circlejerking than playing mafia and Tartosis starts off the day by dumbtelling to "fit in" with the table and then mentions something about the players being dodge-worthy, and eventually gets to the point of being lynched as doctor without claiming his role.
- This game is inconclusive, as it doesn't last enough to provide definitive cheating/non-cheating tells and the first day is more of a circlejerk party than a mafia game.

Game 5 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5429173>

glow maf, yachi blue, basically yachis first read of the day is literally both mafia after being on the phone with her friend for the majority of the day, failing to properly read the game i assume. yet she doesnt push nor vote them, ends up lynching shivyp. then glow vegges lmfao idek why she had a full minute to vote after her last comment

Yachi response

"basically yachis first read of the day is literally both mafia after being on the phone with her friend for the majority of the day, failing to properly read the game i assume. yet she doesnt push nor vote them, ends up lynching shivyp." The "14:24yachi glow/kai maf??" was just an observation from their interactions. Like, they were both pushing on Shivyp, and from my understanding, glow and kai haven't played enough games together to be interacting THAT much. I thought that was weird but I didn't really have any real basis to that other than what I had just said, so it was more of a joke.

Glow response

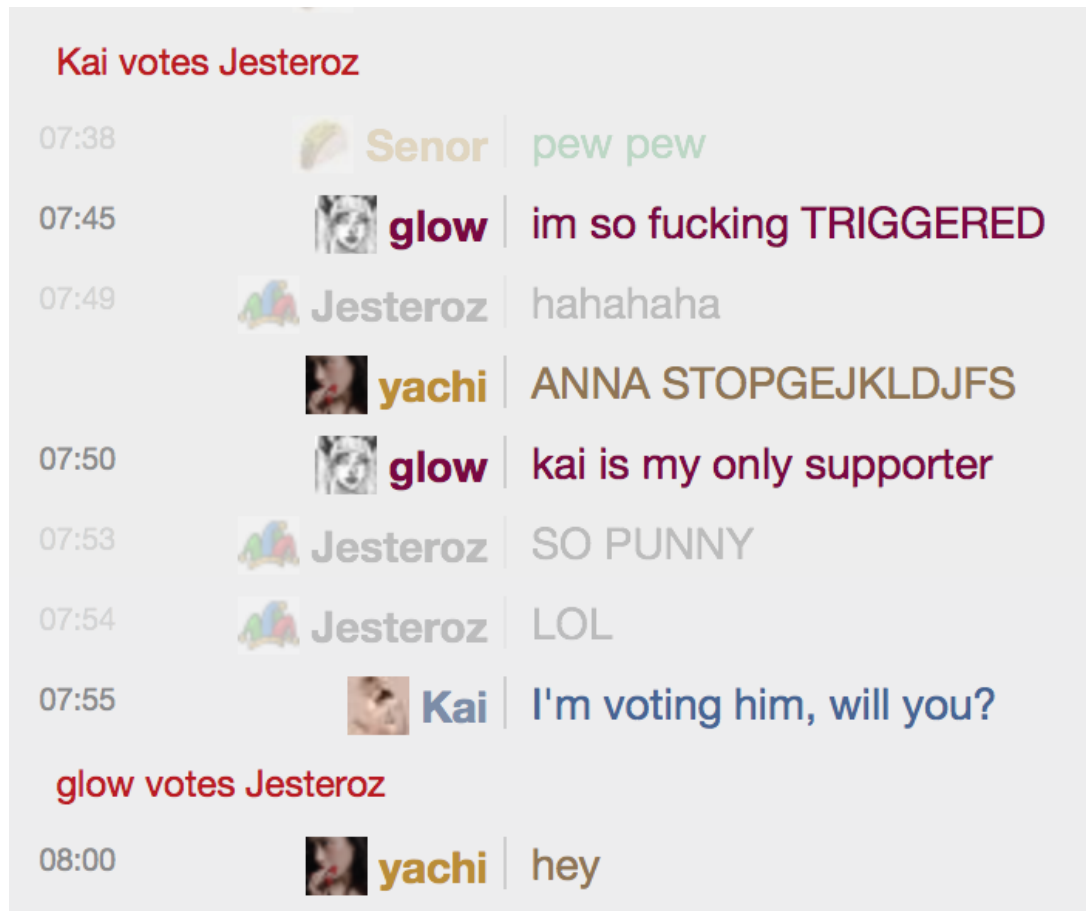

I'm mafia again with Kai. Kai leads the town with a lynch on Jester0z, which I sheep (jokingly), which yachi finds suspicious, prompting her to say "Kai/glow maf??" This is most likely a joke from her, due to the fact that she doesn't push on us and is content to lynch Shivyp. As for why I vegged, I was honestly listening to this amazing bop, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3Q12xOukVAI>, which I linked in the game, and didn't see the game had been kicked. Again, not really sure how this game shows that we are cheating, I veg, the game goes unranked, me and yachi are obviously not playing to the other's win condition... I'm honestly getting a bit tired of explaining away these baseless accusations.

