Course Description

Analysis of the effects of human and physical geography on Eurasian politics and security. Topics under discussion include: the geography of the Russian and Eurasian realm; Eurasia in classical and contemporary geopolitical theories; main actors in Eurasian international relations; great powers and Eurasian geopolitics; the geopolitics of energy and climate change in Eurasia, the geopolitics of Eurasia's identity (migration, religion, culture); the geopolitics of Eurasia's core and periphery; the geopolitics of Eurasian conflicts, the geopolitics of Eurasian economy; and the geopolitics of Eurasian integration.

Course Outcomes

At the end of this course, the students will be able to:

- Apply the tools of geopolitical analysis to the Eurasian region;
- Explain the relevance of classical and contemporary geopolitical theories to international relations in Eurasia;
- Analyze the impact of various aspects of human and physical geography on Eurasian politics and security;
- Examine the domestic politics and foreign policy of the Eurasian states;
- Assess the impact of geography on great power policies in Eurasia;
- Examine the causes of Eurasian conflicts and their management;
- Explore the impact of energy/natural resources and climate change on international relations in Eurasia;

- Analyze the sources of Eurasia’s identity; the impact of factors, such as migration, religion, and culture on questions of national identity in Eurasia; and the relevance of the core-periphery relations on Eurasian international relations;
- Identify and discuss the impact of geography on the economies of regional states and the Eurasian region as a whole; and
- Identify and analyze the factors contributing to Eurasian integration.

Required Texts

Stylianos A. Sotiriou (2019). Politics and International Relations in Eurasia (Lanham; Lexington Books,).

Natalya A. Vasilyeva & Maria L. Lagutina (2016). The Russian Project of Eurasian Integration (Lanham: Lexington books).

Suggested Readings

Lance Davies (2020). Russian Conflict Management and European security Governance: Policy & Practice. (Lanham, MD: Rowman & Littlefield).

Richard YOUNGS (2017). Europe’s Eastern Crisis. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Course Requirements

Students will be evaluated on the basis of the following criteria:

Total numbers of points:	100
In-class Participation:	25 points
Daily Briefs:	50 points (10 daily briefs X 5 points each)
Final Report:	25 points

Mid-term & Final Exams

There are no mid-term and final exams for this course.

Attendance Policy

Attendance is mandatory, while in-class participation determines the 25% of the students’ final grade, attendance is mandatory. Absences, which would have a negative effect on a student’s grade, can only be justified by the submission of relevant documentation.

Classroom conduct

Classroom discussion should be open, frank, and casual. Please respect the perspectives and inquiries of your peers and instructor. Do not interrupt someone who is speaking and refrain from deliberately demeaning language or intimidating behavior.

In-class participation

Students are required to study the material assigned by the instructor on a daily basis to be able to participate in in-class discussion and debates.

Daily Briefs

Students are required to submit ten (10) brief reports based on the assigned readings. The length of these reports should not exceed the 500-word limit (single space) and they should be submitted in a hard copy.

Final Report

The final report should not exceed the 3,000-word limit and should describe how this study abroad experience (including the course material and especially the associated educational trip) has contributed to the increase of students' knowledge, personal development, experience, and employability, as well as how it has helped them to prepare for professional life and pursue successful careers.

Students with Special Needs

Students who need special assistance with note and exam taking should contact the course instructor within the first week of classes. However, those students should contact the relevant university office to obtain the necessary documentation before they meet with the course instructor. The instructor will do everything to address students' needs.

Course Evaluation

Toward the end of the semester, the online Student Perceptions of Teaching (SPOT) questionnaire (<https://eval.scholar.vt.edu>) will be used to gather feedback on particular aspects of the course and instruction. We read and consider all student comments regarding the course and instruction.

Grade Scale

Please note that for this course the applicable grade scale is as follows:

A	93-100
A-	90-92
B+	87-89
B	84-86
B-	80-83
C+	77-79
C	74-76
C-	70-73
D+	67-69
D	64-66

D- 60-63
F 0-59
F*

Please note that grades ending at .5 will be rounded up.

The F represents failure in the course. The "*" is intended to identify a student who has failed to uphold the values of academic integrity at Virginia Tech.

A student who receives a sanction of F* as their final course grade shall have it documented on their transcript with the notation "FAILURE DUE TO ACADEMIC HONOR CODE VIOLATION." You would be required to complete an education program administered by the Honor System in order to have the "*" and notation "FAILURE DUE TO ACADEMIC HONOR CODE VIOLATION" removed from your transcript. The "F" however would be permanently on your transcript."

Honor Code

The Virginia Tech honor pledge for assignments is as follows: "I have neither given nor received unauthorized assistance on this assignment."

The pledge is to be written out on all graded assignments at the university and signed by the student.

The honor pledge represents both an expression of the student's support of the honor code and an unambiguous acknowledgment that the student has, on the assignment in question, abided by the obligation that the Honor Code entails. In the absence of a written honor pledge, the Honor Code still applies to an assignment.

Your written assignments may be reviewed through the University's plagiarism prevention and detection software called Turnitin- Feedback Studio, which is a resource designed to detect and prevent plagiarism. This software is a tool that works by cross-referencing submitted materials with journals, essays, newspaper articles, papers, books, the internet, and other literary works. Turnitin-Feedback Studio does not identify all forms of plagiarism. The software also does not replace my judgement regarding what constitutes plagiarism.

Students enrolled in this course are responsible for abiding by the Honor Code. A student who has doubts about how the Honor Code applies to any assignment is responsible for obtaining specific guidance from the course instructor before submitting the assignment for evaluation. Ignorance of the rules does not exclude any member of the University community from the requirements and expectations of the Honor Code.

For additional information about the Honor Code, please visit:
<https://www.honorsystem.vt.edu/>

All assignments submitted shall be considered "graded work" and all aspects of your coursework are covered by the Honor Code. All projects and homework assignments are to be completed individually unless otherwise specified.

Commission of any of the following acts shall constitute academic misconduct. This listing is not, however, exclusive of other acts that may reasonably be said to constitute academic misconduct. Clarification is provided for each definition with some examples of prohibited behaviors in the Undergraduate Honor Code Manual located at <https://www.honorsystem.vt.edu/>
