How to begin the documentation

- 1. It is suggested that you first identify the courses where each framework element has been integrated into the curriculum.
- 2. Document the assessment tool used to evaluate the student's proficiency in demonstrating the framework element.

SkillsUSA Framework Integration Documentation

Administrative note: For each SkillsUSA framework element, instructors will list the specific courses and assessment tools used to evaluate the student. Instructors are encouraged to include assessments of the framework elements across the major program area and within general education courses in the program of study. Students are expected to exhibit proficient competence in executing these framework elements. When multiple assessment tools are employed, students may be tasked with demonstrating proficiency in just one from the designated set.
