“Are you going to be a Legend or be slave to the perpetrators”?

Imagine this:

You come from a strong and powerful family lineage.

A group of strong and fearless individuals who risked their lives and did anything and everything possible to protect the nation and bring peace and justice.

They did not just do it because they felt like doing it. NO! They did it because it was their duty.

Then, you come along and decide to betray your family heritage by offering your soul to perpetrators, aiding in demolishing your nations for personal pleasure and wealth, benefiting only yourself and not your people.

Think about your nation.

Think about how your ancestors fought just for you to exist and believe that you will also fight just like how they fought for the future generations and not disappoint them.

Think of the disgust and shame not only on the face of your ancestors but on the face of the nation which was handed down to you for generations just for you to protect or die trying because it is your duty.

“But you have jeopardised it all in exchange for ephemeral wealth and momentary pleasure.”

Finally, the perpetrators will terminate YOU and DESTROY your NATION and YOUR PEOPLE in order for them to obtain the land.

Do you want to be the one who betrayed the people, or the one who sacrifices for family and nation, regardless of your personal feelings?

Do you want to be a legend by aiming for the highest echelon of humanity or settle for mediocrity?

“Choose to be a legend. Take the first step towards securing your family heritage and nation.

Click here to embrace the path of strength and duty.”
