List of resources that contributed significantly in my journey of starting a company. Some of these resources might be specific to the Berkeley community, but it will provide an idea about similar programs someone can explore in their own community.

- The Bakar Innovation Fellows program (https://bakarfellows.berkeley.edu/innovation-fellows/)
- American Women in Science (https://awis.org/)
- Women Entrepreneurs of Berkeley, through Berkeley Chamber of Commerce (https://www.berkeleychamber.com/web.html)
- Food, Ag + Health Entrepreneurship Academy course, UC Davis (this program is discontinued but they have a similar program running twice a year called UC DAVIS Entrepreneurship Academy course (https://na.eventscloud.com/website/55310/home/).
- Bay Area I-Corps Program at UC Berkeley (https://www.bayicorps.com/)
- National NSF I-Corps Program (https://new.nsf.gov/funding/initiatives/i-corps)
- SkyDeck Incubator at Berkeley, Pad-13 program (https://skydeck.berkeley.edu/program/)
- HS Chau Women in Enterprising Science Program (https://innovativegenomics.org/enterprising-science-program/)
- FORM+FUND workshop offered at UC Berkeley (https://www.law.berkeley.edu/experiential/startupberkeleylaw/entrepreneurs/form-fund/)
- MoFo scaleup series (https://www.mofo.com/resources/events/240209-scaleup-speaker-series)
- New Business Community Law Clinic (https://www.law.berkeley.edu/experiential/clinics/new-business-community-law-clinic/)
- Berkeley Innovative Solutions (BIS) Consulting Group (https://berc.berkeley.edu/programs/berc-innovative-solutions)
- Life Sciences Entrepreneurship Resources at Berkeley (https://lsec.berkeley.edu/startup-resources)
- Networking events organised at UC Berkeley for entrepreneurship community (https://iande.berkeley.edu/events)
- The Activate Fellowship (https://www.activate.org/) (provide non-dilutive funding, excellent community, learning programs and large resource network)
- Attended industry related conferences and expo
- Personal efforts in connecting with academia and industry stakeholders through google search and linkedin

*These resources are in addition to the government and industry funding received to UC Berkeley for technology development.