

Flourish Collective Elevator Pitch

The Flourish Collective is a racial justice giving community that builds allies and invests in leaders of color doing justice work in their own communities.

We equip our community through three key ways:

Learn - We engage with history, voices, and resources dedicated to justice and allyship to further our journey in undoing racism.

Give - We leverage community donations to collectively give grants to organizations led by people of color that advance equity and justice.

Live Out Justice - We commit to daily, intentional action where we live, work, and play.

This looks different for everyone: some members volunteer in their communities to help get out the vote, others garden at our Impact Partner's Reentry House, some have hard conversations with colleagues who don't yet see the need for DEI work, while others call their local congressperson about justice issues. We use our voices, skills, and resources to create equity while amplifying the life and culture of people of color.

Together, we're creating more flourishing by ensuring those closest to injustice have the resources and support they need to lead change.

50 word version

The Flourish Collective is a racial justice giving community that builds allies and invests in leaders of color. We learn together, collectively fund organizations advancing equity, and live out justice daily — ensuring those closest to injustice have the resources and support they need to lead change.
