

Queen Elissandra

Public Profile (Player Card)

[1] Name: Queen Elissandra Morgaine Celestia Sakurai IV (public name Queen Elissandra/HRH Elissandra)

[2] Physique: An Asian woman standing at 5'4", with a petite figure and cascading black hair filled with accessories.

[3] Attire: An exceptionally shiny tiara always adorns her head. Her Royal Highness also wears a splendid baby-blue dress decorated with silver lace, and a neon-pink emblem of a heart embroidered on her chest.

[4] Homeworld: Queen Elissandra is the ruler of Azuria, a kingdom on planet Mahoukai

[5] More Info.: Cor vincit omnia - the heart conquers all.

[6] Character Image(s):

Private Profile (Character & Universe)

[7] Rough Background: Queen Elissandra Morgaine Celestia Sakurai IV hails from a long and prestigious line of royalty in the kingdom of Azuria. In a world where magic is abundant, and powerful trademarked abilities are bred in the elite bloodlines, harmony has been achieved through a centuries-old pact forged by the five royal maji families. Though Elissandra is just 27 years old, she has been ruling her kingdom since the tender age of 14, providing a peaceful rule for her beloved subjects.

[8] Important Moments:

- Year 2252, A.H. - Queen Elissandra is born to King Ryuji and Queen Elissandra III. Two years later, they would give birth to twin princes, Iroh and Kiryu.
- Year 2262, A.H. - Beginning on her 10th birthday, as is customary in Azuria, Elissandra undergoes the Sakurai rites: a lengthy ritual that prepares family members to receive the bloodline maji power, aoi hana fuera (blue petal flare).
- Year 2266, A.H. - Elissandra loses both of her parents in a severe aetheric disaster. This event nearly destroyed the entire kingdom of Azuria, and Elissandra and her brothers were extremely fortunate to have survived. She succeeds her parents in ruling the kingdom and spends the next several years rebuilding it.

- Year 2279, A.H. - Present day. Elissandra finds herself suddenly transported to a deserted island...

[9] Character Relationships:

- King Ryuji and Queen Elissandra III: mother and father
- Prince Iroh and Prince Kiryu: younger twin brothers and next in line for the throne of Azuria (for anyone wondering, Kiryu is the older twin).
- Hana-san: Elissandra's personal attendant and confidant. She is approximately 10 years older than Elissandra.
- Aiko Jingu: Priestess of the Sakurai family, and magical tutor to Elissandra.

[10] Motives:

- Elissandra just wants to return to her beloved kingdom and make sure the pact of peace that has been maintained among the royal maji families has not fallen into discord.

[11] Homeworld: Since the beginning of time, Mahoukai has been infused with magical energies, emanating from a massive crystal at the core of the planet, called the hikuristal. The exact elements that make up the crystal are still largely unknown, but the energies that it produces are responsible for the structure and ecosystems of the world. Despite these extraordinary qualities, Mahoukai is not the only world of its kind. In fact, all 7 planets that make up the solar system, mahouchu, contain a similar crystal in their cores, though the effects of said crystals can vary greatly. Humans and animals have long been able to harness magical energies on Mahoukai, but for centuries, only five bloodlines have been able to create especially potent, trademarked abilities. As a result, the five kingdoms of Mahoukai are quite diverse, and the subjects of each kingdom revere their ruling families with a deity-like respect. War and conflict seemed never-ending for centuries as each of the royal families vied for worldwide conquest, until the year 2050, when the Treaty of Peace (Heiwa Jouyaku) was forged.

Private Profile (Backstory)

[12] Backstory: On May 15th, 2252, Elissandra Morgaine Celestia Sakurai IV was born to reigning King Ryuji and Queen Elissandra III of Azuria. Two years later, the King and Queen gave birth to twin sons, princes Iroh and Kiryu. The children grew up in a very loving home, with parents who doted upon their every whim as heirs to the Sakurai family throne, which has ruled over Azuria for over 1,000 years.

The Sakurai family is one of the original five royal bloodlines on Mahoukai. As such, the custom magical power that was first created by ancient ancestors is called aoi hana fuera (blue petal flare). Blue petal flare harnesses entropy in the form of a white-hot flame that is said to be able to touch almost any known substance. In Elissandra's case, she channels her ability into a conjured sword named Cor Vitae Creatum.

Azuria, by modern Earth standards, is a futuristic kingdom, filled with sleek high-rise architecture, energy-efficient vehicles, and immaculately maintained landscapes surrounding it. The local magics have primarily been used for altering the environment to create the most efficient lifestyle possible for the residents. Agriculture and industry are largely self-sustaining thanks to the commonplace magical systems in place, leaving much more time for Azurians to pursue academic and artistic pursuits.

The peace that has been maintained by the five maji kingdoms for over 200 years has been thanks to the Treaty of Peace (Heiwa Jouyaku). For centuries, war perpetually ravaged the world once the royal families created their own powerful magic abilities, in the hopes of worldwide conquest. Now that Queen Elissandra has been whisked away to a deserted island, she worries about the Treaty being violated in her absence, as well as returning to her beloved subjects alive.