INFORMATION

BACKSTORY:

Echo was created within Glyphic Canyons' underground labs built by ex-G.U.N. researchers using stolen assets to recreate the ultimate lifeform, as they believed that something like Shadow seemed too unreliable and were frustrated with their superiors believing otherwise. Echo initially had no name, simply being a number amongst the many other lab rats - both created and kidnapped - only named after notably repeating the last word the scientists said towards them, much like an echo. Slowly, the subjects dwindled throughout the years, succumbing to the various tests, and experiments in an attempt to catch lightning in a bottle twice. Echo was one of the few who miraculously survived, eventually becoming the only one left. As the researchers were nearing success, they were caught by G.U.N. The scientists are promptly arrested, later assassinated, and while the soldiers were confiscating Echo, the lab rat escapes with no knowledge of doing so, and finds themselves in a world they have no knowledge of, with powers destructive enough to equate them to a ticking time bomb.

PERSONALITY:

Despite their purpose to be a living weapon, Echo, at the end of the day, is still a child; naive and curious of their surroundings and possesses the eagerness to learn and explore though can be easily distracted whether it'd be through outside sources or even their own troubled thoughts, struggling to process them. Due to growing up in an isolating, sterile environment, they lack proper social skills and can be rather blunt, speaking whatever is on their mind and have trouble expressing or even understanding their emotions. Despite their stunted emotional growth causing their uncertainty and even anxiety, Echo shows being stubborn, yet kind, determined, and even empathetic.

ABILITIES:

CHAOS CONTROL

➔ Though “control” is a bit of a stretch due to the instability of the wielder. Echo has the ability to use chaos energy, but not intentionally. Especially during moments where emotions are heightened... or sneezing.

HEIGHTENED HEARING/SENSE OF SMELL

➔ One of the few only “natural” abilities that Echo has, being a rat. Due to the experiments, their sense of smell specifically has been altered to be able to sense chaos energy or anything connected to the Black Arms, stating that those “smell familiar”.

DOOM HAND

➔ A mutation of Black Arms and Chaos power. These go up Echos' elbows, are capable of stretching far distances and have immense strength.

DOOM TAIL

→ A dagger-like tail made up of Black Arms and Chaos power that can form on Echos's tail. The end is sharp like a blade and can cut flesh and certain types of metal seamlessly.

DOOM MORPH(?)

→ Three tendrils emerge from the “scarring” on Echo's back, these can serve as extra limbs and grow back if severed. The ends can also form into drills, capable of piercing through stone.

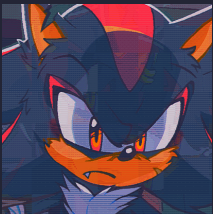

DOOM EYE

→ [REDACTED]

VERSES:

Possession AU | [Tag]

➡ After an incident involving Echo's death, they were unexpectedly visited and resurrected by Mephiles the Dark by making an agreement to aid in his plans disguised as a way to get back at humanity for causing both of them harm. They now assist him in gathering the Chaos Emeralds to eradicate all of those who have mistreated them both. Though, Echo's slowly doubting if this is the right thing to do...

Movie Verse | [TAG]

➡ A living weapon created by G.U.N. using Shadows DNA and a lab rat as a base in order to recreate the ultimate lifeform. Unfortunately, the subject woke up far too early, resulting in a childish naive rat who wants to learn about the world.