Thoughts

- The glow/Kai mafia line is here:

14:17		Jester0z	i have nothing left to say
14:18		Jester0z	so
14:21		Jester0z	either unvote
14:24		yachi	glow/kai maf??
14:25		Senor	i really don't want to lynch a possible pr
		Jester0z	or lynch the doc

- It looks more like a joke backed by an observation of their voting patterns than an actual read, which is explained in yachi's response and can be seen here in the game:

- Glow vegging doesn't mean anything when it comes to this investigation.
- It looks like the accusation is that glow told yachi that she and Kai were the mafia, and that yachi brings this up but doesn't end up trying to lynch either of them. It's a bit of a stretch, considering that yachi's read that glow and Kai were mafia together was stated the way that it was stated (with multiple question marks following it). I don't think this is a conclusive game, seeing as it never got to a point where it was LYLO and that their actions would be more important then.

Game 6 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5433133>

yachi sees glow die n1, metaclears herself, says she has aids, please someone retract and that's it, no reads, no nothing at all not even a basic idea that she may be scumhunting. then she townreads sin day 2, doesn't explain why. tells four to stop pushing on her, then says "four is quiet now, nice" then she says she townreads horace over four more. how in the world is someone going from literally no reads, to proper reads in a matter of one night. really over silly reasons too, so yeah suggests cheating / gy vision

Yachi response

"yachi sees glow die n1, metaclears herself, says she has aids, please someone retract and that's it" okay but fr this is the funniest thing I've ever seen. "then she townreads sin day 2, doesn't explain why." Are you accusing me of cheating with sineadiio too? "tells four to stop pushing on her, then says "four is quiet now, nice" then she says she townreads horace over four more. how in the world is someone going from literally no reads, to proper reads in a matter of one night." Four was pushing on me as maf, it's happened before, so I sr'd him. I didn't have any reads day one, true, but that was until four started pushing on me and when I started to actually pay attention.

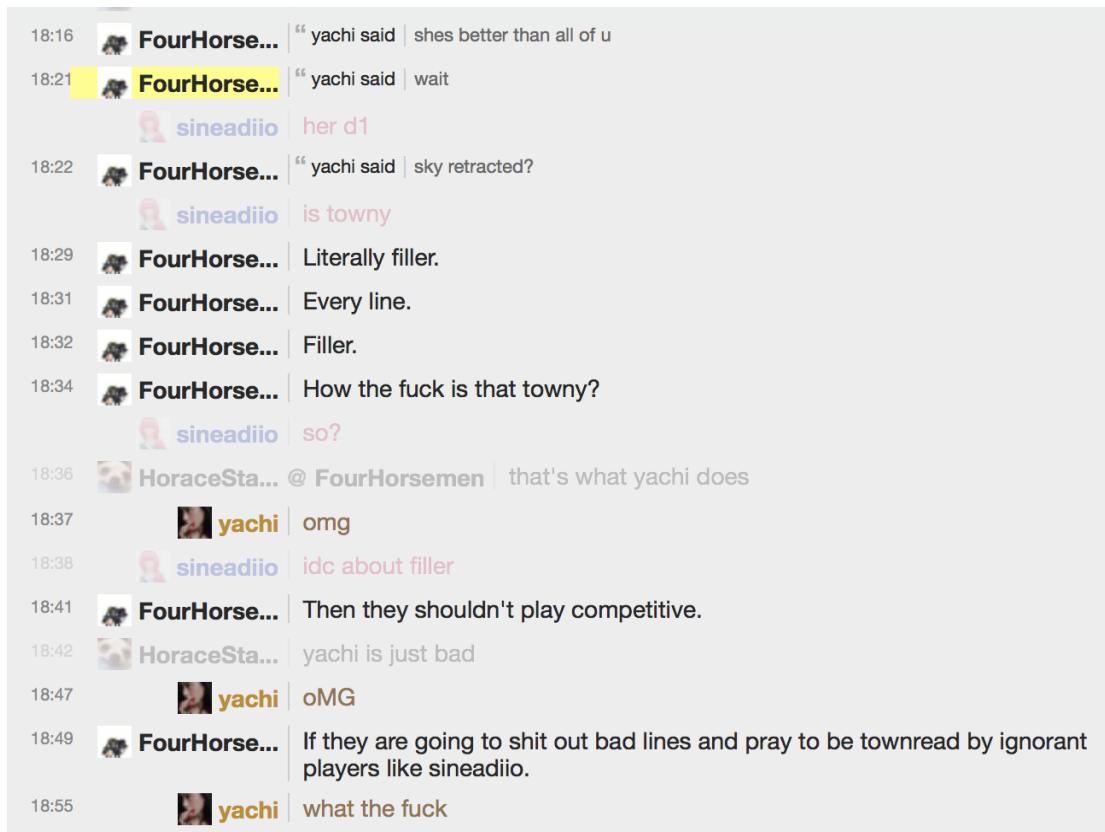

Glow response

As stated previously, I'm not really going to speak for yachi in this pastebin, but I'm just going to make a general observation that town manages to lynch mafia on the first day, and sineadiio and yachi tr each on the second day. I don't think it's insane for yachi to fos four for pushing on her, and sineadiio agrees with the lynch. Are you making the accusation that I'm also cheating with sineadiio, as she also correctly votes the mafia? Not sure how this is indicative of gy vision when there were valid reasons for four to be lynched presented by all of town.

Thoughts

- I don't think there was anything suspicious about lynching the godfather on D1 who CC'd the cop because he got fake guiltied by the doctor.
- This is another game where yachi goes from relatively nothing on the ML day to decent scumhunter on later days. It doesn't immediately suggest cheating but I'll look at some of her other games without glow/jakerton and check for consistency as far as this goes.

