

SL: For Nick

Hi Nick,

I came across your profile while I was researching the Dating Industry.

I must say, your Blog Posts strategy is great! I like how you craft captivating headlines that spark curiosity in readers and entice them to leave their email addresses to learn more eagerly. It's incredibly clever how you play with their dopamine levels to keep them hooked.

I am reaching out because I see that you are doing an excellent job in bringing traffic to your blogs and I wanted to show you a free new format of a " Landing Page" that you could use to increase the number of leads you are currently getting.

I have seen this format absolutely crush it in other industries, and even some top players in your niche use it.

I've attached it to this email. (There are two versions inside, choose the one you like the most and keep it)

Nick, if you think those could work for you, I have a few more ideas to increase sales for your business.

Would you be down to jump on a call so I can walk you through them?

Best,
Raul.

P.S. You can check them here too.
