

The Cambi Signs Sportsbook Partnership With Prairie Band Casino & Resort

Kambi Group plc, a globally trusted sports betting partner, has entered into a sports betting partnership with Prairie Band Casino & Resort, owned by Prairie Band Potta and Tommy Nation, opening the first tribal sportsbook in Kansas.

Prairie Band Casino & Resort, located near Topeka, Kansas, received on-site sportsbook approval earlier this year from tribal casinos.

Through a multi-year partnership, Kambi and Prairie Band Casino & Resort will launch the state's first tribal sportsbook, adding a sportsbook to a 35,000-square-foot casino with 10 kiosks and four bar-top terminals featuring best-in-class sports betting products, including Kambi's award-winning Bet Builder merchandise.

Kambi CEO and co-founder Kristian Naylén said, "We are very proud to partner with Prairie Band Potta and Tommy Nations Casino & Resort as we continue to support our tribes' sports betting efforts. 온라인카지노

"Our successful, long-standing reputation and award-winning sports betting skills at Kansas will bring a unique experience to our current clients while attracting a whole new demographic."

Chris Garrow, director of gaming at Prairie Band Casino & Resort, said, "When sports betting became legal in Kansas last year, we received a lot of positive comments and questions from our guests. We're mainly asking when we start offering, and we're constantly getting those questions. Now we will finally be able to answer that question with certainty.

"We're excited to launch a retail sportsbook as another amenities for our guests. This will be the first true local sportsbook in Kansas."