- Yachi's FoS on FourHorsemen is reinforced after this series of lines:

- It's not unreasonable to FoS someone who is trying to paint you as mafia, so for yachi to try to get FourHorsemen lynched can be attributed to that rather than cheating/gy vision. This sort of OMGUS play is something that she's done in other games as well.
- The accusation is that glow (N1'd) communicated with yachi (town) and told her the mafia after seeing who it was during N2. Based on what I've seen in this game I can't rule out the idea, but there is plausible reasoning for her vote in the game and in the thoughts that she explained further in her response. She mentioned that FourHorsemen tends to push on her more when he's mafia and she's town and used that meta to inform her read on him.

Game 7 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5435609>

glow is cop who dies n1, yachi is blue, the report was denial inno.. so.. anyway, yachi says glow was fearkilled - basically just using meta to clear herself again lmao, then asks denial if he's maf, he said no. "o ok wtf i dont want this" when shes offered hammer. and then only speaks to denial for the rest of the day, NO OTHER READS NO CONTENT and just ... outside of that. "denial vote" like, why are you only speaking to the person who had the inno report on them, lol... yachi clears herself d2, votes bigballsbernie 2 minutes into the next day. she literally expressed no scumread on this guy prior to this. then she asks "why do you even tr me imhere" as if its so sketchy that he is, which i find to be funny because thats the other scum. then thecolonel is voted and she says id rather get big balls. anyway, he gets lynched. she then asks him why he fos'd bernie (the other maf, imhere) but didnt vote until the end. somehow this is groundbreaking material, to fos someone but then hesitate on the vote. as if the bus is completely nulled out because of that. nah i really doubt it was that easy, so yeah also cheating

HEY NICE SUMMARY OF THE GAME, POSER. "then she asks "why do you even tr me imhere" as if its so sketchy that he is, which i find to be funny because thats the other scum." I was genuinely curious as to why I was tr'd, so I asked? What the fuck is this reaching. "thecolone... because i don't think yachi and Imhereandyounot are both mafia" I didn't lead this lynch, I was the 3rd person to vote BIGBALLSBERNIE who was mafia

Glow response

Again, not going to speak for yachi or her actions, but I will point out some inconsistencies in your summary of this game. You state that yachi was only talking to denial all of day 1, which is true, but most of the time they weren't talking about game related material, so I don't see how this has anything to do with my report. She obviously wasn't talking to him to try to get a read, unless you count asking about rat emotes as cheating? Also, my report was that denial was inno. Considering there's a gf and millers in this game, my report means absolutely nothing. thecolonel votes bernie immediately, gives his reasons for doing so, and bernie ends up getting lynched. Again, not sure how yachi sheepling a vote indicates that she's cheating. You also state, "then she asks "why do you even tr me imhere" as if its so sketchy that he is, which i find to be funny because thats the other scum." and "she then asks him why he fos'd bernie (the other maf, imhere) but didnt vote until the end." I'm not really sure what you want yachi to do. When she doesn't participate, you assume she's cheating. When she does interact with people and try to get reads, you also assume she's cheating. Your logic is flawed and stupid, but whatever. I'm sure yachi will go more in depth on her decisions in this game in her own pastebin.

Thoughts

- game 7 is by far the most scummy one, and there might be a slight chance of they're cheating, because she kinda went 2/2 but never ousted reads or anything.. the last hammer on inhere especially, since thecolonel got bbb lynched, it didn't seem yachi did a lot, but she never opposed thinking bbb could be town or anything.. plus the last hammer was also perfectly correct, so idk if that was just luck or someone cheating involved
- Denial was the inno and yachi allowed him to get lynched without much resistance, which suggests that she doesn't know glow's cop report (lynching the inno D1 is pretty suboptimal).
- Yachi voted BIGBALLSBERNIE second on the 5 way initially, after thecolonel started a vote on him. Her only vote on D1 was a vote on denial that she never removed; she also didn't mention any reads, even up to D2, until she asks the hooker why he townreads her. It appears that she piggybacks on to thecolonel's reasoning for voting bern:

12:51  the colonel... yachi and glow are joined at the hip

12:54  DixonTico... what hypo

12:56  yachi hello

 the colonel... DixonTiconderoga2 and Imhereandyounot have both towntold

12:59  yachi i cleared myself

13:01  the colonel... bernie is mafia

- It's reasonable enough to sheep that kind of logic, so the question is whether or not she votes right despite apparently not participating much, only saying these two things on the 5 way before her initial vote

12:56  yachi | hello

 the colonel... | DixonTiconderoga2 and Imhereandyounot have both towntold

12:59  yachi | i cleared myself

- When she gets voted she tells the people voting her to get off of her and that she's present, reading, and that she wouldn't N1 glow. The only scumhunting that she apparently does on the 5 way is:

16:20  yachi | why do u even tr me

16:23  the colonel... | and if yachi killed glow to c

16:24  DixonTico... | so the colonel

 yachi | imhere

- During the 3 way, this interaction happens:

28:51  yachi | imhere why did u push on bernie

28:52  Imhereand... | nice

28:58  yachi | even tho u were last to vote both days

29:09  Imhereand... @ yachi | because he was scummier than the rest with constant filler lines and just a bad rub off one me

- I don't want to say that every time she hammers mafia correctly that it's because she's being told the mafia from the graveyard, but it's true that to be spot on two days in a row with the amount of effort that yachi showed in this game feels weird. This was after a relatively horrid D1 where she was either the first or second vote on the mislynched villager. Prior to the 5 way and 3 way, yachi expressed no reads either, but it's not out of the question for her to be reading the game and scumhunting during that time.

