

Ph.D. in Christian Law,
Minor in Law and Ethics
HBI University

Course Duration: 3 years

Credit Hours: 105

Program Description

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Christian Law at HBIU University is designed to equip scholars, legal professionals, and religious leaders with a deep understanding of legal principles from a Christian perspective. This program explores the intersection of theology, canon law, and contemporary legal frameworks, providing students with the knowledge to address moral, ethical, and legal issues through a faith-based lens. By integrating theoretical foundations with practical applications, graduates will be prepared to engage in academia, ministry, legal advocacy, and policy development within faith-based and legal institutions.

The Minor in Law and Ethics specialization offers students a focused exploration of legal and ethical principles within the framework of Christian jurisprudence. Topics covered include moral philosophy, human rights, religious freedoms, and the ethical responsibilities of legal practitioners. This specialization is particularly beneficial for those interested in understanding how Christian ethics influence lawmaking, governance, and social justice issues. By examining historical and contemporary debates on law and morality, students will develop the critical thinking skills needed to navigate complex ethical dilemmas in legal and religious contexts.
