

About BuiltConverse

According to S&P Global Market Intelligence report published in June, 2020, 67% of about 80% of organizations who have implemented or expanded universal work-from-home policies as a result of COVID-19, plan to retain those going forward.

The story is not different in Nigeria and definitely (to a large degree) shifts the conversations around safety, security and convenience from corporate offices to homes. When you factor Africa's communal culture and social integration, resource utilization and increased human activities, the risks become more elevated for gated communities/Estates dwellers.

In this first edition of #BuiltConverse, top professionals from Nigeria's foremost organizations in the space will discuss and dissect this.