- This game is worth noting for the change in yachi's mafia-finding ability from the 7 way ML (where glow didn't yet know the mafia) into the 5 way and 3 way (after glow would have known the mafia). It doesn't look like she personally tries much harder, but at the same time the other towns did step up their games and give her someone to sheep to victory (thecolonel in particular), so it's possible that she just latched onto him and went with his reads for the 5 way, and then hammered correctly in a 50/50 on 3-way for whatever reason she FoS'd the mafia.

Game 8 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5437734>

yachi is blue, glow is cop w/ inno on leet. these two interact as if they know the other is town, plus none fos leet nor do i even see an attempt to soft the inno report which is pretty bad to do. glow then checks blackster, which honestly at this rate why don't you check your friends if they "always filler" is a good question? but whatever, she got hooked andd they lynch blackstar, why yachi was never an fos is completely amazing to me, what did she even do to be townread yet you never stated the townread at all.

Yachi response

Okay, you only talked about glow in this.

Glow response

None.

Thoughts

- game 8 glow wanted black d1 too, and after she claimed cop, she did that, and it was almost auto, yeah she never tried to read yachi, and yachi never said anything to get tr, but it doesn't show a lot of evidence of role sharing imo
- she was so sure on black d2, with not trying to read yachi as maf is kinda sus, but then, we should keep in mind that she was hooked d2, and so decided to lynch her sr
- The accusation here is that glow and yachi are role sharing and hence treated each other like town the entire time.
- Outside of a superficial interaction on D1 and agreement with a read that yachi outs on blackstar12, glow and yachi didn't talk to each other much. Does this suggest role sharing? Possibly, but if glow knows that yachi is town through role-sharing I think it would make more sense for her to say that so that Leeet has a better chance of winning the game for them in 3 way (he mishammers, lynching yachi over LakSZN). Perhaps she was expecting the doctor to die so that she herself could hammer the win for them, but that's at best a 50/50 coin-flip that's up to the mafia to decide (hook doc and kill cop versus hook cop and kill doc). For this reason I don't believe that this is conclusive evidence of role-sharing, as there were more steps that they could have, and probably should have, taken if they were role-sharing and wanted to guarantee their mutual town win.

- This game shows glow townreading yachi for superficial reasons, but perhaps not a very strong townread as she never makes it explicit to the rest of the town. If she routinely gives an inordinate amount of benefit of the doubt to yachi and jakerton, there's a case for meta abuse. As it stands, this game is only noteworthy for the fact that the two players didn't interact very much and generally played with the assumption that the other was town.

Game 9 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5438428>

yachi is doc, jake/glow blue they're all town and so easily just bandwagon the outsider skydemon in an instant as if neither of them can be mafia, this is insane. day two yachi doc dies, skydemon has the amazing idea to tell her both mafia and guess what? glow says "tbh lynch kann this game is cancer tabbing out" perhaps you should say why you feel these things instead of just being confident immediately about scum when being given info from skype. . jakerton: okay lets get kann. this person didnt need to be convinced at all, how about "why is kann mafia"???? how about why didnt you feel this way yesterday. "we have nothing else to go off of" he says.. that's why you create content dude, its competitive mafia, you dont just do whatever. day 3 speaks for itself, they had the most brief little questioning to each other. is it you? no. is it you? no. okay, great, guess we know who it is, don't convince me, don't tell me why hes mafia, we already know its him! WHY? THERES NO REASON TO KNOW THIS..... god this is obvious, yes its cheating. on the very slight chance that this is not cheating, this is gamethrowing because you are refusing to fos your friends very much on purpose, but no, its cheating

Yachi response

This was about glow and jakerton.

Glow response

"they're all town and so easily just bandwagon the outsider skydemon in an instant as if neither of them can be mafia, this is insane." - Just going to make a statement here before addressing this that the language you're using in this pastebin is extremely misleading. You obviously didn't look at these games objectively, and assumed we were cheating due to an unwarranted vio given to us a month ago. Moving on, skydemon starts a bw on Jord for absolutely no reason, which I find to be suspicious. Jord suggest a reverse bw, which I personally thought was a good idea due to his vague read on Jord and his fake cop claim. The rest of the town seems to agree with this as well, and skydemon is lynched. It's not that we didn't consider that each other could be mafia, in fact, I didn't out any reads but the one on skydemon. By this logic, everyone I don't fos d1, I'm cheating with, which is everyone but skydemon...

"glow says "tbh lynch kann this game is cancer tabbing out" perhaps you should say why you feel these things instead of just being confident immediately about scum when being given info from skype." - Honestly, this statement makes no sense. I guess you could make the argument that I wasn't trying, even though I had a sr on kann based on his first statement of d2, and had already had a slight sr on him d1, but saying I'm receiving info over skype? yachi had just died, she wouldn't have known who the mafia was, what info am I supposed to be receiving? Stupid statements like this are what make this whole case a complete joke.

