Abstract: The abstract should be positioned at the beginning of the text, directly below the author information, and separated by a horizontal line. The title "Abstract" must be in 10-point Times New Roman, bold, with initial capitalization. The abstract should be written in 10-point font, single-spaced, and must not exceed 150 words. AVOID USING SPECIAL CHARACTERS, SYMBOLS, OR MATHEMATICAL EXPRESSIONS IN BOTH THE TITLE AND THE ABSTRACT.

Keywords: The heading "Keywords" should be written in 10-point Times New Roman, bold, with initial capitalization. The keywords must be in 10-point font, single-spaced, and separated by commas (e.g., Power converters, Switched capacitor circuits, Integrated circuits). A horizontal line should be placed below the keywords. Leave one blank line after this line before starting the introduction.

1. Introduction

All manuscripts must be written in English. These guidelines provide detailed instructions on font usage, spacing, and other formatting requirements for preparing your proceedings manuscripts.

2. Formatting your paper

All printed content, including text, illustrations, and charts, must remain within a print area measuring 17.2 cm in width and 24.62 cm in height. For A4 paper, each page should have a margin of 2.54 cm from both the top and bottom edges and 1.9 cm from the left and right edges. The page header should be 1.5 cm in height, while the footer should be 1.75 cm. Ensure that no text or images extend beyond the designated print area. All text must be formatted in two columns, with each column having a width of 22.2 times the character size and a spacing of 2.02 times the character size. Text alignment should be fully justified.

A formatting template with margin and placement guidelines is available in both Word and PDF formats as <format.docx> and <format.pdf>. This template includes lines and boxes that indicate the margins and print areas. By holding the template and your printed page against a light source, you can easily verify whether your content stays within the designated print area.

3. Main title

The main title on the first page should be placed below the top figure, centered, and formatted in 14-point bold Times New Roman. Capitalize the first letter of all nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs, while keeping articles, coordinating conjunctions, and prepositions in lowercase—unless the title begins with one of these words. Ensure there is a 10.5-point space before and a 14-point space after the main title.

4. Author name(s) and affiliation(s)

Author names should be centered below the title and formatted in 11-point bold Times New Roman. Affiliations must be centered beneath the author names, using 11-point Times New Roman in regular (non-bold) style. If there are multiple authors, their names can be arranged in two or three columns, with affiliations italicized and centered below each name. Whenever possible, include addresses and postal codes. The corresponding author's email address should be centered and written in 10.5-point Times New Roman, as demonstrated here.

* In figures and tables, the font size is 10pt.

5. Type-style and fonts

Whenever Times font is specified, either Times Roman or Times New Roman may be used. If neither is available in your word processor, choose the font that most closely resembles Times. Whenever possible, avoid using bit-mapped fonts. True-Type 1 fonts are preferred.

6. Main text

Write the main text in 11-point Times New Roman with single spacing. Avoid double spacing.

Each paragraph should have an indentation of 1.5 times the character size. Ensure the text is fully justified, aligning both the left and right margins. Do not insert extra blank lines between paragraphs.

7. First-order headings

For instance, the heading "1. Introduction" should be written in 12-point bold Times New Roman, with initial capitalization and left alignment. A period (".") should follow the heading number, rather than a colon.

7.1

Similar to this heading, they should be in 11-point bold Times New Roman, with initial capitalization and left alignment.

17.1.1.

Third-level headings, like the one in this paragraph, are not recommended. However, if necessary, they should be in 11-point bold Times New Roman, with initial capitalization and left alignment.

8. Footnotes

Minimize the use of footnotes or avoid them entirely. If necessary, place them at the bottom of the column on the same page where they are cited. Format footnotes in 9-point Times New Roman, single-spaced. To enhance readability, consider integrating additional observations directly into the text, optionally within parentheses, as demonstrated in this sentence.

9. Figures and tables

Figures (cited as Fig. 1, Fig. 2, etc.) and Tables (cited as Table 1, Table 2, etc.) should be integrated within the text, ensuring sufficient spacing to prevent captions from being mistaken for the main content.

Callouts, figure captions, and table titles should be in 10-point regular (non-bold) Times New Roman. Only the first word of each caption or title should be capitalized. Figures and tables should be numbered separately. Figure captions should be centered below the figures, while table titles should be centered above the tables. For example: "Figure 1. Structure of RBFNN." and "Table 1. Definition of terms." Avoid placing borders around the figures.

10. Equations

Equations (cited as Eq. (1), Eq. (2), etc.) should be indented by 5 mm. Leave a blank line both above and below each equation before continuing with the text. Equations must be numbered sequentially, with the numbers enclosed in parentheses and aligned to the right margin, such as (1), (2), etc. Avoid using images or figures in place of actual equations.

Conflicts of Interest (Mandatory)

Disclose any conflicts of interest or explicitly state, "The authors declare no conflict of interest." Authors must acknowledge any personal affiliations or interests that could be seen as unduly affecting the presentation or interpretation of the research findings.

Author Contributions (Mandatory)

For research articles with multiple authors, a brief paragraph detailing each author's specific contributions must be included. Use statements such as: "Conceptualization, XXX and YYY; methodology, XXX; software, XXX; validation, XXX, YYY, and ZZZ; formal analysis, XXX; investigation, XXX; resources, XXX; data curation, XXX; writing—original draft preparation, XXX; writing—review and editing, XXX; visualization, XXX; supervision, XXX; project administration, XXX; funding acquisition, YYY," etc. Authorship should be restricted to individuals who have made significant contributions to the research.

Acknowledgments

The acknowledgments section should indicate the organization that provided support for the research. For example, "This study was funded by the National Natural Science Foundation under Grant No. 405."

References

All bibliographical references should be listed and numbered at the end of the paper in 11-point Times New Roman. (Refer to the example below.) When citing references within the text, use bracketed numbers, such as [1]. If citing multiple references, include them within the same brackets, e.g., [2,4-5]. Citations should follow the reference numbering order, such as [1], [2],
