By purchasing a commission from me, you agree to these terms of service.

Commission TOS is as follows:

1. At least half of commission payment will be made upfront. The other half must be sent before I send you the final product. *I currently accept payment via: PayPal & Cashapp.
2. There is no guaranteed time of completion. Updates will be sent as frequently as possible regardless of how long the commission will take to be completed, but there's no certainty on how fast I will be able to work. And although I do prioritize commissions, understand that I am also a full-time student and employed. Depending on where you are in my commission queue, there will be differing wait times. Please check my Trello for a better idea of where you stand in my queue!
3. Specific deadlines must be discussed with me ASAP (think birthdays, holidays, etc). If a piece needs to be completed within a few weeks (depending on complexity) then there will be a priority fee.
4. Art is not my main income, so please understand that this affects my timeliness! As stated above, I have ongoing classes and work, but do draw as often as I'm able. Updates will be given in the case that I am overly swamped.
5. I do personal work at my leisure. Trust that I am still very aware of the commissions I do have and that I am not ignoring your commission. While I value what I gain from comm work, I do need my personal art time to stay sane :,) This will often be between comms (between payments) if I can manage.
6. I do not do business with those who produce or consume AI-generated content. AI is not an acceptable source of reference for my work. References can instead be made through moodboards, inspiration photos, detailed descriptions, etc. Pinterest is a wonderful tool for finding inspiration :) And I am more than willing to work with clients to come up with ideas as well!
7. Feel free to use my work as a pfp, banner, etc, so long as credit to me is given and visible.

8. Any changes may be requested in the initial sketching process. You may request very reasonable changes to the outline once my coloring/rendering process has started. However, unreasonable design changes requested by the end of my process will be additional costs.

9. A full refund may only be given if the client's mind has changed before I start on the commission. Generally, once I have moved past the initial sketching stage, refunds cannot be given. And absolutely no refunds can be given once the art is complete.

10. Once you receive the final version of my work, it is yours, but do not trace or edit my work unless given permission. And if you choose to post it anywhere, I ask that you give me credit.

11. I have the right to upcharge depending on design complexity or larger prompt ideas. My listed prices are my base and can fluctuate on a case-by-case basis.