"day 3 speaks for itself, they had the most brief little questioning to each other. is it you? no. is it you? no. okay, great, guess we know who it is, don't convince me, don't tell me why hes mafia, we already know its him! WHY? THERES NO REASON TO KNOW THIS....." - If you bothered to read the game, I'm sure you would find that I did provide evidence for why I fos'd Jord instead of jakerton. Jord asks kann17 if he is pr, trying to avert the kann17 lynch that was happening on d2. Both prs are dead by this point. Jord is also the last one to vote kann on d2, and is the only one who wasn't content with lynching kann. Sorry if this isn't a reason enough to fos him for you, but this is what I based my vote off of, not on knowing that jakerton was town through rolesharing.

Thoughts

- I don't think it's cheating since they couldn't screen cheat and also Jord was guilty D1. But it may be role sharing!
- Jord (mafia) votes jakerton first in 3 way LYLO, after which jakerton quickly crosses with him to let glow hammer.
- Both PRs were dead when D2 started and there were no votes up when Jord asked kann17 if he was a PR, so I don't think he was trying to keep kann17 from getting lynched. If anything this was them forcing an interaction.
- Glow lynched jakerton's CC in the 3 way pretty quickly, after at most 40 seconds of having the hammer. Glow quotes some of Jord's lines (from D2) during this time, which suggests that she's re-reading and trying to find tells to help her hammer.
 - Alternatively, she's just quoting some random lines to distance cheating and make it look like she has a legitimate reason for the hammer.
- It's suspicious that after just a short bit of shallow interaction jakerton would just give up the hammer that easily to glow. He crosses with Jord after about 20 seconds of being voted by him in the 3 way.
- The lines at the beginning of the 3 way made it feel like glow and jakerton were both set on lynching the other person unconditionally. Yes, it could be a joke/light hearted banter, but it feels like neither player put much thought into the vote through what can be read on the 3 way alone.
- There's a decent chance of glow/jakerton role sharing going on here, and if not that then a very good chance of meta abuse going on because of what we see on 3 way. Part of the reasoning provided in glow's response (Jord trying to avert to kann17 lynch) looks like after-the-fact reasoning that was composed looking back on the game rather than something that actually crossed her mind during the game itself. I showed that this bit of reasoning was untrue above, as it was just a bit of forced interaction combined with some dumbtelling from Jord.

Game 10 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5438464>

yachi is doc, on glow, yet never check each other as cop which is weird imo but jakerton is godfather. They really don't out any reads and somehow manage to get Irreverent lynched who is town. jleds tries to metaclear himself, glow questions it and dismisses it, because she foses jake and laser,, both mafia. i dont see how someone attempting to metaclear themselves can fly under the radar. theres literally like, just no fight here, at all. glow isnt scumread by jake either. he doesn't even try to fight it. it's pathetic and glow insta votes the last maf in lylo, hardly tries to convince jleds who isn't even clear at all nor prove himself as town. how is it that these users can just say they hate the game and that they dont want to be in it and just filler, then suddenly they know the mafia and do it carelessly. . town wins

Yachi response

Again, I wasn't talked about.

Glow response

"They really don't out any reads and somehow manage to get Irreverent lynched who is town." - Irreverent is lynched d1 because of kicks, after I try to get people to unvote so that I can actually get some reads. Not much content was being said this game, and I didn't have a lot to base my reads off of. Jeff says he's cop and to vote Irreverent, and with no cc, I follow his vote. I initially vote jleds, but after his statements he appears to be towny, so I unvote, which I say multiple times in this game.

"jleds tries to metaclear himself, glow questions it and dismisses it, because she foses jake and laser,, both mafia." - If you read the game, you would understand that jleds wasn't actually trying to metaclear himself. He says he's metaclear because he hasn't grs'd, and then explicitly states that he's trying to make a joke. I dismiss it after I realize he's not making a serious statement, I don't think that's too crazy to do. After slightly tr jleds from d1, I fos jake and laser, but say that I am more sure about laser. The rest of town is already voting jake. I didn't lead the lynch on this, and since jake is already one of my fos, I'm fine with voting him. Jake wasn't trying to save himself, so it was pretty obvious that he was mafia.

"it's pathetic and glow insta votes the last maf in lylo, hardly tries to convince jleds who isn't even clear at all nor prove himself as town." - No one is clear on d3, both jleds and I think that laser is mafia. I don't have to convince jleds that laser is mafia, because they already think so themselves based on the previous days. I explain that I tr jleds, which I've stated above, and by poe, and his play, that makes laser mafia. Are you insinuating that I'm cheating with jleds because I didn't fos him? Are you saying that jleds is also cheating with jake because he believed that laser is mafia? Again, your summary conveniently leaves out key points of the game to try to sway the opinion of this situation. These accusations are baseless and make absolutely no sense.

Thoughts

- Jakerton does not put much effort into resisting his lynch on the 5 way. He votes his partner who is bussing him and says "die rat" halfway through the day and doesn't say anything for the last 3 minutes of the day, even while a bandwagon builds on him.
- LaserVP is glow's stronger scumread from the 5 way, so voting him immediately in the 3 way is consistent as far as her reads and actions are concerned.
- Glow doesn't out any reads on the first day and correctly points out the two mafia in 4.5 minutes on the second day. Yachi is clear the second day as doctor and hammers jakerton after all the votes are on him, including his partner's.
- It's not out of the question for yachi and glow to correctly FoS jakerton, as they're friends and should be able to read each other decently. Is it possible that they're role sharing? This game suggests the possibility but it's not conclusive.
- This game is an example of jakerton trying less when he knows that glow and yachi are both on the opposite alignment. It's something to keep in mind, but not outrageously suspicious.

