This is possibly the most famous blanket in the world. It is Her Majesty'sQueen's favorite blanket for her state limousine. It was presented to her by the wife of the then president France a number of years ago. And it's one that's stayed in the state limousines ever since for her to use.