Game 11 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5439579>

jakerton is maf and yolo leads onto glow for literally no reason, yachi tries to lynch jakerton briefly instead bc shes town, the woman gets lynched anyway and then the next day she foses jakerton and INSTA VOTES him.. .. like, why is it that you two never interact unless you have to because you're different alignments and one inevitably has to win? and this is just nuts, theres no reason to think hes maf, plus she never explains herself. nobody does. and then yachi somehow manages to name his second maf partner! WHOA duuuude, total skill. so confident that edwin is second mafia. god, this is almost not interesting anymore because its that easy

Yachi response

Not sure if you caught this but the first thing jake said was "jakerton okay then lets lynch AWAY! 04:14jakerton glow is aids 04:16jakerton get her" so I wanted to flip the vote onto him. Day two, jake didn't even say anything in regards to glow being town. I auto voted jakerton at day start for what happened day one. "theres no reason to think hes maf, plus she never explains herself." Okay, I wanna say something right here that applies to every game. You disregard all of my other games that glow and jakerton aren't in. Why? You try to justify that my play-style or whatever was only limited to these games with my friends. It isn't. I literally play like this in every single game. My lack of providing reasoning isn't something that you can call out as cheating because it's not glow/jakerton game exclusive. I'm going to leave finding games where I'm not playing with jakerton or glow up to you since I can't do that. So, before you try to make up shit about how I'm cheating based off of that fact, you should probably look at how I've played/done the same exact thing in previous games.

"and then yachi somehow manages to name his second maf partner! WHOA duuuude, total skill. so confident that edwin is second mafia." Edwin was defending jake, and was really bad at it, while simultaneously pushing the lynch on me. If this isn't a reason to think someone is mafia then I really don't know what is.

Glow response

"jakerton is maf and yolo leads onto glow for literally no reason, yachi tries to lynch jakerton briefly instead bc shes town, the woman gets lynched anyway and then the next day she foses jakerton and INSTA VOTES him.. .." - Not sure how it's relevant that jakerton is yolo leading onto me. He's mafia, he doesn't really need a reason to want to lynch a town, that's how he wins the game. I state after this that the bw on me for no reason (followed by the whole town btw), is extremely suspicious, and that everyone who is voting me is mafia. yachi tries to flip the votes onto jake for starting the bw, which is a perfectly reasonable thing to do. yachi immediately votes the person she wanted to lynch yesterday, jakerton, and states it's because everyone was voting glow yesterday and jakerton is the one who started the bw. Again, I think this is a perfectly valid reason to want to lynch someone after they started a yolo lynch on town. edwin also pushes on yachi, causing her to fos him as well. D3, Brenda is unccd doc, and she trs yachi. They end up lynching edwin because of this. Whatever, I'm not going to explain yachi's actions, but to me, they seem perfectly sound and I'm not sure why you're trying to spin them in a way to make her seem like she cheated.

Thoughts

- Interesting contrast to the previous game. Jakerton, as mafia, gets glow mislynched on the ML.
- Yachi thinks jakerton is mafia from the day before because he started a bandwagon on glow (town) for no reason, ostensibly. It's not out of the question that rolesharing/communication outside of the game happened and that she was told the mafia, as she went from having no reads to suddenly being sure of jakerton's alignment. At the same time, though, getting the ML out of the way and seeing whom the mafia chose to kill can shed a lot of light on the situation and it's not out of the question for her to have the read that she had on jakerton.
- As for the read on edwin0256, it looks like she just OMGUS'd him and called him mafia because he was saying that she was "obvious." Again, it's possible that she was told the mafia, but it's not unreasonable to have the read that she had without cheating.
- Is it suspicious that yachi is so incredibly sure of the two mafia on the second day when on the first day she seemed relatively clueless? Perhaps. It's true that there's very little explanation of either read (on jakerton and on edwin0526). She just says that they're mafia and pushes on them without explaining why. This would be more suspicious if she puts more effort into her reads and explains her logic in games without glow and jakerton, so I'll look into a few of those to see.

- Overall, this game is worth noting for the sudden shift in yachi's gameplay between the first and second days - she goes from apparently not having a clue about the game (with half of her lines on the first day being about cheese and the other half attempting to stop a bandwagon on glow) to being sure of both mafia on the second day.

Game 12 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5446913>

kek, just kek. glows nilla and yachi goes on janitor as journalist. roughly forty seconds went on between the first maf msg and the journ vote, thats enough time to be told janitor, in fact that could have been done in half the time too. anyway he gets shot, glow barely talks and fillers, next day she gets yhwh guilty from brownpimps cop report. next day she dies, admits that glows d1 was bad yet voiced no concern over it. why even ask who it is? you know who it is. "i figured" - then say something before you die.

Yachi response

I'm lumping these 2 games together [913 and 967] bc they both apply to what I'm gna say. "next day she dies, admits that glows d1 was bad yet voiced no concern over it. why even ask who it is? you know who it is. "i figured" - then say something before you die." Okay, from my experience playing with glow, I can say when she's mafia she tries A LOT harder than she normally does as town. Also, she uses "....." a lot. In the previous game, where glow was mafia and I was lynched but didn't say anything, she same thing that she normally does as mafia in this game, which is why I sr'd her. I didn't say anything because it's not something I can depend on alone, and it varies with each game. Me saying "I figured" was just from that observation alone.

Glow response

This game shows absolutely no evidence of cheating. Both yachi and I played to our win conditions. Maybe I wasn't playing the best as mafia, but I certainly wasn't trying to get lynched, and yachi outed all of her journ reports. I don't understand if you're trying to make the statement that I'm throwing for yachi, or that yachi is throwing for me. Either way, you can't even begin to make a case as to how we cheated in this game. I end up losing, yachi ends up winning, but the outcome of the game was due to ThinkPad's hammer. Did ThinkPad cheat because he knew I was mafia? Another game further proving that this is a joke of a pastebin. I feel like you didn't even read these games.

Thoughts

- It looks like the accusation here is that glow told yachi who the janitor was so that yachi could catch him with her first journalist report. If that's the case, then the game should turn out in favor of yachi. During the 5 way, the sheriff wanted to lynch in Jesterz and glow (the two unclears) when yachi was still alive. If yachi already knows that glow is mafia, she had the option to lead on glow in the 5 way for autowin in the 3 way. She doesn't do this, however, and defers the responsibility for the 3 way hammer to ThinkPad, the sheriff. She mentions in the GY chat during that 3 way that "she figured" that glow was mafia based on her D1, but didn't say anything to that effect while she was still alive. If she's being thrown for to win this game, she would probably put more effort into winning the game herself rather than relying on someone else to hammer correctly in a 50/50.

- If we consider cheating from another angle, where they're mutually playing towards each other's win conditions, then we can perhaps make the statement that yachi wants glow to win here because she doesn't want to be alive to have to hammer her as mafia, but this is a stretch. We'd have to infer from her lines on the 5 way that she didn't want to be the one responsible for making glow lose, but she appeared to be playing towards her own win condition while she was alive in this game, outside of not outing the FoS on glow for her D1.
- At any rate, ThinkPad ultimately decides the outcome of this game and it doesn't look like he was cheating with anyone. Glow puts about as much effort into the 3 way as Jesterz (her town CC) did and ends up getting lynched. If she's throwing for yachi she probably would have tried less and just allowed Jesterz to make his points without any rebuttal or attempting to convince ThinkPad herself.
- All things considered, the specific thing in question here is whether or not glow and yachi role shared, and whether or not glow told yachi who the janitor was so that yachi could find it with her N1 journalist check. It's possible, but it's not obvious. Yachi reacts to her report in a relatively calm fashion, stating that "yo lil is jan" and "yw" without much ornamentation to go with it. It's not enough for me to say that she reacted entirely organically and that she was "genuinely surprised" or "excited" about catching the janitor, but it's also not too forced or awkward enough to suggest that she already knew his role beforehand. As I mentioned earlier, if they're role sharing for yachi to win, she probably would have outed at least an FoS on glow during the 5 way before she was killed.

Game 13 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5446967>

this game yachi scumreads glow the mafia, and for what? she does really nothing different, she was just needing to lynch yachi because thats what everyone else wanted. she also scumreads a town but says "I don't necessarily townread irreverent" who is the partner.

Yachi response

I'm lumping these 2 games together [913 and 967] bc they both apply to what I'm gna say. "next day she dies, admits that glows d1 was bad yet voiced no concern over it. why even ask who it is? you know who it is. "i figured" - then say something before you die." Okay, from my experience playing with glow, I can say when she's mafia she tries A LOT harder than she normally does as town. Also, she uses "....." a lot. In the previous game, where glow was mafia and I was lynched but didn't say anything, she same thing that she normally does as mafia in this game, which is why I sr'd her. I didn't say anything because it's not something I can depend on alone, and it varies with each game. Me saying "I figured" was just from that observation alone.

"this game yachi scumreads glow the mafia, and for what? she does really nothing different, she was just needing to lynch yachi because thats what everyone else wanted. she also scumreads a town but says "I don't necessarily townread irreverent" who is the partner." - You even admit here that I'm playing towards my win condition. Why is it suspicious to you when yachi sr mafia, and equally as suspicious when she sr town? Like, honestly, it seems like everything yachi does in game is suspicious to you, and I'm not really sure for what reason. Town agrees with yachi when they say that I could be suspicious, but ultimately we end up lynching yachi. I have played with Jord before, are you saying that they also should have tr me because I haven't been playing any differently? Are they also cheating? Did I tell them all I was mafia? Ultimately, I win the game, even after yachi fos'd me. Where is the evidence that we cheated? What would even be the benefit of us cheating, if I end up getting yachi lynched? I'm playing to my win condition, I'm obviously not throwing for her. You're literally just summarizing each game, and then saying, "yea, they're cheating."

Thoughts

- At 17:04 yachi says that she thinks the remaining mafia are shy and glow. Irreverent and glow are the actual mafia. From yachi's point of view there are 2 mafia in glow, shy1520, and Irreverent, which means that glow is mafia to her with a $\frac{2}{3}$ chance. It's not an unreasonable FoS to have in that situation.
- Glow appears to be playing towards her win condition this game. The cheating accusation here would be that she shared her role with yachi and told her who the mafia were, or that yachi was playing towards glow's win condition.
 - Yachi doesn't look like she's playing towards glow's win condition. Glow is the first person on her list of scumreads each time she outs them (17:04 and 17:40). She fights the incorrect bandwagon on her while it grows but the cop doesn't change his mind. There's not much she can do about that.
 - If glow told yachi that she was mafia, then perhaps yachi distanced from the cheating by having an incorrect FoS in blues rather than the second mafia. This is a stretch, however, because glow appears to be the person that put the most effort into the 5 way LYLO (as mafia). If she wants to throw the game to yachi, playing that hard to win it for herself goes against the idea of role-sharing just to make herself lose. If you were incredibly paranoid you might say that glow role-shared with yachi and hence needed to get her lynched on the ML, but she fights against the yachi ML (16:45), so that theory doesn't really add up either.
- This game is inconclusive. Both yachi and glow play to their own win conditions and it doesn't look like there was role-sharing going on.

Game 14 - <https://epicmafia.com/game/5437926>

jakes maf, glow is blue and inno'd, she pushes really really hard on jake and calls him obvious. i don't understand how shes so dismissive in other games, or just okay with assuming hes town when he literally does nothing, most of these are incredibly suspicious and I'm pretty damn sure this is cheating

Yachi response

None.

Glow response

"jakes maf, glow is blue and inno'd, she pushes really really hard on jake and calls him obvious. i don't understand how shes so dismissive in other games, or just okay with assuming hes town when he literally does nothing, most of these are incredibly suspicious and I'm pretty damn sure this is cheating" - If anyone wasn't convinced that this whole pastebin was total trash and that you didn't even read most of these games, they should be after this statement. I'm not even in this game, case closed.

Thoughts

- Yachi and jakerton are the ones in this game.
- Neither player generates much content by the time they get to the 5 way no clear, so it looks like yachi's FoS on jakerton comes from what amounts to thin air. Before she announces her scumread on him, he claimed clear twice and asked who the mafia were once. Granted, there were two days before this, the first where the town meandered around and figured out the sheriff was janned and then NL'd, and the second where they speed-lynched the janitor, but jakerton hadn't said much alignment-indicative content on either day.
- The content that jakerton had this game might not have earned him a scumread from yachi in another game, which suggests some inconsistency when it comes to yachi reading him.
- It's possible that there's role sharing going on here.

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5429741> - @8:55 i out my fos, mafia, and @11:28 again, i don't provide reasoning

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5431256> - my reads were wrong this game but from my interaction w prayag from 12:06- 13:02 kinda shows how i read people

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5431385> - @05:45 i want to get stayaway lynched, who is mafia & i said 2 things prior to this. I've also played a few games with dot and she has an understanding of how I play. @5:36 she says: dot "yachi has pretty decent reads literally plays this way", @ 6:17-7:01 dot says "dot have you played any with them?! dot they play the same fucking way dot it's not an alignment tell just because she isps or whatever which she doesn't even she outs reads except i guess when she's mafia". Stay say I'm isping, which I get a lot because I don't talk a lot.

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5432768> - @11:25 1/2 in my fos

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5432863> - @12:13 1/2 in my fos

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5438521> - @14:37 I want mafia lynched, @14:47 laser asks if ive even said anything, I reply with "yachi but i can read yachi between u and concise yachiid rather get laser", I don't give an explanation or anything

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5444630> - @5:27 i want mafia lynched, @6:55 my reasoning is "kann is scummy imo"

<https://epicmafia.com/game/5453971> - a game from this round @8:10 2 of the 3 people I fos'd were mafia

[10/4/16, 1:38:23 AM] jasmine: i didn't include games where i played with jakerton or glow, was mafia, or the game was basically auto & didn't have to out reads but ur welcome to go through ones that I didn't list

[10/4/16, 1:39:42 AM] jasmine: if you haven't already noticed a trend here, I get my reads mostly on whatever town says during the day. That being said, I don't really push on who I think is mafia unless their actions make it blatant, so you see me holding back a lot. I also don't try to get reads out of someone by talking to them

Closing remarks

Yachi

I've never seen such a poorly composed pastebin than yours, poser. The pastebin that got me a vio a month ago from Dyl was better than this. Honestly disappointing.

Thank you for reading
Arigatou gozaimasu~~~~~

Glow

In conclusion, this pastebin has absolutely no substance, and you're obviously reaching in every statement that you make in your inaccurate summaries of each game. I know that I'm not friends with any of the mods and I'm not going to get special treatment regarding this report, but honestly, if you even bother to read this pastebin you'll understand why this accusation is a complete joke. Apparently, playing with your friends is cheating, but you only get a violation for it if you're not buddies with the mods (i.e. calvin & annabelle).

Thoughts

This was a long ride, if you've made it here after reading everything else, congratulations. If you've skipped to the end just to read this part, that's OK too. I'll categorize the games here into 3 categories: probably cheating, noteworthy, and inconclusive. I'll mention briefly what needs to be further looked into for the noteworthy games.

Probably cheating

1. Game 2
2. Game 9

Noteworthy

1. Game 7 - yachi going from 0 to 60 on the scumhunting scale after ML day
2. Game 6 - look for more behavior akin to this in LYLO without glow/jakerton
3. Game 8 - superficial interaction when glow and yachi are both town, general play that assumes that the other person is town without evidence
4. Game 10 - jakerton selectively trying based on his, yachi's, and glow's alignments?
5. Game 11 - yachi gameplay shift between ML day and LYLO days
6. Game 14 - inconsistency in glow reading jakerton

Inconclusive

1. Game 1
2. Game 3
3. Game 4
4. Game 5
5. Game 12 - in some worlds this would be noteworthy, but I'm going to put it here
6. Game 13
